STANDING TIMBER FOR SALE

CONTRACT: PG-02-95
The Maryland State Forest & Park Service is offering for sale the following timber on 24 acres of Compartment 26 of Potomac State Forest. Said Timber is estimated to cut 132,953 BD.FT. of hardwood sawtimber according to the International 1/4" Saw Kerf Rule and 66 standard cords of pulpwood, more or less. Timber is located off the Wallman Road in the eastern portion of Compartment 26. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9 a.m. on Thursday, December 15, 1994. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet in the parking lot of the White Church on White Church Rd. at the above date and time.

2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Potomac/Garrett State Forest Hdgs., 1431 Potomac Camp Rd., Oakland, MD 21550 or by calling 301-334-2038.

3. A Security Bond in the amount of ten percent of bid amount must be posted upon submission of the bid to the Maryland State Forest & Park Service.

4. The operator must be a registered forest product operator for 1994 to be awarded successful bidding.

5. A Performance Bond in the amount of ten percent of bid amount must be posted upon acceptance of the contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.

6. Bids will be received until 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, December 29, 1994.

7. Bidder may pay 50% of bid price on acceptance of contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from bid acceptance. If Buyer selects this option the delayed payment must be covered by payment surety bond in form acceptable to the State.

8. All timber volumes noted in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. No adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOL NO. 117 OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1994 PER COPY 35¢

WHEN MOTHER NATURE DOES NOT COOPERATE with ski enthusiasts by dumping her natural snow on the slopes, the operators of Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry simply make their own, which is precisely what they have been doing for many days and nights recently in order to accommodate skiers and snowboarders anxious to strap on their boards for another season. The Wisp has one of the largest snow-making capacities in the east. This photo was taken Tuesday afternoon by Craig Phillips looking up Boulder Run under chairlift #1. While temperatures are predicted to remain above freezing for the next few days, light snow is expected to arrive by Sunday. Garrett County schools were opened one hour late this morning because of freezing rain conditions that caused many side roadways to be extremely slick.

Braskey, New Commissioners Wilt And Glotfelty Take Office

Braskey Calls Board "A Good Team"

The new Garrett County Board of Commissioners, made up of newly elected District I Commissioner Wayne Wilt and District III Commissioner Roger Glotfelty along with fourth term incumbent District II Commissioner John Braskey, was sworn in this week at the Garrett County Courthouse.

After taking the oath of office, the new commissioners elected Braskey to be chairman of the board for 1995 and then commented on what each thought were the biggest challenges facing the county.

Braskey listed five priorities for Garrett. Improvements to the Glendale Bridge over Deep Creek Lake and the continuation of capital projects topped his list.

Braskey also stated the intention of the board of commissioners to hire a new administrator for the county roads department. County Administrator Robert Fousek has filled the role of roads administrator, on an interim basis, for the past three years.

The incumbent commissioner also suggested that the county should consider a bonding issue for upcoming capital projects, something that the last board did not do.

In conclusion, Braskey stressed the importance of economic development in the county and added that he believes the new board will be "a good team."

Wilt stated, "Jobs are the number-one priority for Garrett County." He added that the development of a plan for maintenance of county roads is also on his agenda.

Glotfelty remarked that the issue of the consolidation of Red House and Loch Lynn elementary schools "still needs some consideration." However, Glotfelty and Wilt each stated that they have no opinion on the site proposed for the new consolidated southern area elementary school.

The condition of the Glendale Bridge is also a concern for the county, Glotfelty remarked.

Glotfelty took the occasion of his first day in office

Two Charged With Forgery, Theft By Oakland City Police

Report Shows Schools Reform Paying Off; Significant Gains Are Noted

Two persons were arrested by Oakland City Police on Monday, and charged with seven counts each of forgery, felony theft and uttering, and one count each of theft scheming, according to Chief John K. Sines.

Lester Frederick Moon, 63, and Dorothy Elizabeth Moon, 61, both of Water Street, were arrested for the offenses by Officer Christopher Feller, who transported the pair to the Garrett County Jail. They were later released on their own recognizance.

The arrests were made as the result of a joint investigation by Officer Feller and Special Agent Russell Coulter from the Investigative General's Office.

An investigation is currently underway into the apparent theft of a painting from the Oakland branch of the Ruth Enlow Library on Dec. 9.

making progress toward meeting rigorous education standards, according to the state's annual school report card released this week by State Superintendent of Schools Nancy S. Grasmick.

The fifth annual report on schools presents evidence that the state's comprehensive reform efforts, begun five years ago, are paying off. The report and accompanying materials released by the state superintendent show significant gains by students and schools in almost all subject areas and grade levels. Performance test results improved an average of 11%.

"These across-the-board gains are the best possible news we could deliver to the people of Maryland," Dr. Grasmick said. "Schools are moving in the right direction and at a healthy rate. I applaud the hard work teachers and principals are doing every day to reach these new levels."

"If schools continue this kind of growth, by the year 2000 Maryland students will be among the nation's best and most competitive," Dr. Grasmick said.

Education Board Votes To Purchase Land Site For Consolidated School

Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer dismissed a lawsuit against the county board of commissioners and County Administrator Robert Fousek.

The suit, the most recent of three filed by Sang Run resident John Hinebaugh against the county government officials last year, claimed that Fousek and Commissioners Brenda Butschek, Elwood Groves, John Braskey had knowingly withheld public documents from him.

Hinebaugh filed his first suit against the county in February of 1994 to obtain documents regarding the county's purchase in 1993 of approximately $1.5 million worth of road equipment. This case was settled out of court last summer after Hinebaugh received a file of purchase documents relating to the transaction and payment of his legal fees.

Hinebaugh's attorney Bob Watson has stated that he was assured at that time by the county's attorney Howard Shulman that the file included all documents requested by his client.

The contents of these documents prompted Hinebaugh to file a second suit against the county claiming that the local officials did not follow the county bid laws in the equipment purchase.

In response to this second suit, the county filed a motion to dismiss which, according to Watson, contained approximately 28 pages of pertinent documents, including the lease-purchase agreement, not revealed to Hinebaugh in the initial suit.

McHenry Man Sentenced For Theft Charge

A McHenry man was sentenced to four years in the Department of Corrections during proceedings in Garrett County Circuit Court last week.

Everett L. Carr, 46, was sentenced by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer for a theft charge. The sentence was suspended, and Carr was placed on three years supervised probation.

He was also ordered to pay restitution in a total amount of $16,608.70, and to return to counseling and continue until discharged.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Carr after he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor theft charge on November 8. The state then amended the charge to "theft by scheme of more than $300."

The case was transferred from Garrett County District Court when Carr requested a jury trial. Eight other counts of misdemeanor theft and six counts of felony theft were not pro-lands, or replace/re-create any that a building may disturb. This practice is called mitigation.

"If the area to be mitigated is less than one acre, which this portion is, then it should qualify for a nationwide permit. This area is not a particularly difficult site to mitigate because it is lying next to already established wetlands," France said. He also told the board and others present that he saw no reason why the state would not approve the site for construction.

"There is always something to come out and bite you at every site, but this mitigation is not all bad," he said, explaining that builders are often required to construct a pond to create wetlands to replace any on which they may be building. "The good part is we don't have to build a pond because of the land's close proximity to other wetlands. This kind of mitigation has the highest success rate."

"While the state average for one-acre mitigation is $50,000, this area - because it's adjacent to wetlands - I project the cost will be anywhere from $3,000 to $12,000," France said.

"I have no reservations about recommending this site for school construction," stated France. "The soil composition where most of the school will lie is the same as the bulk of Mountain Lake Park."

France said the school will be built upon soil that is mostly clay or rock after the surface soil, which ranges in depth up to two feet,

Delegation Of Chinese Educators Visits Garrett Community College

Technology of interactive video took on an international flavor recently at Garrett Community College when a team of Chinese educators visited the college to learn about American community colleges. The trip was initiated by Dr. David McBrean of West Virginia University and coordinated by the Regional Education Service Agency, Frank Peto, director.

Following a welcome by GCC president Dr. Steve Herman, the visitors heard Peto explain the function of the RESA consortium that serves the three western Maryland community colleges. The program continued with live pick-up from Hagerstown Junior College where Dr. Mike Parsons explained the purposes of community colleges, Allegany Community College where Jane Paulsen discussed the many ways the two-year colleges serve the lifelong learning needs of their communities, and Garrett Community College where Dr. Lilian Mitchell explained programs developed by community colleges to ensure all citizens access to a higher education.

The visitors were given a tour of the campus, during

Conviction Ordered
For Linthicum Man

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for a Linthicum man found guilty of two counts of battery, and one count of resisting arrest, by Allegany County District Court Judge Paul Stakem who presided over Garrett County District Court proceedings last week.

Charles P. Danko, 40, will be sentenced following the completion of the investigation. One additional resisting arrest charge, and three counts of disorderly conduct were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

Danko had been charged with those offenses by Maryland State Police after they responded to a report at Checkers Restaurant, McHenry, of an injured-intoxicated person on the premises. According to court records, when the troopers arrived, they observed Danko at a pay phone. They noted he had a deep laceration on his left thumb, and when they attempted to get identification from him, he was uncooperative.

The report indicated the defendant's eyes were red and glazed, his face was flushed, his speech was slurred, and the troopers detected a strong odor of alcohol while they talked to him. He refused to answer simple questions, and according to the report, became belligerent and combative as the troopers tried to calm him down, striking and pushing one officer.

The troopers placed Danko under arrest because he refused to calm down. He reportedly struggled with the officers even after he was transported to the local state police barracks. Officers there were unable to process him, and they transported him to the Garrett County Detention Center.

In other district court news, Thomas D. Nelms, 57, Cumberland, was found not guilty of six counts of trespassing, after charges were filed against him by Frank R. Lancelotta, McHenry.

Lancelotta charged that on July 3, 4 and 5, Nelms and his guests parked their vehicles on his property after they had been notified not to. He stated a "no trespassing" sign was posted on his property, and he told the defendant, in writing, not to park on his land.

Christina L. Morrison, 19, was not prosecuted on one count of battery because the complainant, Michelle Kline, refused to testify.

In a related court hearing, Kline, 18, also of Cumberland, was not prosecuted on one count of battery, one count of assault, and one count of disorderly conduct because the complainant, Morrison, refused to testify.

The two filed charges against each other after an

DWI CASES

Two DWI cases were heard in last week's district court proceedings.

Tommy Ray DeBerry, 52, Md., was found not guilty of DWI in Judge Stakem's court. His arrest by Natural Resources Police was on May 28.

Charles Robert Morgan, 34, Ind., was not prosecuted on a charge of DWI, but was granted probation before judgment on one count of negligent driving. He was fined a total of $105, and placed on six months of unsupervised probation for the offense. An additional charge of consuming an alcoholic beverage while driving was also not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

Driver Charged With DWI After
One-Car Mishap

An Oakland woman was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) following a one-vehicle accident late Saturday evening on the Mason School Road, just south of the Pleasant Valley Road.

According to a report filed with Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, Billie Jo Everidge, 25, was traveling south on the Mason School Road at 11:50 p.m. when she lost control of the vehicle she was operating and skidded across the road. The vehicle struck a telephone box, went over an embankment and overturned.

Everidge was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, where she was treated. The investigating officer, Tc. G.A. Seaman, contacted her at the hospital and charged her with DWI and failure to drive right of center.

ASSAULT

A juvenile at Salem Trust Youth Home reportedly assaulted a house parent Tuesday afternoon.

State police said Gregory A. Werner, Cresaptown, was bitten and kicked as he attempted to restrain the youth. The incident occurred at 2:30 p.m.

State Police
Join Holiday
Safety Campaign

According to Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel Larry W. Tolliver, the state police will join the International Association of Chiefs of Police and 49 other state and participating Canadian police and highway patrol agencies in a pre-holiday safety campaign that encourages motorists to be safe and sober drivers.

The effort, dubbed the "National Holiday Season Lifesaver Weekend 1994," begins Friday, Dec. 16 at 6 p.m. and runs through Sunday, Dec. 18, at midnight. This will be a maximum enforcement period for state police, meaning that all available troopers will be on the road this weekend.

"We are joining the unified, nationwide effort because it focuses on driving behavior that kills across the nation -- they are not solely local problems," Colonel Tolliver said.

The weekend before Christmas is traditionally a busy travel weekend for shoppers, party-goers and travelers.

New Technology Helping Garrett Enter Marketplace Of Information

by Benjamin Robb

Although Garrett County may not be seen by the rest of Maryland as a hotbed of modernity, a group of county educators are helping to bring cutting edge technologies into the community which they believe will give the Free State's western-most county a head start into the information age.

According to Dr. Steve Herman, president of Garrett Community College, access to information is essential for the county to be able to compete in the educational and commercial marketplace of tomorrow.

"As we move further into the information age," Herman stated, "we are realizing that information is power and money; but historically, rural communities have had to pay a much higher cost for information." The reason for this, Herman explained, is that information is usually housed in urban areas, requiring rural seekers to travel to or import the needed knowledge.

Through new computer and interactive video systems, Herman and his colleagues hope to offer county students and businesses affordable access to this information.

Dr. Nancy Priselac, GCC coordinator of mathematics, is using distance learning, computers, and an "activity-based curriculum" to help Garrett County public school students learn science and math more quickly and with more understanding.

Priselac got the wheels of technology rolling in the county in July of 1993 when she was notified that GCC had been awarded a United States Department of Education grant of $100,000 per year for three years to bring modern educational systems, based on theories of LEARNING BY DOING - Members of Teacher Bruce Taliroff's ninth-grade science class at Southern High School were recently visited by two teachers from Michigan who led the students in a series of hands-on activities intended to broaden their understanding of geometry and science. Although this was the first time that the students had met these instructors in person, Taliroff's class has watched video's produced by the Michigan teachers all semester as part of the county's distance-learning program. Pictured above, left to right, students Bryanne Miller and Alison Rudy investigate the permeability of a bottle filled with ball bearings.

activity-based learning, to the college, Southern High School, and Northern High School.

Not long after receiving notice of the grant approval, GCC unveiled its new "technology-supported classroom," fitted with 20 powerful lap-top computers, three full-size desk-top computers, a big-screen video projection unit, an electronic chalkboard which can be used to reproduce the image of a three-dimensional object on a video screen, a combination television/video cassette recorder, three computer printers including one color printer, 15 graphing calculators, and all needed software.

Beginning in September of 1993, 15 teachers representing county elementary, middle, and high schools as well as the college were trained in the use of the equipment; and in the following month, GCC students began using the futuristic classroom.

The program, which attempts to integrate science and math through teacher-student dialogue and classroom activities, utilizes the teaching methods of Ted Gardella and Stu Shultz of the General Motors Institute in Flint, Mich. These two instructors, who Priselac describes as "the cutting edge people" in their field, present lessons at the instute's home office in Michigan which are transmitted via satellite to GCC where they are video taped. These tapes are then taken to the classrooms of participating county teachers where they are viewed by students.

Schools in Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey, and South Carolina are also using these lessons beamed by satellite from the GM Institute.

This week, Gardella and Shultz visited SHS science teacher Bruce Taliroff's ninth-grade students to present a class on math, geometry, and earth science in person. "Math goes across all core subjects," Priselac explained.

The Michigan duo combine knowledge of the topic, a running dialogue with the students, and hands-on activities to teach concepts that are often difficult for students to master.

During the class, students were separated into work groups where they assembled cubes and answered questions during Gardella's presentation on geometry. For Shultz's lesson on porosity and permeability, students conducted an experiment in which they poured water into containers filled with ball bearings and marbles.

The two GM instructors have also visited other participating classes at both high and middle schools, county student who, upon Dec. 10, Gardella and Shultz also taught a class in activity-based learning to 21 county teachers.

But, does activity based learning work? Priselac and her colleagues say yes.

To get a more concrete picture of the effectiveness of activity-based education, Priselac explained, county educators began collecting data this semester to determine if students taught in activity-based classes learn better than students in traditional settings. This study is currently in progress.

Good Report...Good Luck...

The "report card" issued this week by State Superintendent of Schools Nancy Grasmick revealing how well our public schools are progressing in meeting new quality standards was truly encouraging, as performance test results across the state showed an 11% improvement.

Specifically, Garrett County's school system continues to shine as one of the state's most outstanding in the state. Garrett was one of only five counties (total of 23 counties plus Baltimore City) that has met 12 of the 13 standards. None of the other counties fared as well as these five.

It continues to amaze us, and be a source of great pride, that our county, one of the state's "poorest," proves time and time again that lots of money is not the primary key to providing a good education. While we certainly could use some more dollars to address a number of needs, our record indicates that the wisdom, dedication, and commitment by the people in the various levels of our local system are what really make the difference in terms of quality.

Heretofore we have not commented on the results of the recent election which ousted two incumbent members of our elected Board of Education, but we now offer the following thoughts. We believe that the majority of our voters have made a major mistake, not only by removing Mrs. Sines-Murphy and Ms. McCartney, but also by replacing them with persons we fear may have what we consider undesirable, hidden agendas. In our opinion, the two members who were defeated did an excellent job, always keeping their primary focus on doing what is in the best interest of our children. We thank them for their service.

Certainly Mr. Riley and Mr. Carpenter are assuming their seats on the board next month believing that they, too, will be making decisions that are in the best interest of our children. Our fear is that their definition of what is best will be in total opposition of what we believe to be best. Nonetheless, we wish them good luck. We sincerely hope our suspicions are wrong and that the board will continue to function effectively with its new membership.

We will be watching carefully, however, and we encourage parents to attend the regular meetings of the board to provide what we consider valuable input to the members as they endeavor to do their jobs. Our children's futures depend heavily upon the actions of the elected board.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Will you please devote some space for a tribute to my good friend Richard Leary? So many are saddened by his untimely death. He was bedfast half of his short life, but always had a word of encouragement for others. I spent many happy hours at his bedside. He didn't need me. He said he had plenty of visitors. But he was there for me. I never had a better friend. I can walk, but he couldn't. His door and his heart were always open for me. He was so kind and caring.

I miss you so much, Richard. My sympathy to his family.

Rita Scharade

To the Editor:

I am writing to say how fortunate we are to have the Garrett Choral Society and Nancy Leary. The week before the local production of the Messiah, I had tickets to attend the performance of the Messiah by the men's and boys' choir of the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

Since I thought that I had heard the best I could hear, I almost did not attend the local production. How glad I am that I did attend. Our local singers and our guest soloists were superb, every bit as good as the National Cathedral's. The Choral Society under the direction of Nancy Leary gave us a Christmas gift to treasure, an inspiring and professional performance.

The willingness of this group of people to spend the time during this busy season to practice, practice, practice and share their talents with us deserves our appreciation and thanks. Thank you.

To the Editor:

As we are nearing the Christmas season which meant peace on earth and goodwill toward men, we can in no way forget the shocking story of America's street kids, written by Sister Mary Rose McGready.

It is almost unbelievable how unmerciful some of the young generation gets treated. They have no choice or a better chance unless some good Samaritan gives them a helping hand. Most of them are put out by their parents like dogs or cats.

Seemingly, divorce, liquor or drugs are likely at fault. The drug runners or pimps force these 10-to-20-year-old children to carry drugs through customs. Most them have worn out clothes are cold and hungry, and are without love or mercy.

We hear a lot about animal rights. Why not do more about human rights? The county has rescue squads and life flight, and doctors available to help those in need.

What does the Statue of Liberty mean to these poor children? What would George Washington, Abe Lincoln and Ben Franklin say about this free country?

End-Of-Year Reminders From Social Security

by Thomas W. Armbruster
Social Security Manager in Cumberland

Do you have a child age one or older who doesn't have a Social Security number? Have you changed your name this year (through marriage, divorce, or any other reason)? Are you receiving Social Security benefits and you've moved this year? Did you work this year while receiving Social Security benefits and earned more than the annual earnings limit?

If you answer yes to any of these questions, you should be talking to Social Security as soon as possible. If you are now receiving benefits, failure to report these changes may affect the amount of your benefit or whether you receive them on time. If you are not receiving benefits, failure to report them may affect the amount of your future benefits.

CHECK SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS ON TAX RETURNS

The law requires you to list a Social Security number on your tax return for all dependents over age one. Also, for the first time, the IRS will be delaying returns that have incorrect Social Security numbers until they are corrected. So you should be sure you have a correct Social Security number for yourself and any dependents before you file your tax return next year.

REPORT NAME CHANGE

If you changed your name this year (through marriage, divorce, or any other reason) and haven't made sure your new name is listed on your Social Security card and in Social Security's records, there may be problems posting your earnings to Social Security's files. (This could reduce your future Social Security benefits.) Also, the Internal Revenue Service may have problems processing your tax return.

To get a replacement card, you need an identifying document, such as a driver's license. To change the name on your card, you need documentation that shows both your old name and your new name. If you were born outside the United States, generally you also must show proof of U.S. citizenship or lawful alien status. Your replacement card will have the same number as your old card.

REPORT NEW ADDRESS

If you're receiving Social Security benefits and you've moved this year, make sure we have your new address. (Sometimes people who have their checks sent directly to the bank forget to tell us about a change in their mailing address.)

You must notify the post office and Social Security immediately if you change your mailing address. In fact, failure to report a change of address is the leading cause of checks not arriving on time. Your report should include your claim number, your old address, and the new address, including ZIP Code. Give the names of all family members who should receive benefits or information about the new address.

You should report a new address even if you have direct deposit because important letters from Social Security are sent to your mailing address even though your benefits go directly to a bank. Your benefits could be stopped temporarily if Social Security cannot locate you because you have not reported a change of address.

REPORT EXCESS EARNINGS

If you received Social Security benefits, worked in 1994, and earned above the annual limit, you need to report your earnings to Social Security by April 17, 1995. The 1994 limits were $8,040 for people under 65 and $11,160 for people 65-69. If you were age 70 for the entire year, the earnings limits do not apply to you.

* Across all test areas, the percent of student scores at the satisfactory level increased from 31.7% overall in 1993 to 35.4% in 1994.

* The annual dropout rate declines from 6.5% in 1990 to 4.6% in 1994, marking movement toward the 3% standard.

The performance tests in advanced skills were administered last May to elementary and middle school students. Test results indicate to the public how well the schools are doing in teaching students in core curriculum areas and give schools valuable information for their continuing improvement efforts.

If we ask ourselves whether schools can meet the standards, the data show the answer is a resounding "Yes," the state superintendent said. "The test scores show that Maryland's schools are working smarter and working better. Now, educators across the state must find out what our successful schools are doing and take action to emulate their programs."

As a measure of past improvement as well as potential, the state also reported changes in the number of schools that met or approached at least one standard. This year, 237 elementary schools (nearly a third of the 777 total number) met or approached at least one standard in grade 3, up from 196 last year. The number of elementary schools that met or approached at least one grade 5 standard increased by 35% to 312 in 1994. Of the state's 228 middle schools, close to half (110) met or approached at least one of the school performance standards (a 51% increase).

The 1994 report card is the first to include current-year performance assessment results and to allow year-to-year comparisons of the results.

The performance assessments are central to the state's school reform efforts, which aims at building on students' basic skills to enable them to achieve the knowledge and thinking skills many experts believe students will need to succeed in the workplace of the future.

"The school report card delivers the kind of performance data the public wants," Dr. Grasmick said. "It sets targets, reports on our progress, and holds everyone accountable for student achievement. Everyone concerned with education -- including policymakers, principals, teachers, parents, students, and business people -- can look at these accurate, dependable data to judge the steadily improving health of Maryland's education system."

In the Maryland Functional Tests at grade 9, schools met the excellent standard in reading and the satisfactory standard in mathematics and citizenship but fell short in writing. In grade 11 functional tests, schools met the excellent standard in reading and the satisfactory standard in writing and passing all tests. Schools missed the grade 11 mathematics and citizenship standards by six tenths of a percentage point.

Schools also made improvements in student attendance and dropout rates.

The elementary school attendance rate of 95 percent was above the state

The Global Economy and the Garden

President Clinton keeps telling us that our future is in the global economy. The idea is that we send things we produce to Timbuktu, and the folks in Timbuktu send their stuff to us. Thus makes sense, of course, if the folks out in Timbuktu make different things than we do. I like tea and coffee, as examples, things I cannot grow at home. So, I'm, glad to get tea and coffee from Asia or Africa or South America, wherever they grow it. And if they want to buy something from us with the money I send to them, that's great.

The problem is that President Clinton, and all the other folks that like free trade, don't mean buying what we don't have from the people that have it. The new free trade means setting up a factory somewhere else to make the things we used to make, like cars. We used to make them in this country, but even the so-called American-made cars have components that come from someplace else.

The new idea of trade is that we get cars cheaper, and workers in other countries make more money so that they can buy more stuff from us. It isn't difficult to see, however, that industry by industry we will make less and less, and need to buy more and more from other countries.

Once analyzed, this process means a steady shift of productive industry from our country to other countries. The only way the United States can compete in such a set-up is to become a third-world nation ourselves, and to draw off good jobs from countries richer than we are. At the rate we are going, it may not take long.

The other fallacy in all this global economy humbug is that some nations can only get richer if other nations get poorer. The only way for nobody to lose ground is for trade to be exactly equal among everybody. That, of course, will never happen. In fact, nobody wants it to happen. The unannounced agenda of every country is that it gets richer at someone else's expense.

So why do the politicians push it? Like the chicken-in-every-pot rhetoric of the 1920's, the real bottom line is that there will be lots of chickens in certain people's pots, and those folks stay on the politicians. The beneficiaries of GATT and NAFTA are what used to be called multinational corporations, are now called trans-national corporations. In plain language, they are companies so big that they owe allegiance to no country, nor to a set of principles except for the principle of making money at any price.

Every time I hear President Clinton or someone else tell us that the global economy is the way to go I get more interested in my garden economy. It is now the middle of December, and I am still harvesting fresh produce. Beets, turnips, kale, Brussels sprouts and carrots provide us with a wealth of vitamins and minerals.

Of course, economist would inform me that I can buy all these things more cheaply than I can raise them. The argument goes that I could get a job, make money, buy the groceries, and have money and time left over. The problem is that I would have to use the money and the time to join a health club since I wasn't getting enough exercise. It seems easier to have a garden, and get exercise raising vegetables.

Besides, that the grocery stores just do not sell Brussels sprouts as good as the ones from my garden, because my sprouts have been sweetened by frost and freezes. The same goes for some of my other winter crops. I know this for a fact. I ate in a restaurant the other day, and ordered sprouts. They were very good because they were soaked in butter, but they still weren't as sweet as mine just steamed.

Another thing I know about my garden produce. It has not had DDT on it, as much of the fresh produce does that we get in the grocery stores. You say, "But DDT is outlawed in this country." The use of it is outlawed, but companies still manufacture it here, and sell it to Central and South American countries where they use it on crops which in turn they sell to us. That is a fine example of free trade.

No, President Clinton has it all wrong. The hope for our nation is not in the global economy. If he really wanted to do something for Americans, he could set an example for everyone to follow. He could turn over some of the White House lawn, and plant himself a vegetable garden. Beside it he could build a chicken coop with a dozen or so laying hens. Every day he would give witness to the world that real wealth is in the garden.

satisfactory standard for the second year. The secondary school rate of 92 percent was an improvement over 1993 but was slightly below the standard.

In addition to state data, the State Department of Education report provides performance information on each of the 24 local school systems. Garrett County was among just five counties that met at least 12 of the standards. The others were Calvert, Carroll, Frederick, and Howard. Ten counties -- Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Cecil, Charles, Dorchester, Harford, Kent, Montgomery, Queen Anne's, and Washington -- met 10 or 11 of the standards.

The 24 local school systems will release performance reports on their schools within the next month.

The 1994 report is encouraging to all who are engaged in school improvement because it shows our schools and students are on the right track." Dr. Grasmick said. "At the same time, the report points to our need to stay the course and continue the rigorous steps we are taking to achieve our goal of having all schools achieve all standards."

Plans Finalized For St. Paul's Annual Service

Plans have been finalized for the 51st annual Candlelight Service of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, slated for this Sunday, Dec. 18, at 5 and 7:30 p.m.

The program will consist of music by the chancel choir and youth choir, and will include various solos and ensembles under the direction of Kevin Benear. Accompanist at the organ will be Sharon McLaughlin and narrator will be Earl Clark.

All are invited to attend the services, according to Rev. Doyle Payne, pastor.

Sheriff's Office Reports Arrests

Several arrests were noted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office in the last week.

John F. Nogel, 27, Lancaster, Pa., was arrested December 11 for making a false alarm call for an ambulance. He allegedly reported someone having a heart attack. When the ambulance arrived at the residence, there was no emergency.

Charles A. Overton, 41, Gorman, W.Va., was arrested December 8 on the strength of a bench warrant charging him with violation of probation.

Billy J.E. Thomas, 23, Mtn. Lake Park, was arrested December 11 for making a false alarm call for an ambulance. He allegedly reported someone having a heart attack. When the ambulance arrived at the residence, there was no emergency.

Michael J. DeWitt, Oakland, was arrested December 12 for failure to appear in court.

William E. Boyce, 29, Mtn. Lake Park, was arrested December 10 on the strength of a body attachment charging him with failure to obey a subpoena.

Scott E. Patton, 19, Oakland, was arrested December 11 on the strength of a bench warrant charging him with failure to obey a court order.

An arrest warrant was issued for Steven H. Shockley, 18, Oakland, for a theft charge.

A warrant was issued for Wilbur E. Miller, no address listed, for a charge of fourth degree burglary.

The grant that enabled GCC to construct its technology-supported classroom also funded the installation of an identically equipped classroom at Southern High School which was completed last month. A third such classroom will be created at NHS next year.

Another aspect of GCC's foray into the information age is the school's interactive studio which opened its doors in January. This system, the first of its kind in the state, permits the occupants of the studio to see and hear, and be seen and heard, by occupants of similar studios in Hagerstown and at Allegany Community College. (See photo, front page)

Don Stork, director of information systems for GCC, stated that the institution's move toward interactive video began around 1990, the same time that state officials began venturing into distance learning. GCC was the first school in Maryland to be fitted with the cameras, microphones, tables, video screens, and other related equipment which compose an interactive studio. "We are using the studio fairly extensively now," Stork commented. He added that Maryland will eventually be served by 270 studios across the state.

While the current interactive studio at GCC is designed to link up with similar studios in the state system, a new interactive studio planned for the college will allow users to conference with persons around the world.

As an example of the utility of this technology, Stork said that student nurses at GCC have been using the studio to electronically attend courses at ACC. Stork explained that in the past, Garrett nursing students would have had to drive to the Allegany campus, often braving snowy weather, in order to attend classes there. Now, these students can see and hear the ACC instructor and students live on a video monitor in the GCC studio. They can even ask and answer questions as if they were in the same room.

Prisclac related that math instructors from Maryland's three western counties recently used the system to hold a conference. Also, GCC's English 101 class will be held in the studio this spring.

Although the interactive studio, with its numerous video screens and other equipment, is impressive when seen for the first time, when the cameras roll the classes proceed normally. "This technology itself is transparent to the user," Stork explained. "It is a conveyance."

Stork believes that this technology, although very well suited to academic uses, can also serve other community enterprises. For example, Stork said that a person with a special medical complaint might use interactive video technology to obtain a diagnosis from a doctor many miles away. Also, business persons from across the country or around the world could use interactive video to meet for a conference without traveling to a common location.

In order to extend the use of GCC's new information systems to the rest of the county, a committee made up of community leaders was formed recently "to guide the creation of a community-wide network," Stork explained. This body, the Garrett Rural Information Cooperative, is currently working with the Garrett County Board of Education to provide information services via cable, to the county schools. Still very new, the cooperative is approaching its third meeting.

Stork's vision also includes the creation of a community educational television channel and the expansion of the college's existing computer bulletin board.

Herman believes that modern equipment like that composing GCC's new computer and video systems will help Garrett County compete with more urban areas. "New information technologies represent for rural areas like ours the great equalizer," he stated.

"We can significantly enrich the educational opportunities of students at every level," he explained. "With this technology, we can maintain our rural lifestyle but still access the information that we need."

Food For Thought

Want to hang home-baked cookies from the tree? It's easier if you make a hole in the dough with a straw before baking. For tiny cookies, you may need a cocktail straw.

Honey will keep about a year unopened, half that time if the jar has been tapped. After that it may dry out and crystallize. (Heating briefly in the microwave can liquefy it again.)

Top pancakes with sliced fresh fruit instead of syrup. It's not so sweet, but just as tasty.

If you love fried ice cream at a Mexican restaurant, here's an easy way to make it at home. Crush 1/4 cups nutty multigrain cereal and toss with 1 tsp. melted butter, 4 tsp. honey and a dash of cinnamon. Roll ice-cream balls in the mixture and refreeze until serving time.

Yes, you can make plain bottled spaghetti sauce more exciting without taking a lot of time. As the sauce warms, stir in 1/2 cup heavy cream, up to 1 tsp. liquid hot pepper seasoning and 1 Tbs. vodka.

Holidays Can Hold Hazards For One's Pets

Festivities evolving around this holiday season often involve decorating the Christmas tree and feasting and wrapping packages in eye-catching ribbons and bows. But sometimes this holiday fun may prove fatal for dogs and cats.

Dr. Jane E. Brunt, of Towson, president of the Maryland Veterinary Medical Association, reports that pets who are left unsupervised around Christmas trees often get themselves into life-threatening problems.

"Both dogs and cats are often curious about Christmas trees and many times veterinarians are presented with pets that have swallowed ornaments, foil 'icicles,' and light bulbs," she warned. "Even more tragic are those pets who play with tree light cords. One bite into that electric cord can cause severe injury or even death of your pet."

Pet owners also are urged to restrict their furry friends from rich holiday foods. Even small amounts of certain foods or table scraps can produce serious gastro-intestinal ailments.

"Chocolate is particularly toxic for dogs and cats," Dr. Brunt added. "Even a small portion can produce disas-

Case Dismissed

Watson explained that the intended effect of this third suit was to "reconstruct" the first suit - the one that originally sought the documents. Watson maintains that this first suit was dismissed "due to fraud and deception."

However, Judge Thayer, after meeting with the legal council of both parties this week, dismissed Hinebaugh's third suit.

According to Watson, Thayer asserted Tuesday that Hinebaugh should have filed a motion to re-open the first case rather than filing a third suit. Watson plans to do this and remarked, "I have a lot of faith in Judge Thayer."

Watson stated that he may also appeal this week's ruling.

As a result of Tuesday's meeting, Thayer asked the county's legal council in the second suit to prepare another memorandum stating their case, Watson said. This memorandum is due before the end of 1994, Watson explained, after which Hinebaugh will have 15 days to respond.

At that point, Thayer may decide the case or call both councils back in for another hearing.

J. EARL SPOERLEIN

In last week's edition of The Republican, the obituary of J. Earle Spoorlein, 78, Lakeland, Fla., who died Tuesday, Nov. 22, at his home, had his age incorrectly noted. He was born Dec. 8, 1915, in Garrett County, a son of the late W.E. Spoorlein and Freda (DeWitt) Spoorlein. We regret the error.

ZELMA I. SMITH
Zelma I. "Dottie" Smith, 78, Cumberland, died Saturday, Dec. 10, 1994, at her home.

Born on May 7, 1916, in Kitzmiller, she was a daughter of the late Austin A. and Lula Maude (Blackburn) Hoey. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Allen M. Smith.

A Methodist by faith, Mrs. Smith was a homemaker and a member of the Daughters of America 100.

Survivors include one sister, Geraldine H. Gilbert, Cumberland; and several nieces and nephews, including James Hoey, Fort Ashby, W.Va.

Friends were received at the Scarpelli Funeral Home, Cumberland, where a service was conducted Monday, Dec. 12, with the Rev. John Walker officiating. Interment was in Sunset Memorial Park.

ALMA E. RODEHEAVER
Alma Elizabeth Rodeheaver, 75, Manassas, Va., died Saturday, Dec. 10, 1994, at Marshall Manor Life Care Center, Marshall, Va.

Born Feb. 3, 1919, in Henderson, N.C., she was a daughter of the late Claude V. and Mary (Hoyle) Edwards.

Survivors include her husband, Arthur Eugene Rodeheaver; one son, Larry E. Rodeheaver, Stafford, Va.; one daughter, Faye D. Loucka, Rose Hill, Va.; three brothers, James Edwards, Charlotte, N.C., and Preston Edwards and Billy Edwards, both of Henderson; one sister, Elsie Whitfield, Creedmoor, N.C.; and six grandchildren.

A funeral service was conducted at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, on Wednesday, Dec. 14, with the Rev. Harold Harman officiating. Interment was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

Friends were received at the Yoskovich Funeral Home, Mt. Morris, where a service was conducted Tuesday, Dec. 13, with the Rev. Fred W. Tomlinson and the Rev. Willard Morse officiating. Interment followed in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Mt. Morris.

BERTHA E. GRODEN

Bertha Eva Groden, 99, a resident of the Heartland of Keyser Nursing Home, formerly of Keyser, W.Va., died Saturday, Dec. 10, 1994, at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Born May 19, 1895, in Accident, she was a daughter-of the late John and Dora (Dodge) Spoorlein. She was also preceded in death by her husband, William E. Groden, on Jan. 16, 1964.

She was a 1925 graduate of Bowling Green Business University. She taught in Deer Park, Keyser's Ridge, Akron, Ohio, and Trenton, N.J. She and her late husband arrived in Keyser from Oxford, N.Y., and purchased the Blue Jay Restaurant and Service Station in 1940, along with the Blue Jay Aviary, until their retirement in November 1960.

Mrs. Groden was a member of the Keyser Church of the Brethren; Lafayette Chapter 340 O.E.S., Oxford; was a former member of the Waxler Homemakers Club; and Mineral County (W.Va.) Senior Citizens. She represented Mineral County as a belle at the West Virginia Folk Festival in June 1969.

Survivors include one son, John W. Groden; one sister, Nellie Schlosnagle, Bridgewater, Va.; and one grandson.

Friends were received at the Rotruck-Smith Funeral Home, Keyser, where a service was conducted Tuesday, Dec. 13, with Pastor Joyce Petry officiating. Interment followed in the Bear Creek Cemetery, Accident.

The family requests that tokens of sympathy take the form of contributions to the Keyser Church of the Brethren Building Fund, Main Street and Fort Avenue, Keyser, WV 26726.

FILLING IN FOR SANTA'S ELVES, members of the Patriotic Pet Club launched a community service project this year to help "Santa" Lou Stouffer in his quest to provide toys and clothing for needy children in Preston (W.Va.) and Garrett counties. Lou and his wife, Lola, have been collecting and delivering items to area families for more than 20 years, and this year they expect to serve more than 830 families. They appreciate, in addition to the toys, donations of clothing for all ages, small personal items, books, cassette tapes, etc. Although monetary donations are never solicited, Mr. and Mrs. Santa also welcome this type of donation, especially to help pay for gas for the "sleigh." The Patriotic Pet Club, an authorized community service organization, set up a donation display box at Accident Elementary School to collect needed items for Santa Lou. Materials to decorate the box were donated by the manager of the Accident I.G.A. Club members pictured above with Santa Lou are Michelle McBride, left, and Wesley Spiker. Also on hand to present the toys to Santa, but not pictured, were Stephanie and Rachael Gossnell.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his wife, Colleen (Klink) Bruner; one daughter, Kimberly Glotfelty, Grantsville; one step-brother, Donald Eisler, Youngstown, N.C.; and two grandsons.

Friends were received at the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Tuesday, Dec. 13, at St. Ann's Catholic Church, with the Rev. William Moody officiating.

Interment followed in Grantsville Cemetery.

RUSSELL T. SHANK

Russell Thomas Shank, 83, Swanton, died Tuesday, Dec. 13, 1994, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born May 3, 1911, in Deer Park, he was a son of the late Roy and Barbara (Paugh) Shank. He was also preceded in death by his wife, Margaret (Rodeheaver) Shank, in September 1994.

He was a retired coal miner and quarry employee. He was a former member of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Survivors include two sons, R. Edward Shank, Swanton, and James G. Shank, Red House; four daughters, Barbara Storey, Silver Spring, Linda Riley, Deer Park, Brenda Buser, Swanton, and Marsha Osekowski, Oakland; one brother, Edward Shank, Mtn. Lake Park; two step-sisters, Beverly Liller, Virginia, and Sora Blair, Ohio; 12 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, today from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. A service will be conducted at the Deer Park United Methodist Church on Friday, Dec. 16 at 10 a.m., with the Rev.

Morris officiating. Interment will follow in the Deer Park Cemetery.

ANNE E. NEVILLE

Anne E. Neville, 66, Mtn. Lake Park, died Tuesday, Dec. 13, 1994, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born May 21, 1928, in Washington, D.C., she was a daughter of the late Paul P. and Eustelle (Brennan) Fitzpatrick. She was also preceded in death by her husband, John Neville.

She was a former accountant's assistant. She moved to the Oakland area from Washington in 1984.

She was a member of St.

Anthony's Catholic Church, and was a former board member of the Appalachian Crossroads. In 1990 she was the winner of the Senior Citizens' Writing Contest, with the topic, "Maryland: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

Rams Tripped Up By Spartans, Mountain Lions

The young Southern High School boys' varsity team dropped a pair of contests this past week, falling to host Bishop Walsh in a defensive struggle Friday evening, 43-35, and losing to Tucker County Tuesday night, 75-63, on the Mountain Lions' floor. The results left the Rams with a 1-2 mark.

The Rams could not hit the mark against the BW Spartans, particularly in the first quarter when they recorded just two points. The home team did not fare a lot better, as the Spartans led 9-2 at the end of the period and 22-16 at halftime. The Rams trailed 32-26 after three quarters.

Jason Sweitzer was the only Ram to reach double figures in scoring, as he finished with 13 points, nine of which were recorded on three long-range goals.

Leading the Spartans (1-2) was Uche Ibeabuchi, who scored 16 points and pulled down seven rebounds, while Rob Ruppenkamp recorded 14 points and grabbed eight rebounds.

The Rams also trailed throughout the game against Tucker County Tuesday night, down 21-13 after one quarter, 37-31 at halftime, and 54-49 after three periods.

Joe Tuomisto and Brian Carlson each scored 15 points for the Rams.

Leading the Mountain Lions were Daniel Helmick with 18 points and Chuck Marx with 17.

The Southern junior varsity won the preliminary game over the Tucker jays, 45-38, behind a 20-point performance by Matt Ruff. Jared Beckman added 11 points to the Rams' total.

No FAULT With HIM!

Two fellow travelers were seated together in a railway compartment engaged in earnest conversation of a religious nature. One of them, a sceptic, was evidently trying to excuse his unbelief by expatiating on the various evils which afflict Christendom, detailing with pleasure the hypocrisy and the craft, and the covetousness and divisions, found in the professing Church, and then he pointed to some of the leaders as the most markedly corrupt of all. In front of them sat a Christian who was compelled to hear all this. He knew the accusations to be true - too true to be concealed from the most charitable mind, so all he could do was to bow his head and bear the deserved reproach. Soon, however, the accuser, anxious to extend the circle of his audience, addressed this fellow passenger in front of him.

"I see you are quick to detect evil," said the Christian, "and you read character pretty well. You have been uncovering here the abominable things that have turned Christendom into a wreck, and are fast ripening it for the judgment of God. You have spared none, but given all good measure. Now, I am a Christian and love the Lord Jesus and His people. Not a word shall I offer in defense, but I solemnly challenge you to speak the first word against the Lord Jesus Christ Himself."

The skeptic was surprised. He seemed almost frightened and sheepishly replied - "Well, no! I couldn't find fault with Him. He was perfect."

"Just so!" said the Christian, "and therefore was my heart attracted to Him, and the more I looked, the more I found I wasn't like Him at all, but only a poor, guilty, sinful man. All the evil which professed followers of Him may do cannot turn me away from Him. My salvation hangs on what He has done, and not on what they are doing."

Southern Girls Crush Catholic Before Losing Two Close Ones

After opening their campaign with a victory, the Southern High School girls' varsity team upped its record to 2-0 by embarrassing Catholic High School in Baltimore on Friday, 63-12, but then dropped two games in a row.

The Rams were edged by host Wilde Lake in Columbia on Saturday, 49-46, and then fell to a strong Westmar team on Monday in Lonaconing, 50-45.

Miranda Marple led Coach Don Stemple's team against out-matched Catholic High, as she scored 13 points, while teammates Emily Friend and Keri Cannon each netted 12.

The Rams jumped out to a 24-2 lead by the end of the first period, led 38-6 at halftime, and were up 50-8 after three periods.

Huskies Defeat Indians, 69-55, For First Win

After opening their season with a defeat at the hands of the powerful Westmar Wildcats, the Northern High Huskies handed their new coach, Mike Friend, his first victory Friday night by defeating the visiting Indians of Mount Savage, 69-55.

Justin Hinebaugh led three Huskies in double figures in scoring by netting 18 points. Frank Winters finished with 16, plus 11 rebounds and three blocked shots, while Chris Elliott added 11 points.

Mt. Savage's Andy Brehm led all scorers with his 28 points and Josh Cook finished with 18 points, as the Indians dropped to 0-2.

The Huskies were on top by just two points, 16-14, at the end of the first period, but then out-scored the visitors in the second stanza by a 16-9 margin to take a 32-23 advantage. The third quarter was played evenly, and Northern led 49-40 going into the final eight minutes.

Also providing a strong performance for the Huskies was Nick Mitchell, who had nine points, seven assists, and five steals.

The Huskies dominated the rebounding game, finishing with 30 grabs, compared to 17 for Mt. Savage.

The Northern junior varsity team was also victorious in the preliminary game, by crushing the Mt. Savage jayvees, 48-24. Zack Leverenz paced the Huskies with 17 points, while Scott Sisler recorded 11. Scott Simpson scored eight to lead Mt. Savage.

their second win this Friday, Dec. 16, at Hancock.

Northern Girls Are Defeated By Fort Hill, Alco

The loss of three starters from last season's 15-6 team was evident this past week for Coach Harry Speicher and his Northern High School girls' varsity team, which dropped a 43-21 contest to Fort Hill Friday night in Cumberland and was ripped last night by Allegany, 40-15, on the Campers' court. The losses lowered the Huskies' record to 1-2.

A lack of offensive production was evident in both games, as Northern managed to score only five points in the first half against Fort Hill and trailed 20-5 at intermission. Only in the final quarter did the Huskies reach double figures, as they netted 12 points in that stanza.

DeBee Jo York and Amber Walter led the Sentinels (2-0) with 10 points each, while Dawn Lancaster added eight.

the Huskies in scoring with six points.

The Huskies were out-rebounded by a 41-26 margin.

The Northern junior varsity was successful in the preliminary game, topping the Fort Hill jayvees, 39-26.

The Huskies will attempt to get back on the winning track this evening at Salisbury.

The only returning starters this season for Coach Speicher are seniors Ellida behind a 13-point effort by Lea Stanton. Renee Adams and Sarah Custer each scored six for Fort Hill.

In last night's contest against Allegany, the Huskies recorded only two points in the second quarter, two in the third quarter, and just six points in the entire second half. They trailed 14-7 at the end of the first quarter, 19-9 at halftime, and 26-11 going into the final period.

Becca Waggoner of Allegany was the only player who reached double figures in scoring, as she finished with 13 points. Kamp paced the Huskies with seven points.

The win improved the Campers' record to 2-1.

The Northern junior varsity was victorious again in the first game, though, stopping the Allegany jayvees, 25-18. Brooke Brennenman scored 12 points to lead the Huskies, with teammate Jill Speicher adding six. Tonya McFarland and Casey Jenkins each scored six for Allegany.

Schofield and Kamp. Schofield averaged over nine points per game last year as the team's second leading scorer. She led the squad in rebounds with a total of 209 and was one of the area's best foul shooters with a 66 percent effort.

Kamp came into this season having averaged about five points and five rebounds per game last year.

The biggest loss to graduation was that of Lisa Stephens, who paced the Huskies in scoring last season with a 13.5 average and in assists with 4.5 per game.

The Huskies of 1993-94 were also an outstanding defensive team, having limited opponents to 40 points or fewer in 16 games.

Hickman Tip-In At Buzzer Gives Lakers A Victory

A tip-in at the buzzer by Gunnell Hickman gave Garrett Community College a 91-90 victory over host Montgomery-Germantown Saturday night, as the Lakers recorded their eighth victory in nine starts and their fifth Maryland JUCO win against no defeats.

The Lakers had the momentum through most of the first half and led 38-28 with just over six minutes remaining, but the home team then went on a 10-0 run to knot the score at 38-38, with Brian McDermott scoring five of those points. Germantown led by three, 47-44, at intermission.

The score remained close throughout the second half and was tied at 87 with about two minutes left. Two free throws by Bob McMeans, followed by a one-of-two at the line by Husan Ferguson, put Germantown ahead 90-87 with 1:13 remaining.

Hickman went to the bucket for two and was fouled, but missed the free throw and the Lakers trailed 90-89. The Laker defense then forced a turnover on a 35-second violation and called a time-out with just 12 seconds remaining to set up the final shot.

Oliver Jones took what was supposed to be the final shot of the game, but the ball bounced off the rim and Hickman went up for the winning tip-in as the buzzer sounded.

It was appropriate that Hickman was the one who recorded the winning buck-

RAM GRIDDERS HONORED - These members of the 1994 Southern High School varsity football team were recently named recipients of various post-season honors. Rams who were named to the Potomac Valley Conference All-Star team are, front row, left to right: Jeremy Fitzwater, quarterback; David Crosco, linebacker; and Josh Hinebaugh, defensive lineman. In the second row, same order, are: Todd DeWitt, offensive lineman; Elias Black, tight end; Seth Tressler, defensive end; Matt Giotelty and Andy Woods, honorable mention selections for offensive line and safety, respectively. Not present for the photo was Adam Moomaun, honorable mention, receiver. Fitzwater, Crosco, Hinebaugh, Tressler, and DeWitt were also named to the East/West Coaches' All-Star Team. Fitzwater rushed for four touchdowns and 490 yards, completed 24 of 53 passes, including six for touchdowns, and also excelled defensively. Crosco led the team in rushing with 612 yards, despite missing some games because of injury, scored eight touchdowns, and was the team's leading receiver. Moomaun led the team in yards per carry with a nine-yard average. Black was the team's leading receiver with 11 catches for 124 yards and five touchdowns. The Rams won the PVC title with a 4-0 conference mark, recorded an overall mark of 7-4, and earned a berth in the state quarterfinals against Boonsboro. Coach Tom Woods was named the PVC Coach of the Year.

Jessie also had an outstanding game with 17 points, five rebounds, five steals, four assists, three blocks, and one turnover. Jermaine Jones contributed 14 points to the Laker total and Oliver Jones recorded 12 points and 10 rebounds.

Derrick Hines led five Germantown players who finished in double figures with a 28-point effort. McMeans scored 15, Dannell Bailey netted 13, and McDermott and Ferguson each finished with 11 points.

The Lakers will not play again until January 5 when they host Chesapeake Community College in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Men's Basketball Results Announced

Concept Associates hammered Reel Video, 93-54, in the opening game of the Mt. Top Men's Basketball League season this past week, as Steve Galusky ripped the nets for 36 points for Concept Associates.

Galusky nailed six shots from three-point range, while teammates Dennis Gibson and Tom Stem recorded 28 and 18 points, respectively. Barry Savage led Reel Video with 12 points.

The second game featured Deep Creek Pharmacy and Roy's Auto in a double-overtime thriller. Mike Fazebaker of Pharmacy, who finished with 29 points, calmly sank three free throws to send the contest into the first overtime period after being fouled by Alan Selders on a shot at the buzzer.

Brian Wilt hit five points in the second overtime period for the Pharmacy, but Loren Twyman scored a total of 54 points, including 13 in the overtime periods, to give Roy's Auto a 78-77 win.

The third game was another see-saw battle, with Power Billiards eventually pulling away for a 66-58 win over Ferrell's Mart. Joe Reffosco led the winners with 20 points, while Dave Bomboy scored 17 to pace Ferrell's.

The schedule for this coming week is as follows:

In Loving Memory of Mary Ellen DeWitt

who took the Lord's hand on Dec. 10, 1989.
Little did we know that morning.

The sorrow the day would bring.
We knew in our hearts the Lord was taking you away.
But in memory you are with us day by day.

In life we loved you still.

In death we love you still.

In our hearts you hold a place.

No one else can ever fill.

Husky Matmen Open Campaign With Two Wins

The Northern High School wrestling team opened its season Tuesday evening by dominating a pair of opponents on the Hyndman Hornet mats.

The Huskies flattened Keyser, 57-16, and then rolled over the host Hornets, 60-18, recording a total of 18 pins in the process.

In the match against Keyser, Jim Warnick, Aaron Hordabay, Terrell Burdock, Corey Geis, Cody Brennenman, Rich Bowser, Brandon Baumgardner, D.J. Durst, Lee Collins, and Steve Savage all won by pin for the Huskies, while Lee Collins recorded a point victory. Savage's pin was recorded in just 12 seconds over Jim Sivits.

Jared Adams and Geoff Schadler earned pins for the Golden Tornados.

Burdock, Jason Savage, Nate Kauffman, Brennenman, Bowser, Collins, and Savage were all pin winners against Hyndman. The Huskies also received forfeit victories in the 103-, and 130-pound divisions.

Keith Hovatter, Jason Emerick, Jim Twigg, and Kurt Stollman won on pins for the Hornets.

Hyndman also lost to Keyser, 60-18.

The 2-0 Huskies will compete again this evening at Morgantown High School, with the competition slated to begin at 7 p.m.

is removed.

Patrick Riley asked France if he could guarantee that the state would grant a permit to build on the land.

"I can't guarantee it, but I can tell you that I have never failed in getting a state permit because I will not take a job that I feel will not be approved," France said. "I feel quite confident that this site will be approved. It has some problems, but every site has problems."

Board member Mikal McCartney made a motion that the board withdraw its October decision to withhold purchase of the land until the state permit was granted. The board voted four to one in favor of the motion, with Charlotte Sebold voting against. McCartney also motioned to buy the land, but before the vote was cast, several other persons attending the meeting asked to be heard.

Lee Thorn, a resident of Loch Lynn and engineer with the Garrett County Roads Department, gave a lengthy presentation of his own findings concerning the proposed site and urged the board to delay the purchase. Thorn presented each board member with a bound booklet containing the results of his study which including maps, tables, and other exhibits.

"I am not here to promote any particular site for the new school," Thorn said. "My concerns are about conditions of the site other than the wetland issue." He went on to explain that the soils in the area are poor soils for the construction of a building as they provide poor drainage.

He maintained that the cost of the removal of the soils, based on the cost of work done for the State Highway Administration, will cost approximately $45,883. He added that the cost for providing the material for structural fill above that to be provided from the cut on site will amount to $115,205.

"This kind of money should be invested in the kids rather than in the costly preparation of the school site," he said.

Thorn also claimed that the water table is high in the area, which will cause more drainage problems.

France refuted the bulk of Thorn's presentation, charging that, in his opinion, Thorn's cost estimates were "way out of whack."

"The cost of providing fill is wrong because the fill will be right there. We won't have to bring it in from anywhere," France said. "And these soils you have discussed are only up to two feet deep. The building is not going to be built on the soils - it will be on the clay layer that most of Mountain Lake Park is built on."

Concerning the water table, France said borings have been done on the area as lately as this fall and several holes were dry.

"The water table is not high at this site," he said.

Don Sincell, parent and editor of The Republican newspaper, attended the meeting and asked Thorn if he had completed the extensive report "in his spare time." Thorn said he had. Sincell then asked him what his motivation was in compiling the report, and Thorn stated that his son is a student at Loch Lynn Elementary and he is concerned about the issue. Sincell then confirmed that Thorn recently lost a close race for mayor of Loch Lynn, edged out by incumbent Charles Tressler.

"If the issue can be resolved, then all right, but not everyone is concerned about other sites or who owns them," Mrs. Storey said.

Suzanne Sincell, a teacher at Dennett Road Elementary School, addressed the group in her capacity as a member of the former committee assigned to finding a suitable building site.

"The committee consisted of parents and teachers from both Red House and Loch Lynn. It was extremely important to all of us that a neutral site be chosen, and we worked hard to find the right spot.

"As while the wetlands issue may pose a slight problem for the builders," Mrs. Sincell continued, "we should remember that this is also a golden opportunity for us here in Garrett County - walking paths are going to be built in the wetland area and our students will have such a unique learning opportunity - it's a teacher's dream.

And even if we do end up having to spend a little more to provide this site, I think that we will be investing that money in our students."

Robin Storey, the mother of a Loch Lynn student, stated that she took offense at Sincell's allegations and maintained that the wetlands issue was something to be considered.

"I too, am appalled that people would put the safety of those children at risk for the sake of business," said Board President Beverly Murphy. "The fire alarm at Loch Lynn goes off every day, and one of these days it will be real."

Q. I have some small molded soldiers in German military uniforms. They are made of a plaster-like material. They are not lead. The family said that they came from Germany before war broke out in 1945. Are they collectible?

A. Elastolin and Lineol toys were made in Germany from the 1930s. Model toy soldiers were made of a plaster composition until 1939. After that, plastic was used until 1945. The figures pictured Nazi soldiers and political figures.

The printed name is stamped on the base. If the word "Germany" is also on the base, the soldiers were made after 1935. If the name is in script, the soldiers were made after 1936.

Collectors of memorabilia from World War II are buying the small soldiers. An Elastolin figure of Hermann Goering, Hitler's deputy, recently sold for $200.

Q. How was a butter pat used? When was it used?

A. The butter pat is a small dish, measuring about 2 1/4 to 4 1/2 inches in diameter. It was kept on the table near the top of the fork. An individual serving of butter was placed on the plate.

The dishes were used as early as the 1850s. They were very much in style until the 1920s. Restaurants kept using them until the 1970s, but few are now seen.

The pats, sometimes called chips or individual butter plates, were made in many shapes. Some were round, square, leaf-shaped or even fan shaped. Some matched the dinner service, but many were decorated with special pictures of animals, birds, flowers or people. Most butter pats were made of china. Some were also made of sterling silver, silver plate or pewter.

Q. Has Ruby Thumbprint glass been reproduced?

A. Ruby Thumbprint or King's Crown glass was first made by 1891 and shown at the Columbian Exposition in 1892. The red-stained clear glass with the thumbprint circles remained popular for years. It has been reproduced many times.

Collectors suggest many clues to finding a reproduction. The circles are not really round, but ovals. The flashing is "greenish" and the glass is dull. The best clue to determining a new piece is the weight. The new pieces are thicker and heavier. Some copies are stained light red and not ruby red.

Home Tips

FRESH ONIONS — I enjoy a bit of red onion with my salad and so does my husband. However, since it's just the two of us, it takes a long time to get through one onion.

In order to keep it fresh tasting, I slice the onion with the skin on and remove the skin before putting into my salad. It seems to store better this way. I had tried plastic wrap and aluminum wrap, but I guess nature's own covering is really best!

MAINTENANCE — Spray your chimney brush well with a spray lubricant after each use and several times a year. It will last much, much longer.

PEST CONTROL — To help control fleas in your home, put the extra length left over from your pet's flea collar in your vacuum-cleaner bag. Rita K., Gilbert, S.C.

SIMPLE SUBSTITUTION — If you need a heating pad and you don't have one available, here's a good substitute:

Wet a small (guest) towel and wring it out, then put it in a plastic bag and put in your microwave for one minute. Wrap in a small towel and use. It works very well but you have to be sure not to overly heat the towel or you could burn yourself.

BABY TOWELETTE CONTAINERS — With a newborn baby, you can go through a lot of babytowlettes.

I save the empty containers (square and rectangle) and use them to store all kinds of things such as crayons, pencils, marbles or scissors for the kids.

I also use them to file coupons, recipes or small packages of salt and pepper and/or ketchup. Or they can be padded and covered the same way you cover photo albums and used to decorate and store things in the bathroom, bedroom or kitchen.

CHRISTMAS SAFETY TIPS — Before putting up lights, check all sets for shorts or burned out bulbs.

* Never leave Christmas tree lights on overnight or when no one's home.

* Don't use tinsel or garland if you have pets. If they ingest this, it can cause damage to their intestines.

* Be sure to water fresh trees daily.

* If you have small children or pets, don't hang ornaments on bottom branches. These can be plucked and eaten which is very dangerous.

DANGEROUS "CONTACT":

Whether you consider contact lenses a boon to life, or think of them as a necessary evil, one thing must be understood: while contact lenses can help improve vision, if they are not handled correctly, they can easily lead to serious eye infections which, in some cases, can result in the loss of sight. Dr. R. Wayne Bowman, associate professor of ophthalmology at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas, reports that contact lens wearers who put their dried-out lenses in their mouths to rehydrate them might be better off letting their dogs take a lick at them.

"Most people falsely believe that a human's mouth is cleaner than a dog's mouth," said Dr. Bowman. "So they wouldn't think twice about using their own saliva to wash the lenses." But, Dr. Bowman cautioned, "if you do so, you run the risk of exposing your eye to a multitude of bacteria."

Bowman pointed out that these bacteria in the saliva can cause corneal infections. For example, he said, "If you have a herpes simplex cold sore in your mouth, you could transfer that bacteria to your eye, and that could cause a severe ulcer."

As for using tap water, which we tend to assume must be all right since it's safe to drink, Bowman said, "Tap water isn't sterile and contains Acanthamoeba, an organism that can cause an eye infection that could lead to blindness."

Now while Dr. Bowman doesn't really believe Rover should wash your lenses (he was simply showing how much relatively cleaner a dog's saliva is compared to a human being's), he has some suggestions for the proper way to care for your lenses and, by that, your eyes.

The best thing to do is to take a portable lens-cleaning solution kit with you. And what if you don't have such a kit handy and your lenses get dry or dirty? Dr. Bowman has the answer for that as well: "Just leave the lenses out," he said. His advice is sound, since it's better to see poorly for a while, than risk not seeing anything at all.

We came across a sure-fire hit for a gift idea for your favorite cat lover. Following up on last year's release of "The Jingle Cats' Meowy Christmas," this year's offering from the Jingle Cats is "Here Comes Santa Claws."

In case you never heard of them, the Jingle Cats are the brainchild of cat lover, Mike Spalla, who produced both albums. He had long noticed that cats have a language all their own, expressed with different pitches of meows. Thus, he set about gathering over 1,000 different "meows" and went into a studio to see what he could come up with. The result was "Meowy Christmas" last year and "...Santa Claws" this year. Judging by last year's success, this year's offering should do equally well among cat fanciers.

When we sat down to listen to "...Santa Claws," we couldn't stop laughing. It was a delight to listen to these little kitties "singing" such Christmas standards as "Silent Night" and "Up On The Housetop." It was also amusing to watch our three Beagles cocking their heads in order to determine just where these noisy kitties were!

Don't despair. Both releases are still available and are sure to delight the cat lover on your list.

land, which had been triple checked by the Board of Elections. State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein served as president of the Board, which also includes the attorney general, state treasurer, secretary of state, clerk of the Court of Appeals and the state administrator of election laws.

During the meeting Goldstein congratulated "all those who had been involved in the process during this unusual election." Final figures show the governor's race was decided by 5,993 votes. Parris N. Glendening received 708,094 votes while Ellen R. Sauerbrey received 703,169.

The Board also certified statewide officials Louis L. Goldstein as state comptroller, with 809,852 votes and J. Joseph Curran Jr., as attorney general, with delegation can be seated."

Goldstein noted that the Board "must certify the results of Maryland's Congressional elections to the officials of the United States Senate and House of Representatives before our Satellite dishes blossom as one drives round highways and hillsides. In these times of advanced technology, we view the entire world via invisible waves bouncing through the skies from state-of-the-art transmitters into our living rooms. Otherwise, we would feel isolated, our communication with the globe hazy at best.

Communication with God is similar, yet much simpler. Just extend your arms heavenward and send Him the supplications of your soul. Moreover, join with others each Sabbath at your chosen house of worship. In Exodus 22:27, God promises... "And if he cries to me, I will hear, for I am compassionate." Worship this week. Communing with God is "state-of-the-heart".

Deputy Grand Lecturer Honored
By Oakland OES

Oakland Chapter 67, Order of the Eastern Star, met Dec. 6 at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple. Juanita Leese, deputy grand lecturer, was honored during the meeting.

Worthy Matron Wilda Hile opened the meeting with a greeting titled, "Winter Countryside." Worthy Patron Delmar Sliger led all in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

Hile welcomed the following guests: Grand Office of Maryland Lillian Recker; Deputy Grand Lecturer Juanita Leese, Grand Representative Betty Foy, and past patrons from other chapters, Eldon Leese and Robert Elrick.

Leese was honored with a program titled, "God's Lamp," presented by Hile and star point officers. She received gifts from the worthy matron and patron, and Debbie Raynovich sang a solo, Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas.

Members Willetta Ma-tee and Betsy Colaw were recognized and will receive 25-year membership pins and certificates.

Hile closed the meeting with two readings, "Story of the Candy Cane," and "God Has Promised." The next meeting will be Dec. 20. A special Christmas program is planned.

Debbie Raynovich and her committee served refreshments following the meeting.

Children's Musical Slated At Faith EFC

Faith Evangelical Free Church will present a children's musical titled, "Something's Up Down in Bethlehem," by Janet McMahan-Wilson and Ted Wilson, on Sunday, Dec. 18, at 9:30 a.m.

The play, set in Bethlehem at the time of Christ's birth, is under the direction of Carol Peracchio and Lynn Berney.

A Christmas Eve service will be held at 7 p.m. the same evening. This family-oriented program will feature music and a candlelight service.

The church is located one mile east of Oakland on Rt. 135, Mtn. Lake Park.

MPT Financial Aid Program Set
For January 4

An effort to make all residents of Maryland aware of the financial aid available to them for a college education is being launched by Governor William Donald Schaefer and the Maryland Colleges.

The month of January 1995 has been designated "You Can Afford College" month. In conjunction with this designation, Maryland Public Television has scheduled a program beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 4, during which financial aid officers from various levels of higher education will provide information. Viewers may call in questions between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. on that date using the statewide toll-free number 1-800-222-1292. The taped program will be rebroadcast on Saturday, January 7, on channels 22, 28, 31, 36 (Oakland), 62, and 67.

Persons desiring further information may call Crystle Filer-Ogden, coordinator of financial aid at Garrett Community College, 301-387-3083.

Lighthouse Plans Holiday Activities

Garrett County Lighthouse, Inc., will host a holiday dinner and gift exchange for its consumers on Tuesday, Dec. 20.

Along with Lighthouse's regular activities, the month of December will feature extra shopping outings, holiday cookie baking, arts and crafts, candy making, caroling, guest speakers, and crisis intervention.

Lighthouse serves 18-60-year-old adults with mental illness. For more information about holiday activities, or to arrange a visit, persons may call 334-9126.

The bells will toll for 59 Marylanders who will not be around the holiday tables this year with family, friends, and loved ones. These 59 lives were lost in fires that occurred in Maryland homes between the Thanksgiving holiday and New Year's Day from 1989-1993.

During this five-year period, there were 5,749 fires during the holidays resulting in an estimated $49,942,670 in property loss.

The state fire marshal is offering a solution to the loss of lives and property from fires during the holiday season. According to Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele, a large number of these tragedies could be prevented by people being more attentive to fire safety in their homes. "People cause fires through carelessness, apathy, and a lack of knowledge," Gabriele said. A few tips to help avoid fires are as follows:

*Ensure every home has a working smoke detector.

*If using "fresh cut" or "live" Christmas tree in the home, place the trees at a safe distance from heat producing appliances, such as fire-places, woodstoves, and electric or unvented portable space heaters.

*Maintain the tree in water and check the tree daily to ensure its safe condition.

*Use only UL-listed electric lights when decorating the home and check all decorative wiring to ensure they are not frayed or worn.

*Turn out all Christmas and decorative lights when not at home and when retiring to bed for the evening.

*Pay close attention to cooking and food preparation during the holidays to avoid kitchen and cooking related fires.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal urges all Marylanders to make this holiday season "a time of joy and celebration." Gabriele is issuing a challenge to all Marylanders to "remember the ghosts of holidays past and to strive to reduce these tragedies during the 1994 holiday season."

For further information on home fire safety, persons may contact their local fire department or the Office of the State Fire Marshal at 1-800-525-3124, Monday through Friday during normal business hours.

Several Students Complete Career Planning Classes

The New Horizons/New Dimensions Programs of Garrett Community College recently completed the third in the FY95 series of five-week, 10-session Career Planning classes taught by Mary Kirkland, intake/counselor specialist, with the New Horizons Program of GCC. The class included learning about job hunt strategies, getting to know oneself, what self-esteem means to a non-traditional student returning to classes or to the work world, ways to build self-esteem, what stress is and how to handle it, combining working with family obligations, time and budget management, resume writing, and job interview techniques.

Several interest tests were administered to participants to determine their career interests. These tests included the Career Assessment Inventory (CAI), the Holland Code Self-Directed Search, and the GATB (General Aptitude Test Battery).

The recent group of students enrolled in the class included: Carolyn Dean, Phyllis Furr, Georgia Perry, Janet Welch, Patricia Welch, Helen West, and Emily Williams.

The next scheduled Career Planning class will begin on Wednesday, January 4, at Garrett Community College McHenry Campus. Anyone interested in enrolling in the Career Planning class should call New Horizons weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 387-3071 or 387-3102 for complete information. "The class is a great beginning for a support group and has proven beneficial for re-entering women to make career decisions and enter training in their areas of interest," stated a New Horizons spokesman.

The New Horizons Program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds in the amount of $45,000 are made available to the program through Career Technology and Adult Learning, which is 90% of the total program budget with Garrett Community College contributing an additional $5,200, which is 10% of the total budget for New Horizons. The New Dimensions Program is 100% funded by the Department of Human Resources, Community Services Administration, Women's Services Division, in the amount of $20,000.

"We've instituted the Energy Fund because we understand that some customers may have trouble paying their winter heating bills," said Ms. Neff. "The donations from our customers, added to the matching funds from our stockholders, make it possible to help a larger number of people in need."

According to Potomac Edison's Western Division Manager Nancy Neff, the Fund provides assistance that some may need during the winter months when energy bills normally increase.

"We're aiming at those non-traditional students already in the parks and recreation field," said program coordinator Dr. Robert Kauffman. "The students will come in on Friday evenings and stay until Sunday afternoon, taking a three-credit course in three weeks."

Kauffman adds that two of the primary markets are the Baltimore/Washington metropolitan area and Pittsburgh -- "city folks looking for a way to be educated in a rural environment by some of the best parks and recreation professionals in the field. Frostburg is located within 150 miles or a two and one half hour drive from those areas," he said.

Potomac Edison customers will soon receive mailers for the fund with their electric bills. Customers may direct contributions to the participating service agency in their area.

Ms. Neff added, "We feel that the Community Energy Fund provides a good opportunity for all of us to join together and help those who may need help during the heating season."

For more information on the Community Energy Fund, persons may call Potomac Edison toll-free at 1-800-654-3317 or write to Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., 104 East Center St., Oakland MD 21550.

"Because the classes are taught on the weekend, we are able to attract professional experts to teach," Kauffman added. Courses range from concepts and foundations of leisure to fiscal management.

"The program infuses a lot of MBA type of courses and utilizes case studies," he said.

In a survey conducted for the program proposal, researchers found that the average age of park and recreation professionals is 41 and over half (54%) were women. Ninety-one percent of those surveyed indicated that they would complete a degree part-time and 91% agreed with the statement that they planned to remain

Christmas Cantata Slated In Loch Lynn

A Christmas cantata, titled "Christmas People," will be presented at the Loch Lynn Church of God on Sunday, Dec. 18, beginning at 8 p.m.

The musical program will be under the direction of Jody Fletcher.

Pastor Robert Fletcher and the church's congregation invite the public to attend.

Energy Fund To Be Sponsored By PE, CAC

For the fourth consecutive year, The Potomac Edison Company, in cooperation with Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., will sponsor the Community Energy Fund to help customers in need pay winter energy bills.

The Community Energy Fund allows for company stockholders to match 50 cents to every dollar contributed to participating agencies, up to program limits, for use in paying household electric bills. During the 1993-94 winter heater season, nearly $112,300 was credited to the electric bills of 743 customers from throughout Potomac Edison's service area. Since the program began in 1991, more than $314,400 has been donated by customers and Potomac Edison toward the fund, helping to pay nearly 2,100 energy bills.

According to Potomac Edison's Western Division Manager Nancy Neff, the Fund provides assistance that some may need during the winter months when energy bills normally increase.

"We've instituted the Energy Fund because we understand that some customers may have trouble paying their winter heating bills," said Ms. Neff. "The donations from our customers, added to the matching funds from our stockholders, make it possible to help a larger number of people in need."

According to Ms. Neff, residential customers of Potomac Edison from Garrett County who need and qualify for help are identified by the Garrett County Community Action Committee. Potomac Edison provides matching funds to the energy to assist these individuals.

Potomac Edison customers will soon receive mailers for the fund with their electric bills. Customers may direct contributions to the participating service agency in their area.

For more information on the program proposal, researchers found that the average age of park and recreation professionals is 41 and over half (54%) were women. FORESTRY BOARD RECOGNIZES MEMBERS -- During its December meeting at Cornish Manor, Garrett County Forest Conservancy Board Chairperson Michael Kozier presented a certificate of appreciation to Brenda Butcher, above left, for her service with the forestry board; a plaque to Carroll DeWitt, Accident, above right, to commemorate his selection as Garrett County Tree Farmer of the year; and a certificate to John Forman, below, for his re-appointment as a board member. The Garrett County Forestry Board promotes conservation through tours for teachers and students; sponsors Project Learning Tree workshops; and tree planting and school reforestation projects throughout the county.

employed while completing a master's degree. Three out of five professionals surveyed indicated that they were willing to travel to Frostburg for a weekend course.

The program reflects the growing interest in the recreation and parks field both in Maryland and the United States. "Leisure spending in the U.S. is about $300 billion a year; about twice what it was in 1970," Kauffman said. Tourism is both the country's and the state's second largest retail industry.

"Maryland has developed an extensive network of parks and natural resources with nine million people visiting the state's forest and parks each year," he added. "The Maryland Department of Natural Resources, State Forest and Park Service alone employs approximately 330 people and there is a move toward self-sufficiency. The PRRM program is designed to service that changing market in natural resource management.

"Our approach enables students to remain employed," he said, "and offers a retreat atmosphere where they can get away from the hustle and bustle of urban life to learn with professionals."

Also, the program, due to be initiated in September 1995, builds upon the success of the Adventure Sports associate and undergraduate degree curriculum developed by Garrett Community College and FSU, as well as the University four-year recreation program, explained Dr. Ed. Root, Dean of the School of Education. "Also, because it will serve students in a 200-mile radius of FSU it adds an interesting twist to the idea that we are a regional institution," Root said.

The program also focuses on the non-traditional student, a target audience for higher education especially in Maryland. "The weekend format is oriented toward practitioners in the field who, because they work, often cannot pursue an advanced degree," Root added. "It just seems like a natural."

Douglas, Nelson team in Take Me Home Again

BY SUZANNE GILL

Take Me Home Again, a warmhearted drama airing Sunday, Dec. 18, on NBC, begins with humor, proceeds with candor and ends, regrettably, with a big red bow.

At this time of year, it is all too common to encounter TV movies about family relations, shamelessly taking aim at the cockles of a viewer's heart. At least Take Me Home Again begins by aiming higher.

Kirk Douglas stars as cantankerous Ed Reece, a former traveling salesman householded at the end of his life with his family and a raging cancer. About to smother, he sends for his estranged firstborn, Larry (Craig T. Nelson), a Vietnam-era draft dodger who hasn't declared peace with his past.

Ed thoroughly enjoys the reactions of the others when Larry shows up, and he soon reveals his private agenda: Larry is to take him on a last road trip from the Midwest to his birthplace on the West Coast, where Ed wants to die in the bed in which he was born.

Larry may be willing to go downstairs and get his dad a forbidden beer, but will he help fulfill the dying man's wish, enduring more of the lectures and stubbornness that drove him away from home in the first place?

"(Larry) was the only one who would do it," Douglas says. "(Ed) said this was his only chance, with Larry. When you think about the love of the son for the father, who else would have done such a crazy thing?"

Love? That's where Take Me Home Again is at its best, portraying an anything-but-idealized closeness, a working relationship between father and son that doesn't lose sight of their fierce individuality. The script is rich with lines like, "I remember everything you ever yelled at me."

"This is an old guy at the end of his life," Douglas notes,

Meg Ryan stars with Alec Baldwin in Prelude to a Kiss, airing Tuesday, Dec. 20, on Fox.

The romantic story involves two people (Ryan and Baldwin) who meet, fall in love and immediately marry.

Problems arise for the couple when a mysterious elderly man (Sydney Walker) appears at the reception and kisses the bride, causing their souls to switch bodies.

Kathy Bates and Patty Duke also star.

BY SUZANNE GILL

Viewers can meet Santa Claus, man and myth, on the Monday, Dec. 19, edition of A&E's Biography.

Other biographical sketches this week include "The Three Stooges" Friday, Dec. 23, and "Shari Lewis and Lamb Chop" Tuesday, Dec. 20. "Is this the biography of a piece of veal?" asks A&E's press release. "Of course not — it's the biography of a sock!" Ho, ho, ho.

Kathie Lee Gifford is the special guest for the Holiday at Pops' Christmas concert, airing Sunday, Dec. 18, on A&E. John Williams conducts the Boston Pops Orchestra, and the Tanglewood Festival Chorus sings Fa-la-la-la-la.

Nick at Nite is Very Very Snowbound Sunday, with winter episodes of Get Smart, Mork & Mindy, I Love Lucy and Mary Tyler Moore.

A Spiritual Christmas airs Monday on Faith & Values. Metropolitan Opera star John Anthony and the John Anthony Singers perform holiday spiritual selections from the Marble Collegiate Church in New York City. Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee offer biblical readings. On Saturday, Dec. 24, Faith & Values presents a live Christmas Eve service, also from Marble Collegiate.

An Affair to Remember airs in a special letter-boxed presentation Monday on American Movie Classics. The 1957 Cary Grant-Deborah Kerr romance was recently remade as Love Affair with Warren Beatty and Annette Bening.

MTV kicks it up with Sandblast, a sports competition

BY AMY HIBBERT

It is the season for giving, and television is sticking to that theme this week with a generous portion of holiday specials.

Sunday, Dec. 18, Fox begins the final week before Christmas with the animated Life With Louie: A Christmas Surprise for Mrs. Stillman. The show celebrates the spirit of giving as Louie (voice of comic Louie Anderson) and his father decorate a neighbor's home.

The personification of Christmas itself, Santa Claus, is profiled in A&E's Biography on Monday, Dec. 19.

Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol is not ignored this week. Fox uses the acclaimed tale as a theme on Melrose Place, also airing Monday. The show features one of the female leads as Ebenezer Scrooge. On NBC, Katharine Hepburn and Henry Winkler star in the premiere of One Christmas, a touching story about a child who seeks to be with his father for the holidays.

Joel Grey lends his voice to the animated 'Twas the Night Before Christmas, airing on CBS Wednesday, Dec. 21.

Dickens' story returns on Thursday, Dec. 22, as Mickey's Christmas Carol, airing on CBS. The Disney characters act out the story of Scrooge in their own style.

Wishes come true for an orphan in A Wish That Changed Christmas, airing on ABC Friday, Dec. 23. A young girl asks Santa to reunite her divorced parents in All I Want for Christmas Is You.

The week winds down with Santa's journey in Countdown to Christmas airing on NBC Saturday, Dec. 24.

Many other seasonal specials are filling the television lineup this week to provide a holiday packed with entertainment.

The legendary Santa Claus shakes the hand of a small child who believes in him. The history of this Christmas figure is explored in A&E's Biography, Monday, Dec. 19.

SOAP TALK

Whole lot of shakin' going on at ATWT

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Executives at As the World Turns are doing their spring housecleaning a little early this year.

An announcement was made recently that several major characters will be leaving the show in the future, and many of the popular actors will be heading to Los Angeles for prime time's pilot season.

Laurence Caso, executive producer for ATWT, recently announced, "ATWT will be losing a few cast members over the coming months. We are withholding some character names at this time in order to protect an exciting story planned to air before then."

"While we are sad to see some very talented actors leave us, we are looking forward to welcoming new faces Oakdale this spring."

Scott Bryce and Tamara Tunie will be two of the first actors to depart the show.

Bryce has played Craig Montgomery on and off since 1982. "It is always a pleasure to have Scott with us in Oakdale," Caso says. "We always knew that his plans were not to stay long term. I'm especially grateful for the work he's contributed to this show and story line for the past year and a half. We wish him the very best."

Bryce also had great success as a guest on prime time while awaiting their grandmother's arrival. The episode again Friday and Christmas Day.

Tunie, who has wanted out of her contract for more than a year, is finally being let go.

TV PIPELINE

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Q: Who plays Sheriff Mort Metzger on Murder, She Wrote? Is he related to Lou Costello? —Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mahaffy, Bobcaygeon, Ontario, Canada.

A: Ron Masak is not related to the late comic.

Q: Tell me about the guy who plays Hank on Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman. He has long blond hair. A friend insists he's married to Geena Davis. Where can I write to the cast? —K. Schmidt, St. Louis.

A: Hank is played by actor William Shockley, who indeed resembles director Renny Harlin, Davis' husband. The Kansas-born Shockley got his break in the feature RoboCop, then appeared in Howling 5: The Rebirth. Earlier TV credits include Houston Knights, Bagdad Cafe, Good and Evil and the miniseries Lady Boss and Lucky/Chances. Write to the cast at 4024 Radford Ave., Building 1, Room 115, Studio City, Calif. 91604.

Q: I missed Stephen King's The Stand. Do you know when or if it will be repeated? Where can I write to him? —Nick Ridino, Lodi, Calif.

A: No airdate has been set for a repeat of the hit miniseries, but it has been released on video. The address I have on file for the author is 49 Florida Ave., Bangor, Maine 04401. If for some reason that doesn't work, you can write to him, like any author, C/O the publishers of his latest tome (check with a bookstore).

Q: Please settle a disagreement: Were the Oct. 10 episodes of Murphy Brown and Love & War reruns? What about the movie Voice From Within? Also, how old is Jan-Michael Vincent? —D.M.D., Auburn, N.H.

A: As of this writing, Law is scheduled to return midseason. Write to O'Connor C/O MGM Worldwide TV, MGM Plaza, 2500 Broadway St., Santa Monica, Calif. 90404-3061.

Q: Send questions to TV Pipeline, Features Dept., TV Data Technologies, Northway Plaza, Queensbury, N.Y. 12804. Because of the volume of mail received, personal replies cannot be sent.

ESPN's Arete Awards to honor brave athletes

BY JEFF PLASS

Courage. It's what separates the champions from the also-rans. And on Saturday, Dec. 24, ESPN honors athletes who have used this quality to overcome adversity and achieve greatness with the fifth annual Arete Awards for Courage in Sports.

The show's host, Jack Whitaker of ABC Sports, joins a slew of celebrities, including Chicago White Sox's Frank Thomas; NBC Sports' Ahmad Rashad and former Olympic Dream Team coach Chuck Daly, for this gala event, taped in Chicago. The special also includes appearances by Henry Aaron and potential Arete Award winner Monica Seles.

Whitaker summarizes the concept behind the program: "The athletes honored have exhibited great courage in pursuit of their goals. They have known no limits, because they refuse to acknowledge limitations. Their triumphs will energize your spirit."

Candidates for the awards are nominated by sportswriters across the country. Finalists are chosen in five categories: Junior, Amateur, Professional, Senior and Life Achievement, by a selection committee that has, over the years, included such sports luminaries as Arthur Ashe, Walter Payton and Mary Lou Retton.

Friday, Dec. 23, NBC airs All I Want For Christmas, a story of a young girl who asks Santa to get her parents back together.

Mickey Rooney and Helen Reddy star in Pete's Dragon Saturday, Dec. 24, on ABC.

his fourth NHL scoring title; and Hank Dekker (Senior), the first blind person to sail from San Francisco to Hawaii alone.

Other past award winners have included Bo Jackson, Gail Devers, Greg LeMond and Jackie Joyner-Kersee.

The special's co-founder and event chairman, CBS Golf analyst Ken Venturi, understands the meaning of Arete — the ancient Greek term for "the pinnacle of human performance in its purist form; the pursuit of excellence through perseverance, goodness, valor, nobility and virtue."

In the final round of the 1984 U.S. Open, Venturi collapsed from heat exhaustion, picked himself up and rallied to win the tournament.

"Our goal is to honor those outstanding athletes whose careers are inspirational; whose performances are the revelation of pure excellence," Venturi says. "We honor the exceptional athlete, the person driven to do their best — not necessarily to be better than anyone else, but better than they ever thought they could be."

Special Drive By CAC Yields 200 Blankets

Over 200 blankets have been collected in the recent blanket drive sponsored by Garrett Community Action Committee (GCAC).

Drop-off sites for the drive were located throughout the county, and additionally, several churches and other organizations held mini-drives of their own, according to a GCAC spokesman.

The organizations and businesses involved with the drive were: Oakland Ruth Enlow Library, Grantsville Library, Kitzmiller Library, Gregg's Pharmacy, Eileen's Country Market, Arrowhead Market, Friendsville Pharmacy, J.C. Penney Catalog Merchant, Marvin's Men's Wear, St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Cresson United Brethren Church, Mt. Top Christian Assembly of God, St. John's Episcopal Church, St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, Accident Town Hall, Bloomington United Methodist Church, Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church, Englander's Pharmacy, Biedler's Blanket Company, Grantsville United Methodist Church, Jennings United Methodist Church, St. John's United Church of Christ, West Marvia District Office, Brethren churches throughout the area, Cumberland Electric, Browning's Foodland, and Oakland Food Lion.

Master Craft Printers worked closely with the organizers of the drive, donating almost all of the printed materials used in the project, as well as many hours of computer time.

Some of the blankets collected will be donated to the Maryland Food Program and various charities around the county, and the remainder will be stored in the Community and Emergency Services Department at Com-Community Action to be used in crisis situations.

The project was coordinated by two members of the new National Service Program, Americorps.

In addition to the blanket drive, CAC Ameri-corps members are working on community-help oriented projects such as: providing comprehensive service systems to senior citizens, with special targeting to the frail and low income groups; assisting with weather related emergencies; helping with food drives; providing information to the community relating to the services available to help in meeting basic needs; helping with

Zion Lutheran Women Convene

Women of the ELCA, Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, held their monthly meeting in the church on December 6 with five members present.

Leota Baker led a discussion of the topic, "Yesterday, Today and Forever," which concluded the study of the Letter to the Hebrews. The study emphasized hope and expectation, hospitality and celebration, and concluded with a summary of the challenges of the entire study of the past months.

A "journey into reminiscence" followed, as Alta Broadwater sang, "O Merry Bells of Christmas," a song which she had memorized and sung during her childhood. Mrs. Broadwater also led the group in singing Christmas music.

Ruthella Rish presided over the business meeting.

Greeting cards were signed for various persons.

A gift offering was received from Leota Baker, given as a tribute to the memory of her aunt, Sara E. Winter, who died November 30. This offering was forwarded to Women of the ELCA churchwide, and designated for World Hunger.

A birthday offering was presented by Alta Broadwater.

Total birthday offerings received from the members during the year will be given to a local family along with a Christmas box.

Service projects continue with baby quilts being made for distribution on the Rocky Boy Indian Reservation in Montana, and lap robes and chair pads for Pendleton Nursing Home in West Virginia.

All officers are retained for another term.

Following adjournment, Judy Stanton presented each person with a Christmas treat. The next meeting is planned for January 3.

Low-Interest Rate Mortgage Loans Available

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that $72 million in low-interest rate mortgage loans will be available for income-eligible Maryland homebuyers. The funds will be available beginning December 22 from the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) Maryland Mortgage Program (MMP), on behalf of the state's local jurisdictions.

"The Maryland Mortgage Program helps low-and-moderate income people buy homes," said Governor Schaefer. "Through this program, about 36,000 families and individuals have already purchased homes in the State of Maryland."

"Most MMP-eligible people are purchasing their first home with one of these loans," said Jacqueline H. Rogers, secretary for DHCD. "While the funds won't become available until the end of the year, we have already started a waiting list for interested candidates."

MMP is administered through DHCD's Community Development Administration. This issue of tax-exempt revenue bonds is made on behalf of 21 Maryland counties and Baltimore City. This arrangement enables local governments to take advantage of the state's excellent bond rating, to share in the cost of issuing the bonds and to benefit from the centralized administration of program.

Montgomery and Prince George's counties will not be participating in this bond issue. They have opted to issue separate revenue bonds for housing programs in their own jurisdictions.

Two interest rates are expected to be provided to qualified applicants, which will be established early this month. People with annual incomes of $31,350 or less can qualify for the lower interest rate. Individuals earning up to $41,800 and households earning up to $49,650 will be eligible for the higher interest rate.

The maximum purchase price for a newly constructed or existing home under this program is $110,000. In Allegany County the maximum price for an existing home can not exceed $92,763, although the maximum purchase price for a new home remains at $110,000.

To apply for a loan under this program, interested people must be first-time homebuyers, except in targeted areas, and have a signed sales contract on a qualifying home before contacting a lending institution. Borrowers must make their sales contracts contingent upon receiving financing through MMP. In addition, the contract of sale must state that the borrower has at least 75 days from the date of the borrower's application to obtain loan approval.

Program brochures with lists of participating lenders are available upon request. This and other information can be obtained by calling MMP at 410-514-7514 (from the Baltimore-metropolitan area), or 1-800-638-7781 (toll-free).

Holiday Travelers Invited To Visit Welcome Centers

As the winter season approaches, motorists are reminded that Maryland's 11 welcome centers are available to offer information and assistance to travelers.

"During the winter, particularly around the holidays, there are a great many travelers on the highways," said Governor William Donald Schaefer. "Maryland's welcome centers offer not only a clean, safe place to stop, but also provide information, directions, and assistance."

Locused throughout the state, the welcome centers are staffed by trained travel counselors and feature maps, brochures, and other information to assist travelers. The centers are equipped with restroom facilities, 24-hour vending machines and pay telephones. Welcome center staff also can offer referrals to emergency car repair and towing services and nearby overnight accommodations, as needed.

The Maryland State Highway Administration (SHA) reminds travelers to allow plenty of time to reach their destinations, make sure their cars are in good working order with a full tank of gas, and take the time to remove all ice and snow from windows, mirrors, and lights. Motorists also are reminded to buckle their seat belts, keep a safe distance between vehicles, and be especially careful driving on bridges and ramps, as ice forms there before it does on roadways. For information about road conditions during winter storms, travelers can call the State Highway Administration's toll-free Winter Storm Hotline at 1-800-327-3125.

Travelers with cellular telephones on Maryland highways are encouraged to call #77 to be connected with the Maryland State Police if they see a traveler in distress or an emergency situation.

The travel information centers are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except Christmas Day and New Year's Day. The centers will close at 1 p.m. on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

Maryland's welcome centers are located on major highways throughout the state. They include one along I-68 near Friendsville at the Youghiogheny Overlook.

CELEBRATE THE SEASON

rom party nibbles to the main meal, food is a big part of holiday celebrations, and we want it to be fun, festive, delicious—and doable.

If it's your turn to host the holiday dinner, consider an easy-to-serve, yet spectacular, buffet starring Peppered Beef Tenderloin with Roasted Potatoes. A beef tenderloin rubbed with a mustard-parsley-peppercorn blend is as stunning as it is delicious. And roasting is such a simple cooking method; the beef needs no attention once it's in the oven. To save time, roast potatoes and onions alongside the tenderloin. Five-ingredient Creamy Horseradish Sauce makes the perfect beef accompaniment. Prepare it several hours in advance and refrigerate until serving time.

Merry Cherry Dessert can be made ahead, too. It takes only 20 minutes to assemble, then pop it into the refrigerator. Ruby-red cherries add festive color and flavor to layers of sweetened ricotta cheese and crumbled shortbread cookies.

Need nibbles for holiday noshing? Try Horseradish Meatballs in Savory Cherry Sauce. Meatballs are always a favorite—especially when they're already prepared and in the freezer. Adding zesty prepared horseradish to ground beef gives these meatballs a real flavor punch that's just right with the cherry sauce. Or, if the need is more last minute, stop at the market and pick up the ingredients for Festive Party Roll-Ups. Purchase convenient ready-to-serve deli roast beef sliced just to the thickness you need. Layer it on a flour tortilla with horseradish-seasoned cream cheese, sprinkle with dried cherries and roll up.

Horseradish Meatballs in Savory Cherry Sauce

Total preparation and cooking time: 40 minutes

- 2 pounds lean ground beef
- 1/2 cup cracker crumbs
- 2 eggs
- 2 to 4 tablespoons prepared horseradish
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

1. Heat oven to 350°. In large bowl, combine all ingredients, mixing lightly but thoroughly.
2. Shape beef mixture into sixty-four (about 1-inch) meatballs; place on racks in broiler pans.
3. Bake in 350° oven 18 to 20 minutes or until no longer pink.
4. Meanwhile prepare Savory Cherry Sauce. Add meatballs to sauce; cook until meatballs are heated through, stirring occasionally.

Makes 64 appetizers.

Savory Cherry Sauce

Total preparation and cooking time: 40 minutes

- 1 can (13-3/4 to 14-1/2 ounces) ready-to-serve beef broth
- 3/4 cup (6 ounces) frozen cherry juice blend concentrate, defrosted
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch, dissolved in 2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 cup dried tart cherries
- 1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions

1. In large saucepan, combine beef broth, cherry juice concentrate, cornstarch mixture and ginger, stirring to blend. Bring to a boil, reduce heat to low. Cook 5 minutes or until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally.
2. Stir in dried cherries and green onions.

Festive Party Roll-Ups

Preparation time: 30 minutes

- 12 ounces thinly sliced deli roast beef
- 1/2 cup dried tart cherries
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 carton (8 ounces) soft cream cheese
- cup prepared horseradish
- 4 large flour tortillas (about 10 inches)
- 2 cups fresh spinach leaves (about 20 leaves)

1. In small microwave-safe bowl, combine cherries and water; microwave on HIGH 1 minute. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes or until cherries are softened and water is absorbed.
2. Combine cream cheese and horseradish, mixing well. Spread cheese mixture evenly over one side of each tortilla; top each with an equal amount of cherries. Arrange deli roast beef over cherries leaving 1/2-inch border around edges. Place spinach leaves over beef. Roll up tightly; wrap in plastic wrap. Refrigerate at least 30 minutes or up to 6 hours before serving.
3. To serve, cut each roll crosswise into 8 slices; arrange cut-side up on serving platter.

Makes 32 appetizers.

Helpful Holiday Hints

● Plan ahead. Allow 2 to 3 appetizers per person if you're serving them prior to a meal. If it's an "appetizer meal," plan about 6 appetizers per person.

● Be ready for the holidays. Make Horseradish Meatballs ahead and freeze. To freeze, cool meatballs slightly; wrap tightly in heavy-duty aluminum foil or place in freezer bags. Label and date; freeze at 0° or lower. Defrost them in the refrigerator the night before you plan to serve them. The Savory Cherry Sauce can be easily stirred together the day of serving.

Peppered Beef Tenderloin with Roasted Potatoes

Total preparation and cooking time: 1-3/4 hours

- 3 to 4 - pound well-trimmed beef tenderloin roast
- 2 pounds small new red potatoes
- 4 small onions, cut lengthwise into quarters
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper

SEASONING:

- 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
- 2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
- 1 tablespoon cracked mixed (black, white, green and pink) or black peppercorns

1. Heat oven to 425°. Combine seasoning ingredients; spread evenly onto surface of beef roast. Place roast on rack in shallow roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so bulb is centered in thickest part, not resting in fat. Do not add water or cover.

2. In large bowl, combine potatoes, onions and oil; season with salt and pepper. Toss to coat evenly. Arrange vegetables on rack around roast. Roast beef and vegetables in 425° oven 55 to 65 minutes until roast is medium-rare to medium doneness and vegetables are almost tender. Turn vegetables halfway through cooking time.

3. Meanwhile prepare Creamy Horseradish Sauce.

4. Remove roast when meat thermometer registers 140° for medium-rare, 155° for medium. Let stand 15 minutes. (Roast will continue to rise about 5° in temperature to reach 145° for medium-rare, 160° for medium.) While roast is standing, return vegetables to oven and continue cooking 8 to 10 minutes or until tender.

5. Carve roast into 1/4-inch thick slices; serve with vegetables and horseradish sauce.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Creamy Horseradish Sauce

Preparation time: 5 minutes

- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/3 cup milk
- 1/2 cup prepared horseradish
- 1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions

1. In small bowl, combine all ingredients; mix well to blend. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.

Makes 3 cups.

Cook's Tip: If using reduced-calorie or reduced-fat mayonnaise and light sour cream, increase milk to 2/3 cup. Leftover sauce can be used later as a sandwich topping, a tangy vegetable dip, seasoning for mashed potatoes or as a sauce with meatloaf.

Merry Cherry Dessert

Total preparation and cooking time: 20 minutes

Chilling time: 2 to 3 hours

- 1 cup ricotta cheese
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/4 cup coffee liqueur
- 1 can (21 ounces) cherry filling and topping

1-1/2 cups shortbread cookie crumbs (about 30 2-inch cookies)

Grated chocolate (optional)

Fresh mint leaves (optional)

1. In large bowl, combine cheese, sugar, sour cream and liqueur; mix well. Set aside.

2. Remove 6 cherries from cherry filling; reserve for garnish.

3. To assemble, spoon 2 tablespoons cheese mixture into each of six (8-ounce) parfait glasses. Add 2 tablespoons cookie crumbs to each glass; top each with 2 tablespoons cherry filling. Repeat layers. Finish each serving with equal portions of remaining cheese mixture.

4. Chill 2 to 3 hours before serving. Garnish with reserved cherries, grated chocolate and mint, if desired.

Makes 6 servings.

● Discover horseradish. Prepared horseradish is grated horseradish root, usually with vinegar added to stabilize the heat. It's most often found in the refrigerated section of the supermarket. Refrigerate it at home to retain the fresh flavor. Other forms of horseradish, such as cream-style horseradish or horseradish mustard, are found with the sauces and dressings.

● Toss together a fast party nibble. Dried tart cherries, toasted cashews or almonds and semisweet or white chocolate pieces make a delicious nibble for guests.

● Zip up the flavors of food. Stir prepared horseradish into favorite foods for a flavor boost. Make it a delicate hint of flavor or a more assertive one—depending on how much horseradish you add. Stir it into favorite dips and sauces, salad dressings and sandwich spreads.

● Treat guests to fun appetizers. Spread thin slices of deli roast beef with softened, flavored cream cheese; roll around pretzel rods or bread sticks. Serve immediately or refrigerate up to one hour.

LITERACY COUNCIL OF GARRETT COUNTY

6 N. Second Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550

Dear Garrett County Supporter:

The Literacy Council of Garrett County, Maryland is a volunteer organization committed to providing literacy services to adults. Through this free service we are committed to improving the community in Garrett County.

The Literacy Council of Garrett County is now faced with the possibility of limiting its services. The operating grant that has been used for program management has been eliminated. The council needs your financial support for continued operation now more than ever. Text books and other reading materials have been purchased and used quite regularly. However, our supply is growing smaller and with no funds we are unable to purchase additional, updated material.

It is hoped that the good people of Garrett County will help to support our organization. We work for the betterment of Garrett County by helping those who are functionally illiterate. Our goal is that those students who become literate will become regular patrons of our businesses and more productive, contributive members of our society as a whole. We would like to invite you to give to the Literacy Council of Garrett County. Your support will help provide dynamic services to a dynamic community.

Thank You For Your Time,

Luminary Display,
Caroling Slated
In Addison, Pa.

The Old Petersburg

Addison Historical Society, Inc. will display luminaries through the borough of Addison, Pa., on Tuesday, December 20, weather permitting.

Displayed as an annual event, the luminaries present a Colonial compliment to the modern Christmas decorations displayed by residents of Addison. The judging for residential light displays by the Addison Borough Council is scheduled for the same date.

Historical Society members will be caroling through the borough on December 20 as well. Anyone wishing to join in should meet at the Old Petersburg - Addison Tollhouse at 7 p.m. The public is welcome to participate in the event, and all are en- couraged to bring a flashlight and dress appropriately for the weather. In the event of weather conditions prohibiting the lighting of the luminaries, the event will be re-scheduled for Wednesday, December 21.

Math Conference Is Attended By GCC Educators

Seven mathematics educators and technicians from Garrett County attended the recent International Conference on Technology in College Mathematics held in Orlando, Fla. Hosted by Valencia Community College, the conference was sponsored by Addison Wesley Publishing Company.

Dr. Nancy J. Prisac, coordinator of mathematics at Garrett Community College and project director of a U.S. Department of Education grant that focuses on training mathematics instructors to integrate technology into their classrooms, was invited to bring the team to provide training on the Casio 7700GB graphing calculator used in algebra 2 and college algebra classrooms.

Members of the presentation team included Dr. Prisac; GGC; Janet Thomas, GGC; Garrett County Schools; Linda May-Green, GGC; Tim Foster, Frostburg State University; Terri Hockman, GGC; and Dr. Terri Norris, GGC.

The presentation team demonstrated the discovery/inquiry approach to using concept sheets with the Casio 7700GB graphing calculator to better understand the graphing of functions. The team facilitated group work in order to graph inequalities, absolute values, and polar coordinates.

The International Conference hosted participants from 40 nations. The Garrett audience included participants from the United States, Norway and Sweden. The narrator will be Martin Heise.

The Rev. Michael Robin son and all of the members of St. Mark's invite all to attend these services, as well as all other services held throughout the year.

Theft Report Under Sheriff Investigation

A breaking entering, and theft is currently under investigation by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

According to the report, the residence of Craig J. Marple Sr. on Route 560 south of King Wilderson Road was entered between November 10 and December 7.

A bedroom door was forced open and numerous items removed, including end tables, a video cassette recorder, a television, a microwave oven, a camera, an answering machine, and several guns. The stolen items were valued at $6,413, and damages to the door reached $600.

To have this assurance, one must accept what the Bible says and do what it requires for salvation. And you will probably be surprised at how easy and simple it is.

Are you ready to see what the Bible says? Then read on. In the matter of salvation and having assurance of Heaven, we must begin with God. There can be no understanding of or appreciation for the plan of salvation apart from God.

You Can Know You Are Going to Heaven

It is possible to know for sure that you are going to Heaven when you die. If you doubt that, then the burden of proof lies with you, and I urge you to read the rest of this article. The Bible says in 1 John 5:13, "These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life"

To have this assurance, one must accept what the Bible says and do what it requires for salvation. And you will probably be surprised at how easy and simple it is.

Are you ready to see what the Bible says? Then read on. In the matter of salvation and having assurance of Heaven, we must begin with God. There can be no understanding of or appreciation for the plan of salvation apart from God.

First, God Says All Are Sinners

Romans 3:23 says, "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God."

The words come short mean "to miss the mark." How far we miss the mark is not the important thing, but the fact that we have missed it. When I went to high school, your grade average had to be seventy to pass. If you averaged anything less, you had to repeat the grade. Suppose one student averaged sixty-five and another thirty-five. There is a thirty-point difference in their grade averages, yet both are in the same predicament. They are below the passing mark.

When God looks down on mankind He says in the words of Romans 3:22, "There is no difference." We may ask, "Lord, what do You mean, no difference? Some people live better than others."

And God explains in verse 23, "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God."

Suppose I hang a target on the wall and ask each person in the room to take a dart and do his best to hit the bull's eye. Some miss the bull's eye by an inch. Others miss it by a foot. Still others miss the whole target. Not one hits the bull's eye. When all the darts are thrown, I say, "There is no difference."

"Oh," says someone. "What do you mean—no difference? I only missed the bull's eye by an inch."

And I reply, "There is no difference because all came short of the bull's eye." When God looks down on mankind, He sees us all alike as sinners. No one has lived up to God's perfect standard. We have all come short. Some may have lived better than others. But no one has lived a perfect, sinless life.

First John 1:8 states, "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." And verse 10 says, "If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar"

God Says Sin Must Be Paid For

Romans 6:23 says, "The wages of sin is death." God has declared that sin must be paid for. And the payment is death.

This death is more than dying with a gunshot wound or with cancer. It is described in Revelation 20:14 as the second death: "And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death." If we pay what we owe as sinners, then we must die, go into Hell and stay there forever and ever. That's the price God demands for our sins.

The Bible does not say the wages of sin is joining the church. Joining every church in town would not pay what we owe. The Bible does not say the wages of sin is being baptized. We could be baptized by every denomination and church group in the world, but that would not pay our sin debt.

The Bible does not say the wages of sin is turning over a new leaf. Reformation is not salvation, and reforming would not pay our sin debt.

The wages of sin is not performing good works. One could work a thousand lifetimes and never earn Heaven.

The Bible plainly states, "The wages of sin is death." God demands one payment for sin, and that is eternal death in the lake of fire.

The only thing we can do to pay our debt is die, go into Hell and stay there forever.

Now that leaves us in a bad predicament, doesn't it? But there is a bright side to the story. So please continue reading. That is the payment He demands.

God Says That We Are Already Condemned

In John 3:18 we read, "He that believeth on him is not condemned; but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God." Some people have an idea

It is not the death of Jesus Christ on the cross—plus baptism. If I am trusting Christ—plus baptism—then I am not satisfied with the payment Jesus made for my sins.

To show that we are fully satisfied with the payment, we must cease trusting any and everything else and trust Jesus alone. We must cease trusting good works, no matter how good they may be. We must cease to trust church membership, no matter how good the church may be. We must cease trusting our good life, no matter how pure and noble. To trust anything for salvation other than Jesus and what He did at Calvary is to say to God, "I am not fully satisfied with the payment Your Son made for my sins. I feel I must add something else."

In order to show God that I am satisfied with the payment made, I trust Jesus Christ completely, Him alone, and nothing else. The Bible says in John 3:36, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life"

There is no promise in the Bible to those who partially believe on Christ. The promise is to those who believe. If I trust Jesus Christ ninety percent and something else ten percent, the ten percent destroys the ninety. The ten percent says I am not fully trusting Christ; and the Bible says in John 3:18, "He that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God." And John 3:36 warns, ". . . he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him."

Have you let God know that you are satisfied with the payment Jesus made for your sins by trusting Jesus and Him alone for salvation?

How Can an Infinitely Holy God Forgive Sin?

The answer is:

God forgives sin.

Sin must be paid for.

The word forgive means "to bear the burden."

If someone forgave me of a large debt, it means he bore the burden—that is, he became responsible for the debt himself.

In order for God to forgive the sinner, someone had to pay the debt, someone had to bear the burden. That is where Jesus comes in! God took every sin we have ever committed and will ever commit and laid those sins on Jesus two thousand years ago. Isaiah 53:6 says, "The Lord laid on him the iniquity of us all." And the Bible says in I Peter 2:24, "Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree"

Jesus Christ actually took all our sins—past, present and future—and bore them in His own body.

God looked down through the telescope of time and saw every sin we would ever commit, put those sins in one big package and laid them on Christ. That is the plain language of the Bible, "The Lord laid on him the iniquity of us all."

While Jesus was on the cross, bearing our sins in His own body, God punished Him in our place to pay the debt we owe, so that when we die we won't have to pay it.

That is the meaning of John 3:16 where the Bible says, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

What does He say? John 3:36, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life"

God says, if you are trusting Jesus Christ alone for salvation, then you have everlasting life. God says in John 3:18, "He that believeth on him is not condemned"

Here He promises that the one trusting Jesus Christ alone for salvation is no longer under the sentence of Hell. He is not condemned. He does not have to pay the sin debt since it has been paid for him.

What better assurance can one have than God's own Word? Hebrews 6:18 says it is impossible for God to lie, and Titus 1:2 says God cannot lie.

The worst sin is not trusting Jesus Christ as Saviour, and it is the only sin for which a person will go to Hell. Mark 16:16 says, "He that believeth not shall be damned."

This is how to know you are going to Heaven. Now will you trust Jesus Christ as your Saviour?

If you will trust Him as your Saviour and write to tell us so, we have a free book we want to send that will help you as you set out to live the Christian life. The book contains 19 chapters and deals with the most important things about the Christian life. After reading the book, you will want to share it with friends. To receive your free copy, simply fill out the decision form below and mail it to us.

We will also enroll you for a free subscription to our biweekly publication published especially to encourage and instruct believers.

Dear Sir:

I have read the message, "You Can Know You Are Going to Heaven." Realizing that I am a sinner and believing that Jesus Christ died for me, I here and now trust Him as my Saviour. I am totally depending on Him to take me to Heaven when I die.

Please send me the important book especially written for those who are believing on the Lord Jesus Christ, and enroll me for a free subscription to your biweekly publication.

William K. Heise and Vera A. Ingelhart Heise celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently at a dinner party at the Westview Restaurant in Fairfax,

Va., hosted by their daughter
Theresa and son-in-law

Donald E. Blake.

The Heise couple was married in 1944 by Royal Canadian Naval Chaplain,
the Most Rev. Father John Mattice in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. They have resided in Maryland since

one just waits for greatgrandma's cookies or stolen silver. This makes it very discouraging if the treasured recipe does not turn out. The cook is often to willing to accept blame: "I must have done something wrong," . . . well, maybe not.

Groceries in the market place may quietly change and we only become aware of it if the baked product is not as good as we expected.
In the recent past we have found sugar and margarine to create potential problems. Sugar generally is 100% cane sugar. However, there is a sugar blend on the market for less money, and in a similar bag. The sugar blend contains sugars other than those made from sugar cane. Dextrose, a corn derived sweetener, is added. This type has only 70% of the sweetening power of the sugar we are accustomed to and draws and holds moisture (hygroscopic) in the baked goods.
This sugar blend is not suitable for making jelly or for use in fudge or other moisture sensitive recipes.
If unsure, try the recipe once well before Christmas to forestall a problem.

Margarine has undergone many changes over the past years. Lower-fat spreads have become the product to use for vegetables, breads, and rolls. Instead of 80% fat, as in the case with butter and traditional margarine, the spreads may contain anywhere from 60% to 80% fat with the difference made up in the water and other ingredients. Lately the stock-margarines have quietly changed to spreads, but still come in the familiar four to one-pound stick form. Experienced cooks can readily see that this large difference in fat and water makes a difference with many traditional recipes. They may try to add more fat and reduce the moisture, but the proportions need to be figured carefully and, again, try the adjusted recipe before you readily need it.

Another question frequently called in to our office pertains to the use of sweetened, condensed milk and evaporated milk. These two products are not interchangeable. Sweetened, condensed milk is fresh,
whole milk with 60% of the water removed, but no sugar is added. Sweetened, condensed milk has thick consistency, will not get sugary when heated, and will not form ice crystals when frozen. It thickens without heat when combined with an acid such as lemon, orange, pineapple or apple juices.

How does one stay ahead of changes like these? By reading reliable nutrition information, by contacting the Cooperative Extension Service (301) 334 1990, and by reading food labels. For more nutrition information, contact Irmgard R. Koscielniak, 202 S. Third Street,
Oakland, MD 21550.

Man Sentenced

cuted by the court. The charges stemmed from incidents at Lakewood Resorts in McHenry between July 3, 1992 and September 3,
1993.

In a separate case, a pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Curtis L. De-Witt, Oakland, for two counts of breaking and entering.

DeWitt pleaded guilty to the charges and a plea agreement was filed. Two counts of misdemeanor theft were not prosecuted, and Judge Thayer continued bail pending sentencing.

DeWitt was indicted for the charges, which stemmed from June and July, 1992, incidents in the Oakland area.

In an appeal from District Court, Brian K. Blair, 34, Midland, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, and a plea agreement was filed.

Blair was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail, which was then suspended. He was also fined $500 plus court costs and placed on two years supervised probation. The judge ordered him to totally abstain from the use of alcohol and controlled dangerous substances except those prescribed by a physician and to undergo rehabilitation.

Blair was originally charged on May 8 on U.S.
Route 40 near the Green Lantern Road.

Maryland Ag Sec. Praised GATT Passage

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley praised the passage of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) by the U.S. Congress as having tremendous potential benefits for Maryland's agricultural industry and food products.

"At a time when we are marketing Maryland food commodities around the world, the GATT agreement will open many new markets for our food businesses. I see this has helped the economy and the people of our state," Riley said.

No USDA Office Closings In Del. Or Md.

No offices in Delaware or Maryland are included in the list of 1,274 office closings announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to Rural Economic and Community Development Acting Director Jack Walls.

"RECD, formerly the Farmers Home Administration, as well as other USDA agencies in the two states, have been streamlining our operations and saving tax dollars on a regular basis," Walls said. "For example, FmHA has closed six county offices in the two states over the last five years, the latest being in Seaford, Delaware last September. In each case, the farm and housing programs were

Over the past several years, the Maryland Department of Agriculture has helped many Maryland agricultural and food businesses break into the international market. Maryland agricultural products are now exported around the globe. Examples include Maryland wine to Canada and Japan, Maryland apples to Venezuela, Maryland Christmas trees to Puerto Rico and the Caribbean,

Who Gets What From The Fluid Milk Dollar?

The question is asked many times, "How much of what consumers pay for milk actually goes back to dairy farmers in the form of profit?"

This question can be answered, in part, by the farm-retail price spread. This indicator measures the difference between the farm value and the retail price of milk. It represents the amount of the consumer dollar that pays for the various marketing functions of bringing milk from the farm to the consumer.

Figure 1 represents a distribution of who got what of the retail dollar for fluid whole milk in 1992. The average retail price of a half gallon of whole milk in 1992 was about $1.39. Of this, 59.7 cents, or 42.9 percent, was received by dairy farmers for the raw milk used in this product.

Procurement and assembly functions added 5.8 cents. This included laboratory and on-farm available in other nearby FmHA offices.

"As reorganization continues and new Agriculture Service Centers are established, Walls said, "there may be a need for further adjustments. By moving toward one-stop service, we can increase efficiency, reduce government expenditures and make our services more convenient for our customers," he said.

Meeting Held By County Fair Stockholders

The stockholders of the Garrett County Fair held their annual meeting recently at the Bittinger fire hall. The meeting was conducted by Dale O. Glotfelty, president, and included discussion of fair business, financial reports, and election of directors.

Helen M. Bittinger, Dale O. Glotfelty, Donald Sealing and Lee Shillingburg were re-elected to serve another four-year term. Charles Mason Jr. was elected to complete the two-year term of the late Gerald H. Glotfelty.

The Broadford Gospel Quartet performed after the business meeting.

Next year's fair is scheduled for the week of August 13 through 19, 1995.

Pro-Farm - "Managing For Success" Seminars

Many of you probably read of the Pro-Farm Program in the November issue of the Pennsylvania Farmer magazine. I can honestly state that the approach on management education is the most effective method that I have been associated with since I have been an Agriculture Agent. I have been very involved in the development of the program since last summer. I was one of the five people from the University of Maryland that received training at Cornell University in the "How's" to teach management principles and practices in an effective, yet interesting, way. Our team worked many hours developing and organizing the program for Maryland.

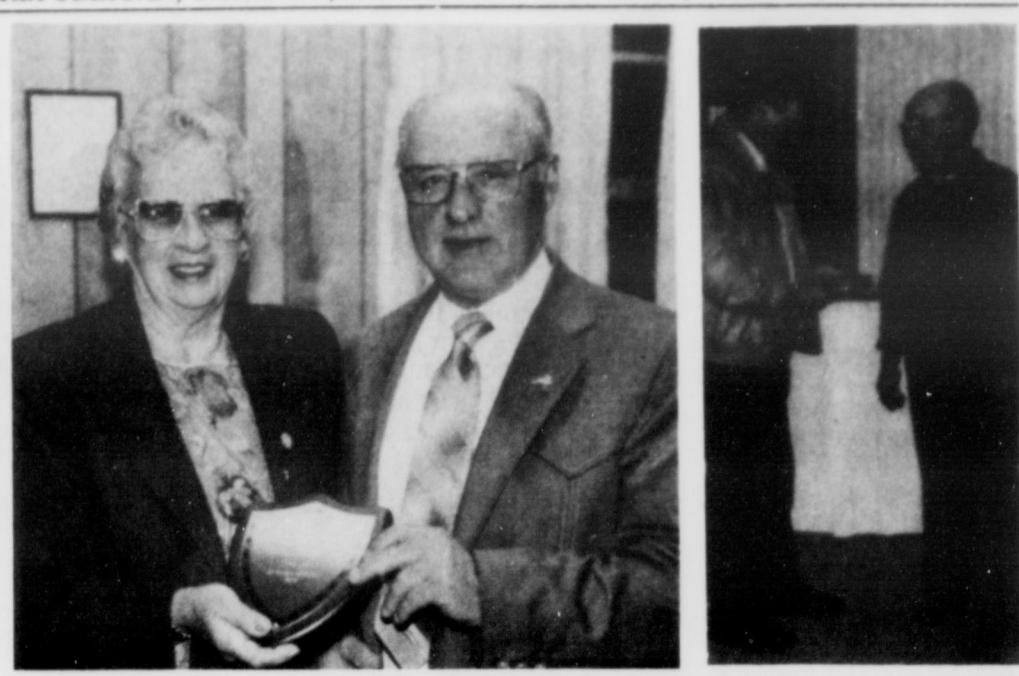

I will be conducting two sessions of the seminars in January and repeating again in February. Each seminar consists of three days over a three-week period. Those of you who are on my mailing list will be receiving a written invitation soon. If you are not on my mailing list, but interested in the program, contact me soon. Unfortunately, the size of each group is limited to 15 farm businesses involving around 30 people.

Tips For Keeping Poinsettias Pretty

The Christmas carol, "The Holly and The Ivy" may not mention poinsettias, but for most Americans these showy plants are an essential element of yuletide decoration. And now consumers can enjoy them longer than ever before, thanks to the introduction of new hybrid varieties. These new varieties include not only the traditional red, but also white, pink and marbled colors. Plants that are properly cared for will remain colorful up to 6-8 weeks. The following tips will help ensure a long-lasting decoration: 1) Keep poinsettias in a room with temperatures between 65 and 75 degrees and away from areas prone to drafts, such as near heat vents, doors or windows. This will prevent leaf and flower drop; 2) Place plants in an area with bright natural light, but avoid direct sunlight to prevent leaf yellowing and flower drop; 3) Check the soil moisture daily and water plants only when the potting media becomes dry.

Have You Inspected Your Animal's Manure Lately?

This bit of information doesn't quite seem appropriate in following the above information on poinsettias, but here it goes anyway. This year most of you harvested very good corn silage with a higher than usual amount of corn kernels. A good indicator of how the corn silage is being utilized by the animals is to inspect the manure. If you find an unusually high number of whole corn kernels passing through the animal, this may very well mean that the animal is not properly digesting the corn. In most instances, we can blame this situation on the bacteria in the rumen which tells you that you had better take a close look at your total feed ration. There are many factors that can cause poor digestibility, but the number one factor may be the protein in the ration. Remember the main food of the rumen bacteria is protein. If you're in this situation, take a look at the soluble protein vs. the undegradable protein. An abundance of soluble protein leads to a deficiency of undegradable protein. If the protein goes through the rumen too fast, the bacteria food supply is not adequate for a large population needed to digest the corn. If this problem exists, I would suggest you work with your nutritionist or come in and we'll take a look at the ration on the Spartan Ration Balancing Program.

TWO RECEIVE HONORARY DIRECTOR PLAQUES -- The Garrett County Fair Board of Directors recently presented Helen Glotfelty and Gary E. Fratz with honorary director plaques, in recognition of their many years of service to the fair. Mrs. Glotfelty, pictured above with Dale O. Glotfelty, president of the Garrett County Fair, received a plaque in memory of her late husband, Gerald H. Glotfelty, who died Sept. 10, after serving as a director since the fair's inception 37 years ago, as well as president and vice president of the organization. In the photo to the right, Fratz, left, also received his plaque from the fair's president, for serving as a director for 26 years.

Walnut Ridge Bed & Breakfast Bietschehof Farm

Christmas vacationers in Western Maryland have a new attraction to look forward to. The mountains of Garrett County have long been a peaceful get-away for many families longing to escape the rush and havoc of urban communities.

In the town of Grantsville, on I-68, is Walnut Ridge Bed and Breakfast run by Candy and Tim Fetterly and just beyond the town is Bietschehof Farm owned and operated by Jean and Bill Durst. These two enterprises have combined to offer a unique two night, one day package called "Create a Christmas Memory."

This package includes a night and breakfast at century-old Walnut Ridge and a day's activity at Bietschehof. Dinner, as well as gift and antique shopping are available within walking distance from Walnut Ridge, where guests return for the second night and another breakfast before departing.

Activities at the farm include hiking over forest trails, their lunch. At the old barn, exotic animals are available for petting and feeding and take-home Christmas crafts made as a permanent reminder of the visit. A hayride with Santa, who entertains with stories, is a highlight for those seeking a return to a simpler time. Pictures with Santa are taken on the spot by a friendly elf.

Finally, warm-up and enjoy caroling and refreshments in front of the huge stone fireplace in the farmhouse served by Mrs. Santa.

Both establishments are decorated in the country Christmas fashion to enhance the spirit of Christmas.

This package is designed for weekends, Friday evening through Sunday morning, but is available throughout the week. Plans are being made to revise the program after the holidays for winter, spring, summer and fall get-away packages.

Rates are $150 per couple, $75 per single, and $10 per child ages 4-10, all plus tax.

For more information and reservations, those interested may call Walnut Ridge Bed and Breakfast at 301-895-4054 or Bietschehof Farm at 301-895-3742.

Meet Garrett County's NEW TEACHERS

Harry Lewis is one of the new employees of the Garrett County Board of Education. He is assigned as a teacher in the special education department at Southern High School, where he is an instructor for the Continuum Personal Adjustment (CPA) program.

This position involves the coordination of curriculum to implement an individual educational program (IEP) for each student in cooperation with parents, other staff members and community agencies.

While most students in this program begin with a schedule consisting of a majority of special education courses, the goal is to return them to regular classrooms as quickly as their personal adjustment permits with the continued assistance and support of the staff.

Mrs. Barbara Steyer serves as the instructional assistant for Lewis' program.

A native of Pennsylvania, Lewis obtained his undergraduate degree in psychology and master's degree in special education from West Virginia University.

His practice teaching experience was completed at Bruceton Mills, W.Va., where he worked with students in grades one through three. He gained additional

CRELLIN NEWS

ADDRESS CHANGES

Address changes for rural areas of Garrett County are currently being implemented. The old rural route and box numbers are being eliminated, and all houses in rural areas are being assigned a house number and street name. The changes are part of the "Enhanced 911 Address System" and are designed to improve the 911 emergency response system by making it easier for emergency personnel to quickly identify locations.

The Oakland Post Office services the communities of Crellin, Deer Park, Loch Lynn Heights, Mountain Lake Park, and Red House, all of which share the 21550 Zip Code.

Distribution of the new addresses began in Crellin on November 29. Crellin residents are advised that they may use "Crellin, Maryland 21550" along with their new street address. Use of "Crellin" instead of "Oakland" is voluntary, but it is authorized by the postal system. John C. Davis, director of field operations for the Baltimore Field Division of the United States Postal Service, stated the following in a letter dated June 5, 1992 to the Crellin Centennial Committee: "Our Organizational Data Files have been altered to make it possible to use a Crellin, MD mailing address along with ZIP code 21550. It should be underscored that ZIP code 21550 must be used with the Crellin, MD mailing address to avoid delay."

A number of Crellin residents have been using "Crellin" instead of "Oakland" for over two years with no problems, for such items as Maryland driver's licenses, checks, printed stationery, subscriptions, and personal correspondence.

Oakland Postmaster Tom Twymon confirmed on Dec. 9 that Crellin residents may use "Crellin" instead of "Oakland" for their mailing address, as long as they continue using the 21550 ZIP code. The most effective way to implement the change is to use the postal system's change-of-address cards, filling in the new street address along with "Crellin, Maryland 21550."

The area affected by the option to use "Crellin" includes the section of Hutton Road (Route 39) from Ashby-Ellis Road to Gank Road, and the following streets in entirety: Ashby Cemetery Road, East Ashby-Ellis Road, West Ashby-Ellis Road, Charcoal Hill, Crellin Street, Crellin Mine Road, Crellin-Underwood Road, Dewey Roy Lane, Gank Road, John Dewart Lane, Kendall Drive, Kray Alley, Otterbein Street, Preston Lane, Shady Hill Drive, Snowy Creek Road, Stanley Lane, Stemple Road, Sunshine Lane, and Timber Lane.

The new street addresses with "Crellin, Maryland 21550" may be used for Maryland driver's licenses, voter's registration, checks, subscriptions, stationery, and correspondence.

Residents of the defined area are encouraged to use "Crellin, Maryland 21550" in their change-of-address notices to show pride in their community and put Crellin "back on the map!"

CRELLIN SCHOOL NEWS

During the Staff Development Day on Nov. 29, the school faculty took a walking tour of Crellin, guided by Pastor Michael Mudge, to learn more about

Fifth grade students scoring 100 percent on recent social studies tests were Michael Clemons and Jocelyn Wotring. Scoring 100 percent on science tests were students J.J. Bolyard, Erin Frantz, and Jocelyn Wotring.

The annual Christmas program will be held in the school cafeteria on Thursday, Dec. 15 at 1 p.m., and the program is open to the general public. Individual Christmas parties will be held in each classroom on Wednesday, Dec. 21 at 1:30 p.m. for students and their family members.

The new address for the school is Crellin School, 115 Kendall Drive, Crellin, MD 21550.

CYBERNETIC BUILDING

The Board of Directors of United Community Services, Inc., will again sponsor Christmas caroling in downtown Crellin. Participants are asked to gather at the Community Building before 7 p.m. on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 22. Refreshments and socializing will be held at the community building afterwards. All area residents are invited to participate. Crellin residents are asked to turn on their porch lights that evening to indicate that they are at home.

CHURCH CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS

In addition to the Christmas activities at Crellin School and the community Christmas caroling, all three churches of Crellin have activities planned.

Crellin Methodist Church has planned a Christmas program for Sunday evening, Dec. 18, at 7 p.m.

Crellin United Brethren Church will hold its program and party both at the Crellin School beginning at 6 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 18. In addition, the senior youth group of the congregation will perform a Christmas play on Wednesday, Dec. 21, at 7 p.m.

Crellin Assembly of God will sponsor a Christmas musical, "Noel, Jesus is Born," at 7 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 16, and Sunday, Dec. 18. The congregation will also have a Christmas dinner at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 28.

The public is invited to all of these Crellin church activities.

SRW Cablevision Expands Its Service Area

SRW Cablevision, serving areas to the north and west of Deep Creek Lake, has just completed activation of new facilities in the Paradise Point, Boy Scout Road and Penn Point areas of the lake.

We will soon be completing construction in the following areas of the lake:

Harvey's Peninsula
Steiding Church/Green Glade Road
Hickory Ridge sub-division

Chatterton Church School Road

Turkey Neck/Turkey Head

Pysell Cross-Cut through Sand Flat Road to Spring Glade Road

Hazelhurst/Pritts Roads

Route 135 to Swanton and Route 495 through Swanton

Weather permitting, cable services will be available in most areas by the Christmas holidays, or shortly thereafter. A final phase of construction will bring services to the Sky Valley, Thousand Acres areas early in 1995.

SRW is constructing a state-of-the-art communications system which has included the deployment of fiber optic cable for reliability and delivery of enhanced services.

Currently we offer 38 channels of entertainment, structured in two affordable tiers, as well as four premium services. In the future our wide area network will provide the residents of Deep Creek Lake with an effective and affordable on ramp to the information highway being developed, in conjunction with other network providers around this state and country.

Interested residents can call 1-800-443-9404 for more information on costs and services, or 387-5352 for progress on construction in their area.

the respiratory system, particularly during heavy physical activity.

"The MVA has worked hard to minimize the cost and to ensure that Marylanders get a fair test," noted O. James Lighthizer, secretary of Maryland's Department of Transportation.

The new VEIP will use improved test procedures and technology, appropriate for inspection of modern, computer-controlled vehicles. Each vehicle will be given a test "tailor-made" to its specific make, model and age.

Also new to the process is measurement of oxides of nitrogen in the exhaust stream, as well as inspection of the vehicle's evaporative fuel system to make sure that raw gasoline vapors are not escaping into the atmosphere.

"In selecting this new test equipment, the program achieved two goals," said W. Marshall Rickert, administrator of Maryland's Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA), an agency of the Maryland Department of Transportation (MDOT).

We will be using the most modern, contemporary technology available for today's vehicles," Rickert added. "And, it is also the least costly for the state's vehicle owners. In fact, Maryland's new VEIP test is the least costly ($17) of any similar program in any state in the nation."

Because air quality in the Baltimore and Washington, D.C. metropolitan areas does not meet federal health standards for ozone, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) requires the new VEIP in Maryland and 80 other metropolitan areas in 21 states and the District of Columbia.

"This new program provides an opportunity for each of us to help clean up the air we breathe," said David A.C. Carroll, Maryland's Secretary of Environment. "Part of the legacy we leave future generations of Marylanders must be a cleaner environment and healthier citizens."

"Over the next five years, the program will remove more pollution from Maryland's air than if we shut down every factory in the state," Carroll added.

Since 1984, Maryland's VEIP has tested tailpipe emissions from registered automobiles and light trucks in Baltimore City, plus Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Harford, Howard, Montgomery, and Prince George's counties.

Beginning in January 1995, the program will be extended into six new Maryland counties: Calvert, Cecil, Charles, Frederick, Queen Anne's, and Washington.

"The new VEIP is one of our most important, cost-effective strategies to help stop the widespread ozone pollution that plagues Maryland," Carroll said.

"Elderly people, young people, and the 600,000 Marylanders with respiratory problems are especially susceptible to ozone pollution," he said. "Ozone also reduces the lung capacity of healthy adults."

Ozone in the stratosphere protects the earth from harmful solar radiation, but ozone at ground level inflames and irritates

Mon., Director of MDE's Air and Radiation Management Administration.

To be certified, a repair facility must employ trained, certified repair technicians, maintain specific equipment and tools to make proper repairs, and pass an audit by MDE.

"Cerf's will play a critical role in the new program," Ms. Zaw-Mon said.

Motorists are not required to utilize certified Emissions Repair Facilities, but through participation in the CERF program, facilities may let motorists know that they possess the tools and skills needed to repair vehicles to pass the new VEIP test.

Introducing Tympanette, a hearing aid now available at Allegany Hearing & Speech Associates. This tiny device fits deeply inside your ear canal so that it is virtually invisible. No one will know that you are wearing a hearing aid!

The Tympanette is also extremely comfortable. AHSA's audiologists use state-of-the-art equipment to measure the ear canal and guarantee a perfect fit. The deep placement and customized fit significantly reduce the feedback and hollow sounds frequently associated with larger hearing aids. You'll forget that you're wearing a hearing aid!

AURORA/EGLON NEWSSANTA VISITS PLANNED

On Dec. 16, Santa Claus will be at the Aurora fire hall from 5:30 until 8:30 p.m. and there will be a candy treat for the kiddies, as well as free photos of children with Santa. Everyone is welcome.

The annual Mt. Lions Club treat will be given by Santa Claus on Saturday, Dec. 17, from 6-8 p.m. All are invited.

Sunday afternoon, Dec. 18, Santa will still be in the area, offering treats for the kiddies at the Silver Lake Restaurant. The time of his appearance is set for 3 p.m. It is sponsored by members of the Mt. Grove VFD and local businesses. There will be refreshments for everyone.

On Dec. 22, the Bethel United Methodist Church will present its Christmas program at 7:30 p.m.

The Amboy United Methodist Sunday school will present a program on Dec. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

A Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 7 p.m. and will include a candlelighting service.

Everyone is welcome at each of the above services.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Aurora Faculty Senate (AFS) had hoped to begin an after-school tutoring program, offering one-on-one help for students who are falling behind. The hours would be from 1:45-3 p.m., one or two days each week, and would consist of listening to reading, drilling in math facts and similar activities.

As there has been little community response, the AFS is again requesting your help. Interested persons should contact the school by Dec. 20.

UNION SENIORS

The Dec. 8 meeting of Union District Senior Citizens began with the Pledge of Allegiance. Sheridan Layman asked the blessing for the covered dish meal.

Deviations included the Christmas story from Luke, a poem, "Are You Ready For Christmas?", and a prayer by Mary Jane Hanline, and concluded with a Christmas reading by Gladys Snyder.

Thirty-one were present, plus Jeanne Estep, county R.N., who took blood pressure readings, and Betty Martin who distributed information about heat, cold, and getting cold.

The meeting closed with all praying The Lord's Prayer.

ST. PAUL'S CHRISTMAS

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church gathered at the church Sunday evening, Dec. 11, for a covered dish meal and to wear their new St. Paul's Christmas sweatshirts. There was a sharing of entertainment and carol singing, a gift exchange, and awarding of door prizes. The evening's activities were videotaped to be sent to the Buddy Fauber family in Okinawa.

dent, Morgan Fulk, has been in declining health, but despite the fact that he resides in a nursing home, had a great desire to go deer hunting. In order to achieve this purpose he was aided by his brother, Floyd Fulk, and by Ernest Schrock and some others who helped him get to a location where he was able to bag a deer this season. Mr. Fulk says he misses the many friends he had in the Preston and Garrett County areas. His address is Marion Health Care Hospital, 401 Gussey Street, Fairmont, WV 26554.

PERSONAL MENTION

Erie Simon of Geneva, Ohio was a guest last week of the Paul Teets family at Horse Shoe Run and his roommate, Kevin Teets. Both boys are students at Hiram College, Hiram.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

For their final meeting as Extension Homemakers, the Egton Homemakers met on December 6 for a Christmas celebration by making thread angel decorations and wooden sled ornaments. The Christmas devotions were led by Rebecca Teets and Lectie Bonner.

The agenda for 1995 was presented to each member and will begin with a January make-over lesson. President Mary Rembold will assume office and also responsibility for the January lesson. The club donated monies to Ronald McDonald House, to the Food for Preston program, and sent money for two Hospice Christmas lights, one in honor of Raymond Frantz and the other in memory of Norman Feather.

Linda Lewis guided the group through a Christmas game and through the construction of the angels. Mary Rembold and Sandra Hauser helped with the decorating of the Christmas sleds. The meeting concluded with shared refreshments brought by those attending.

Present were Ruth Teets, Rebecca Teets, Sandra Hauser, Mary Rembold, Jean Winters, Linda Lewis, Avenell Parsons, Lectie Bonner and Lillian Knotts and guests, Marissa Bachtel and Sara Lewis.

NETTIE HOME DESTROYED

The home of Danny Kim and Patrick Arnett on Lantz Ridge was completely destroyed in a blaze that began Monday evening, December 12, about 5 p.m. There were no occupants at home, but the fire is believed to have begun in the living room and the home was fully involved when fire departments from Aurora, Terra Alta, and Mt. Grove arrived on the scene. Only a few items from the basement, including the freezer and lawn tractor, were saved.

TO PRESENT PLAY

"Twas the Night Before" is the title of a play to be presented at the Brookside Church of the Brethren on Wednesday, December 21, at 7:30 p.m. Youth and children of the church will participate and the church extends a welcome to all who wish to attend.

Rogers Passes Maryland Bar

Anthony W. Rogers, Keyser, W.Va., successfully completed the Maryland State Bar examination administered in July 1994 by the Maryland State Board of Law Examiners.

Rogers has been employed by the Law Firm of Sullivan & Sullivan, P.A., since 1992 as a law clerk and plans to practice law with that firm.

Rogers attended Keyser High School, Potomac State College and West Virginia University. He earned his bachelor of science degree in economics at West Virginia University in 1982. He graduated from the University of Louisville School of Law and was presented his juris doctor degree this year.

White attending University of Louisville, he was a founding member of the University of Louisville Environmental Society and served as vice president in 1992-94. For the 1993-94 term, he was selected as a member of the Journal of Law and Education and worked as an intern for the State of Kentucky Department of Human Resources.

Additionally, Rogers served as the 1994 class representative on the University of Louisville Student Bar Association.

Rogers has been a musician and a songwriter since his childhood days in Keyser. He has worked in some of the most visible clubs on the east coast, such as The Martha Hollen of Mt. Grove was taken Sunday evening by ambulance to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she died. Funeral plans are incomplete at the time of this writing.

David and Cheryl Stemple and their daughter, Brittany, Aurora, spent Friday to Sunday on a trip to Stevensburg, where they visited with Cheryl's cousins, Jeff and Christine Rembold.

Jerry and Barbara Hauser of Egton were recent visitors in Virginia with their friends, Alan and Mary Teets at Springfield, and to attend the birthday dinner planned for Mrs. Teets. Also there for the occasion were Mrs. Teets' parents, Homer and Marquerite Myers, Aurora.

Visiting last weekend with Dee Kight at Silver Lake were Oran and Delores Harsh of Ohio and Vernon and Deloris Kight of North Carolina.

An early Christmas was celebrated Saturday at the home of Adriana and Pat Stemple, Aurora, with their family present for the day. Enjoying the dinner and activities were Dan and Elaine Stemple, John and Debbie Kimble, Tom and Shellie Martin and their families, also Frank and Wilda Stemple and Maxine Hauser.

Rogers is a current member of both the American Trial Lawyers Association and the American Bar Association. In September 1993, he attended seminars at West Virginia University in Morgantown on the subject of automobile accident litigation.

He is a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Keyser where he has been a member since childhood.

Rogers is the son of Maudsby William and Patricia Ann (Athey) Rogers, Keyser. He is engaged to Lisa Dawn Rayden of Brooklyn, New York. The couple plan on being married in March 1995 and settling in the local area.

Hospice Services Approved For PVH

Potomac Valley Hospital Home Care Services, Keyser, was recently approved to implement hospice services, according to a PVC Home Health spokesperson. This approval was a result of a two-day survey conducted by the West Virginia Department of Licensing and Certification.

Potomac Valley Home Health, Hospice of Potomac Valley Hospital, Inc., is licensed as a hospice care provider in the state of West Virginia, the spokesperson added. The agency will begin providing hospice care pending the completion of the volunteer training in January 1995.

For more information about the services, or to register for the hospice volunteer training class, persons may call Cathy Chapman, R.N., B.S.N., director of Home Care Services, at (304) 788-3141, or (301) 786-4396.

Glimpse of The Past ...

A UNION GATHERING? The owners of this photo say this is a group of Vindex coal miners who were possibly enroute to a meeting to organize a local union. The photo was taken in the 1930s along a main route through the town that later became "affectionately" known as Scab Row. The town of Vindex, once a booming community, is now gone. This photo, on loan by Roy and Marsha Kitzmiller Jr., is published here courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican. Mr. and Mrs. Kitzmiller have been able to identify a number of the people in the photo. Standing in front of the truck is Jude Dixon. Seated on the running board, from left, are: Jack Jenkins, Russell Walters, Leonard Warnick, Frank Cunningham, and Eddie Switzer. The next four (standing) are: Ben Shaffer, Lee Jenkins, John Michaels, and Martin Tichnell(?). In the

Scholarships Available To GC Students

Beverly Serpone, guidance counselor at Southern High School, is currently promoting several scholarships available to Garrett County high school students.

Applications for and additional information about these scholarships are available in the guidance offices of both county high schools, she stated.

The Society of Automotive Engineers is offering scholarships to juniors and seniors who want to major in engineering in college.

Any student seeking this scholarship must have at least a 3.5 GPA and include a 250 word essay with his or her application. Juniors may apply for one scholarship and seniors may apply for up to five scholarships by completing one application. All applications must be postmarked by Jan. 9, 1995.

The Maryland Artists Equity Foundation is offering a $3,000 scholarship to Maryland high school seniors. Applicants must have been accepted by a visual arts program at an accredited college, university, or professional-level art institution. Selection is based on artistic talent and skill.

The postmark deadline is Jan. 9, 1995.

The Maryland Higher Education Commission's Distinguished Scholars Program will award 350 scholarships valued at $3,000 each to Maryland high school juniors this year.

To apply, students must have an overall GPA of 3.7 in academic subjects and have taken the PSAT, SAT, or ACT by January, 1995. Applicants must also attend a Maryland college or university.

Applications are due in the school's guidance office by Feb. 15, 1995.

The National Future Farmers of America Organization offers scholarships for high school seniors who are also FFA members. These scholarships are given to help pay tuition costs of students entering two- and four-year degree programs.

Scholarship amounts vary, and the application deadline is Feb. 15, 1995.

"To also contribute locally is very commendable."

Home Providing Adoption Services In Garrett Co.

Burlington United Methodist Family Services, Inc., recently received a Maryland Child Placement license in order to provide adoption and birth parent counseling services to residents in Garrett, Allegany, and Washington counties. Therapeutic foster care services are provided in partnership with Garrett County Health Department under the direction of Johanna Younger, Mental Health director. These expanded services will be offered from the satellite office at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland.

Referrals for the therapeutic foster care program will be received from the Garrett County Health Department. The children referred to this program range in age from birth to 18 years and have emotional, behavioral, or physical disabilities. Burlington Family Services' licensed social workers will be responsible for interviewing, screening, and approving foster families and will conduct initial and ongoing training sessions for approved foster families. Their case management duties will include service planning, linkage with available community resources, and providing 24-hour crisis assistance when necessary. Burlington staff will also conduct case monitoring, assessment, and behavior management.

Project monitoring for these foster care services will be done by Ms. Younger, who will be the liaison between the Garrett County Health Department and Burlington's social workers.

Burlington United Methodist Family Services provides adoptive home study assessments, post-placement services, and post-legal adoptive services to adoptive and prospective adoptive families. Adoption services available include special needs, domestic, and international. Extensive counseling services are available to birth parents who wish to consider an adoption alternative for their child. Birth parents receive information regarding their legal rights, confidentiality, open adoption, and step-by-step information on the procedures involved in the adoption process. All services to birth parents are provided free of charge.

Families interested in additional information regarding foster parenting, adoption services, or birth parent counseling services should contact either of Burlington's offices serving Western Maryland. In Oakland persons may contact St. Paul's United Methodist Church, 318 East Oak Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550-1504; phone 301-334-1285. In Keyser, persons may contact Community Based Services, Route 4, Box 240B, Keyser, West Virginia 26726; phone 800-296-2379.

Burlington's adoption program is partially funded by County United Way.

NOTICE OF BID

Western Maryland Public Library is requesting bids for a library automation consultant to study the region's three county public library systems and the regional library, and make a recommendation on automation of the tri-county region's libraries. One library system, which includes the regional library, is automated with a CLSI (GEAC) system, the two other library systems have no automation. The recommendation could consist of, but not be limited to, a consortium of all three public library systems, a consortium of any two of the three systems, individual automation by each system, a consortium of multi-type libraries in one or more of the counties, or no automation at this time in any one of the systems not yet automated.

Any person having a claim against the decedent must present the claim to the undersigned personal representative or file it with the Register of Wills with a copy to the undersigned on or before the earlier of the following dates:

(1) Six months from the date of the decedent's death, except if the decedent died before October 1, 1992, nine months from the date of the decedent's death; or

(2) Two months after the personal representative mails or otherwise delivers to the creditor a copy of this published notice or other written notice, notifying the creditor that the claim will be barred unless the creditor presents the claims within two months from the mailing or other delivery of the notice. A claim not presented or filed on or before that date, or any extension provided by law, is unenforceable thereafter. Claim forms may be obtained from the Register of Wills.

State Revenue Estimates For Current Fiscal Year Increased

The Maryland Board of Revenue Estimates, consisting of State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein (chairman), State Treasurer Lucille Maurer, and State Budget Secretary Charles L. Benton, reported this week General Fund revenues to grow by 5.2% in fiscal year 1995 and 5.1% in fiscal year 1996.

Individual Income Tax

The individual income tax is Maryland's largest source of General Fund revenue. The board is revising the earlier estimate downward by $13.3 million, to $3,401,165,000 - not because of a failing economy, but rather because of its expectation that the state will receive lower capital gains tax revenue. A combination of the stock and bond market situation and the discussions about a new federal capital gains tax break are the principal reasons the board is reducing its earlier estimate.

"While revenue from employer withholding continues to grow as expected, we believe taxpayers will delay realizing capital gains until 1995 in order to take advantage of possible lower capital gains tax rates," the comptroller said.

The board projects fiscal year 1996 net individual income tax revenue to the state's General Fund to total $3,592,774,000.

Corporation Income Tax

The board is increasing its earlier estimate of fiscal year 1995 corporation income tax by $36.5 million, to $195.2 million. The change largely reflects increased corporate profits, which have advanced sharply over the past three years, due to increased productivity and healthy gains in sales.

The board projects fiscal year 1996 corporation income tax revenue to total $230,032,000.

Sales & Use Tax

"Maryland's second-largest source of General Fund revenue is the sales and use tax, where we have seen strong performance in all categories," Goldstein said. The board noted robust, healthy growth in the cellular telephone field, which became subject to tax in fiscal year 1993. Growth has been especially strong in housing and construction-related categories of collections, such as building materials, furniture and appliances.

"We are forecasting a solid Christmas season, with consumer confidence strong because the job picture has brightened," the comptroller said.

The board projects fiscal year 1996 net individual income tax revenue to the state's General Fund to total $3,592,774,000.

Corporate Income Tax

The board is increasing its earlier estimate of fiscal year 1995 corporation income tax by $36.5 million, to $195.2 million. The change largely reflects increased corporate profits, interest rates.

The changes made to all other revenues are minor and reflect the current collection trends and new economic assumptions.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Army National Guard Cpl. Edward A. Helbig has completed a U.S. Army primary leadership development course at Fort Indiantown Gap, Annville, Pa.

Students received training in supervisory skills, leadership principles, and small unit training techniques essential to a first-line supervisor in a technical or administrative environment.

Thank You

Once again the American Red Cross Tour of Homes was an outstanding community event. The homes were beautifully decorated and unfishishly opened to the public with all proceeds benefitting the Garrett County Chapter. The Tour of Homes committee and all participants deserve a special thanks for a job well done.

Special thanks to the home owners: Debra & Chris Crabtree, Mike & Becky O'Connell, Paul & Mylinda Zaneck, William & Barbara Pentz, Mary & Peter Bender, Carmel Cove Bed & Breakfast.

Special thanks to the following businesses for donating items to be raffled: Grandmother's House, JoAnn's Floral Boutique, Presentations, Certain Somethings, Flowers by Weber's.

Winners of the raffles were: Walt Livingood, Nancy Leary, Janis Hutchinson, Donna Aspinall and Michelle Bosley.

The community is very fortunate to have such a dedicated group of volunteers who each year at Christmas make us proud to be residents of Garrett County.

Non-Profit Group Hopes To Build GC Civic Center

The blueprints have been drawn, the construction site obtained, and the board of directors is almost complete. All planners need to do now is collect the $2.3 million that will be needed to build a proposed 20,000 square foot convention center at Deep Creek Lake.

Fred Warther of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival came before the Garrett County Board of Commissioners this week to provide an update on his group's progress on the project. Warther also came to ask the commissioners for a $150,000 contribution for construction costs.

Warther, a retired county businessman, stated that the proposed civic center would be a site for commercial exhibitions, performing arts events, and activities sponsored by area clubs and organizations.

"Every other county in Maryland has something like this," Warther told the commissioners.

Warther added that the proposed arts/exposition center, which has already been named The Showcase, would be operated as a non-profit corporation. The project, initiated by GLAF

Anderson Tells Commissioners Of Radio Woes

Garrett County Volunteer Fire and Rescue Association President Andy Anderson met with the county board of commissioners this week to inform them that the back-up radio communications system serving all of the county's fire and rescue companies has been "out of service" since the end of September.

Anderson assured the commissioners that the situation is "not an emergency type thing by any means." However, he admitted that the lack of a back-up radio system "could conceivably jeopardize alerting and alarm systems for the county."

Anderson blamed "equipment failure and obsolescence" for the county's radio problems. The radio transmitter at Hooppole Hill is 20 years old, he explained. Since repairing the old, low-band equipment would be difficult, Anderson hopes to replace the failed system with more modern high-band equipment. This high-band radio system would also be compatible with equipment used by the county department of emergency services, he added.

Anderson received initial price quotes for work on the back-up system in October, but the existing equipment is still out of service, he stated.

Anderson represents 18 member companies in the county fire and rescue association.

CHRISTMAS WILL BE BRIGHTER for over 300 area families, thanks to the efforts of the members of the Oakland Rotary and Oakl.-Mtn. Lake Park Lions clubs, as well as scores of other volunteers, who collected, compiled, and delivered to them tons of food, clothing, and gifts Saturday. It was the 14th year for the annual Rotary Christmas Project, which has grown substantially from serving just 10 families in its first year. Other local organizations represented in the effort included the local rescue squads, fire departments, sheriff's office, and various other organizations and businesses. Among those volunteers in the photo above are Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County Schools, left; Dr. William Fedde, local surgeon, center; and kneeling at right, Oakland attorney/accountant Craig Ingram, all of whom are members of the Oakland Rotary Club. Local Woman Killed In Auto Crash; Trucker Arrested For Manslaughter Excessive speed was reportedly a factor in two-vehicle accident on Friday that killed a local woman on U.S. Rt. 40, near the Pennsylvania state line.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry, Frances Alice Paugh, 42, Rt. 5, Oakland-Sang Run Road, Oakland, was pronounced dead at the scene after the 1983 American Eagle she was operating was struck by a 1989 White tractor-trailer operated by 44-year-old Pernell Parker, Chesapeake, Va.

State police said Paugh and Parker were both traveling west on Rt. 40 when Paugh attempted to make a left turn onto the Pig's Ear Road. As she was turning, Parker attempted to pass her vehicle, striking the Eagle broadside. Both vehicles continued to travel west on Rt. 40, when the tractor-trailer struck an embankment and overturned onto the Paugh vehicle.

Parker was flown by helicopter to Presbyterian Hospital, Pittsburgh, where he was reportedly treated and released. Following his

Delivery Of New Addresses Now Almost Complete

The delivery of new addresses to Garrett County residents, part of the county's ongoing effort to implement a new, enhanced-911 emergency telephone system, has almost been completed.

According to Jim Torrington of the county office of planning and zoning, approximately 80 percent of affected county residents have been notified of their new addresses. The remaining 20 percent will be contacted before the end of this year, he said.

"It is important for everyone receiving the address packet to complete the questionnaire that contains the new address, retain the yellow copy of the E-911 confidential questionnaire for the record, and return the white copy to the consultant in Orange, Va.," Torrington explained.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by one son, Michael Paugh, Oakland; one daughter, Anita Frances Paugh, Oakland; one brother, Tom Sheland, Union City.

She was employed as a waitress at Keyser's Ridge Auto/Truck Stop, and was an Avon representative. She attended Pine Grove Church of the Brethren.

State police are continuing their investigation into the accident.

Born Jan. 2, 1952, in Union City, Tenn., she was a daughter of Charles Henry and Patricia (Luker) Sheland, Union City.

She was employed as a waitress at Keyser's Ridge Auto/Truck Stop, and was an Avon representative. She attended Pine Grove Church of the Brethren.

LIVE NATIVITY - Staging a major historical event celebrated by millions of people throughout the world during the Christmas season were members of the Terra Alta Wesleyan and Faith United Methodist churches, as they gathered last weekend to perform a live nativity at the Wesleyan Church, located along Rt. 7, just west of Terra Alta. The nativity attracted the attention of many passersby during its two-night presentation, according to the church's pastor, Mark Smith. Pictured above, from left to right, seated and/or kneeling, are Jason Grose, shepherd; Donnie Miller, Wise Man; Marge Kelly, Mary; Junior Kelly, Joseph; and J.C. Schaefer Approves $2.5 Million For School Building

Governor William Donald Schaefer has approved $74 million in funding for school projects across Maryland, with $2.5 million granted to Garrett County. The monies will reportedly be used to construct the southern area elementary school, which will be a consolidation of the Red House and Loch Lynn elementary school populations.

The Garrett County Board of Education last week approved the purchase of a site for the new school, which will be built near Weber Road and Rt. 219. Construction should begin in the summer of 1995, with completion set for the fall of 1996.

The funding levels announced by the governor were reportedly based on the recommendations of the Inter-Agency Committee on School Construction. With Schaefer's approval, the allotments now face approval of the Board of Public Works.

The county will contribute approximately $1 million for the construction of the school, and Superintendent of Schools Jerome Ryscavage has stated that he and other board officials are currently attempting to secure approximately $250,000 more from the state for the project through an appeal concerning local building cost allowances.

The long-awaited, hard-won destruction of Oakland's deserted Bradley Manor housing development was initiated Tuesday with a ceremonial "first bite" of a bulldozer. Several town, county, and state officials were in attendance for the event, as were many local citizens. Oakland Mayor Asa McCain greeted the crowd of approximately 60 persons.

"Since I became mayor, I have worked toward this day," McCain said. "With the support of Jacqueline Rogers (the secretary of the Department of Housing and Community Development) and Governor Schaefer, we have come a long, long way."

McCain described the new development that will be built in the place of Bradley Manor by Devlin

First Wall Falls At Bradley Manor As Officials Look On

The long-awaited, hard-won destruction of Oakland's deserted Bradley Manor housing development was initiated Tuesday with a ceremonial "first bite" of a bulldozer. Several town, county, and state officials were in attendance for the event, as were many local citizens. Oakland Mayor Asa McCain greeted the crowd of approximately 60 persons.

"The new project will never look like this," vowed McCain as he gestured toward the overgrown weeds, broken pavement, and rundown units. "It will consist of 32 affordable housing units and 32 units for elderly persons similar to the Underwood South development. A community playground will also be built." The mayor said that 700 youth took part in the town's park programs every week this summer, which took place at the Community Action Office on Center Street. "This playground area will offer much more opportunity to the youth of this area. It is going to be a real asset to Oakland," he said. "And none of this would have happened without

Commissioners Approve Land, Mineral Deal

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners, after reviewing a proposed exchange of land rights between Savage Mountain, Inc., and the state of Maryland, have found the plan to be, "Wholly acceptable and very consistent with Garrett County's objective of encouraging private-public partnerships for the benefit of our local economy."

According to Tom Jones, director of the Garrett County Office of Economic Development, the exchange will grant mineral leasing rights for approximately 498 acres of the Steyer area near Gorman to Savage Mountain, Inc., a local coal company. This will enable the company to extend its underground mining operation, Jones explained.

In the transaction, the state of Maryland will receive 2,800 acres of mineral rights in the Avilton area that lie under surface land already owned by the state. The state will also receive all rights to 216 acres of land in Avilton's Mt. Hope tract.

MAKE-A-WISH YOUTH REALIZES DREAM -- The Oakland-Mtn. Lake Lions Club, in cooperation with the Make-A-Wish organization in Cumberland, recently helped satisfy the wish of a seriously ill Oakland area youth. The youngster was given the option of choosing a trip to Disney World, or having a playhouse built. He chose the playhouse, stating, "a playhouse would last a lot longer, and could be enjoyed later by my family." The playhouse was provided by Casselman Lumber and Make-A-Wish. Members of the Lions club made arrangements to ford a small stream and build a road to a location on the child's family farm, just south of Oakland. The Lions, along with Bellzel Excavating and Arnold Brothers, provided the materials, equipment and manpower to build the road and site preparation. At the request of his family, his name was not released, but he is pictured above, along with a workman from Casselman Lumber as he puts the finishing touches on the playhouse.

Sheriff's Office Logs DWI Arrests; Probes Thefts

Officers of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office logged various arrests this week, chiefly of persons accused of DWI (driving while intoxicated), and are currently investigating cases of theft and property destruction.

Christina M. Terrant, 19, Swanton, was charged with DWI on Dec. 16. She was stopped on Weber Road at 1:43 a.m. by Dep. C. Warnick, according to the report.

Larry B. Stemple, 32, Friendsville, was arrested for DWI on Dec. 17 at 12:45 a.m. He was stopped on Rt. 135 by Warnick. Stemple was also cited for driving with a revoked license, according to the report.

Timothy L. Friend, 36, Oakland, was charged with DWI on Dec. 17 at 10:14 p.m. on Oakland Drive. The arresting officer was Dep. M. Bittinger.

Bittinger arrested Darlene E. Lemley, 34, Oakland, approximately one half hour later on High Street. She was also charged with DWI.

A Morgantown, W.Va., man was arrested Tuesday on the strength of bench warrant. Thomas P. Staukas, 24, was accused of failing to appear in court.

The sheriff's office is currently investigating cases of theft and property destruction that have been reported in the past week.

window of a 1990 Ford Ranger was broken out some time during the night of Dec. 12. A CB radio and radar detector were stolen from the inside of the Ranger.

The damage to the window will cost an estimated $250 to repair, and the stolen items were worth $190, according to the report. The vehicle is owned by Lyndon Yoder. There are no suspects in the case.

Two road construction signs and stands were apparently stolen on the night of Dec. 13. Jim Swiger of the PDI Sheetz Company contacted the police to report the theft. "Shoulder Work" sign and a "Flagman" sign were both stolen.

The loss in this case has been set at $400.

Acts of vandalism were reported at two locations on the night of Dec. 15. Unknown persons apparently entered the property of the Kingdom Hall on Weber Road. Four vent covers were torn away from the building, two lights were struck with unknown objects, and other damages were done to the property. Slight vandalism at the Mountaintop Crisis Pregnancy Center was also reported to have occurred on that date.

Keep On Giving...

Christmas is truly the "giving time" of the year, and the organizations, businesses, and citizens of Garrett County are among the best givers, to be found anywhere. The Oakland Rotary Christmas Project was, once again, a glowing demonstration of what the real Christmas spirit should encompass, as over 300 local families were provided extra food and gifts to brighten their holidays. It is the purest form of giving because it is unconditional; there are no strings attached. Need is the only "requirement."

Scores of other similar efforts have taken place, are underway, or are forthcoming throughout the county, as churches and other organizations pitch in and reach out to their neighbors, for whom Christmas might otherwise be a terribly depressing time rather than a joyous one.

While such generosity makes the Christmas season so special, it would be still greater if that same attitude prevailed throughout the year. Granted, a major giving effort such as the Rotary Project would not be possible every month of the year. There simply would not be enough money and time available. Indeed, in order to be in a position to sponsor such a program at Christmas, the members of these organizations are busy throughout the other 11 months raising the funds to make it possible. They also contribute to many other worthy causes on a regular basis.

However, as individuals we can always do a better job of giving year-round, and the giving of material things is only one type of gift that we may be able to provide. Visiting and spending quality time with others is an excellent gift that everyone can provide, at no monetary cost whatsoever. Helping a neighbor with a problem or a project, free of charge, is another option. Becoming an active member of a "giving" organization usually costs little or nothing in terms of dollars. Simply providing a smile, a hug, and/or a kind word, as often as possible, can in many cases be one of the finest gifts one can give, again without one penny required.

Giving should certainly not be limited to a day or a few weeks out of the year. It's a long time between Christmases, and many needs exist every other day of the year. May we experience and demonstrate the Christmas spirit into, and all the way through, the new year.

To the Editor:

Last night, December 13, at 7 p.m., I attended a meeting at New Germany State Park involving a state advisory board and the two developers planning to build a hunting lodge/re-treat in Savage River State Forest in Avilton. This meeting was not intended for public participation, however, 30-40 local citizens attended anyway. You may or may not be aware of this project, so a nutshell, here it is:

The proposed lodge is to be located on a private 37-acre tract of land, which sits inside approximately 600 acres of Savage River State Forest in Avilton. Access to the 37 acres is available through a private right-of-way which crosses private land, a native trout stream known as Savage River, a major headwater stream, and finally across state ground. The access road is nothing more than an old logging road, and there is not a bridge across Savage River. The developers have been driving their four-wheel drive vehicles through the river to get across. How can they do this? If the State Department of Water Resources were to find a logger crossing the river in his log truck or an ATV crossing it, major fines and citations would be issued. Anyway, let's go on. The lodge will be privately owned on private ground—fine and dandy. The lodge will be used for a hunting retreat, an upper management business retreat, and training purposes for companies that can afford it. The price of building the lodge is $3.7 million.

Now let's talk about the 600 acres of state ground surrounding this lodge. The developers want the state to build hiking and biking trails on this state ground for their clients' use. That use being anything from deer and turkey hunting to nature walks. The developers will be charging a substantial fee for these privileges of hunting and hiking, all on your state game lands. Should the county or the state develop this 600 acres for private commercial use and for personal-private gain of the developers? I say absolutely NOT.

Garrett County game lands are just—that-state game lands, for citizens and taxpayers to use free of charge—not to be leased or loaned to developers.

I believe also it's safe to say it's not a good idea to mix that array of people on 600 acres. Bikers, hikers, bird watchers, and deer hunters all on the same trail could cause a major conflict. Even the developer said 600 acres was an extremely small tract of land. A very important question came up from a local taxpayer during this meeting: Why should taxpayers foot the bill for your hiking and biking trails on the state land? The developer's answer was, "You're only one out of 7 million in this state." Is he saying that a taxpayer's opinion doesn't matter—or that his tax dollar is worthless? He'd better think again.

Finally, does anyone know how long this lodge has been in the plans? Approximately three years. Has there been any public meeting on this? None. Will there be? Probably not. Why have our publicly elected county commissioners failed to bring this to our attention? Why the quiet meetings? But you can change that. Call or write your county commissioner, ask why all of this is happening without public opinion and input. Call and write the Department of Water Resources, the Department of the Environment, the Department of Natural Resources, the people who have been making decisions about your state game lands. Ask them why—ask for public hearings.

There are dozens of other concerns about this project, such as: head water stream crossing, 100 year flood plains, drainage and sediment control, the effect commercial hunting will have on state owned grounds, people wandering off the state owned ground onto private property, personal and state liability, and the lists goes on and on and varies from citizen to citizen.

A private lodge on private ground is private business, that's fine. But private business flowing onto state game lands for private gain is the citizens' business. So voice your opinion and stop it now—before the state land you hunt and camp on becomes off-limits—and your tax dollar goes to private development.

To the Editor:

Sour Grapes, Mr. Editor. I wonder how many of your readers missed what was left out of your article on the Board of Education meeting of December 13. Give us a break and just report the news, please. There are those who will be watching you, as well, and expecting fair and unbiased reporting of facts—not opinion.

And in defense of the majority of Garrett Countians who have made a "major mistake," I think that all any of us would expect from our local newspaper, is fair treatment. The results of future decisions made by newly elected officials can stand on their own merits.

Thank you,
Susan Riley
Oakland

Dear Ms. Riley,

I'm sure you know that an editorial is by its very description an opinion and is biased.

If you are referring to our news article about the meeting, I must ask you to tell us what we left out, and what was reported in an unfair or biased manner? And where was the opinion? (Unless you are referring to some of the quotes that were included in the story, which are certainly not necessarily the opinion of the writer.)

A recent check from the Friend's Book Endowment Fund to the library to purchase 21 books brings the total of books purchased through the Fund for the year to 50. The first check from the Fund was given to the library in January of 1988 for two books. The total number of volumes purchased to date is now 195. Some of the earliest endowments have resulted in the purchase of seven volumes from the interest on a $200 donation. This fund is a major benefit to the library and hopefully it will continue to grow.

I contacted same local people to find out what they are reading. The following list is the result:

Judge Ralph M. Burnett - Mountains of the Heart by Scott Weidensaul - "One of the most informed books about the history and development of the Appalachians that I have ever read."

David M. Martin - October, 1964 by David Halberstam - "A must read for any true baseball fan, especially New York Yankee fans."

Judy Devlin - The Unquiet Earth by Denise Giardina - "Good historical fiction dealing with Appalachian culture."

Jan Finkel - H, The Story of Heathcliff's Journey Back to Wuthering Heights by Lin Haire-Sargent - "Captures the flavor of Wuthering Heights very well."

Elaine McDonald - Copper Crown by Lane Von Herzen - "Just a beautiful book."

To the Editor:
Andy (maybe before another Christmas).

Andy loves with the deepest love that a human could love with, but the Lord Jesus loves us even more because He gave His all for each of us.

Yes, I believe Andy would have a message for all of us. I believe he would say, "Pappy Dennis and Grandma Betty, why aren't you telling my little cousins about Jesus, and tell them how they can get up to heaven, like you told me. Please, tell my sister and my brother about Jesus, so they can come and live with me."

"Andy was never selfish. He always wanted the best for everyone, and that is what Jesus wants to give to all of us, (the best), peace, happiness, and eternal life.

Jesus is the best gift I know I can offer for Andy's family and friends. Please don't deny yourself of the best this Christmas; accept Jesus and put a smile on Andy's face, rather than tears in his eyes. Then you, too, through spiritual eyes, will know what the song writer refers to when he says, You Ought To See Me Now, and I Wish You Were Here.

To the Editor:

May we pause and plan this special day with proper reflection and action. This Christmas Day 1994 comes on Sunday. If you ever plan to celebrate it properly take your children to church this Sunday and explain why we celebrate Christmas. Explain what the word means. Tell them the story of Jesus and why His birth enabled the later Easter celebration at which time He gave His life that all could have salvation. If you don't know the history, begin now and find the true reason for this Holy season. Best to all and may God's peace be with you!

To the Editor:

I read with great interest the letter of apology from the chief of the Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Company concerning the four and one-half to six hour tie-up on westbound US Interstate-68 near Finzel on Thanksgiving Eve.

When my vehicle was stopped due to the incident near Midlothian Road at approximately 10 p.m., I had not seen one state highway administration truck, or any state or local police responding to the scene.

Recently, I heard two songs, I Wish You Were Here and You Ought To See Me Now. I hope these are correct titles, but if not, this was the message left in my mind.

This is the second Christmas my little Andy, (my grandson) went to his ultimate home. I believe he is sending the message of these two songs back to all of his family and friends. Andy would say, "Mommy and Daddy, please come and see me. Please don't let no more tears fall from my eyes. You ought to really see what I have now, and you can someday have it, too. Jesus holds me every day and we go down by the river, and you should see the big fish I catch, and the streets are gold."

Yes, Andy would say this in just this excitement, without taking a breath, Andy would like to tell you that all of life's trials will be worth it, just to see one glimpse of Jesus. Please, family and friends, make your peace with Jesus this holiday season so you may

Should Be "Good King Wenceslas"

Smack dab in the center of Europe is a new country, two years old, that, in another sense, has existed for a millennium. The Czech Republic entered the list of nations when Czechoslovakia dissolved. In turn, the Czech Republic consists of Moravia (of which the Moravian Church is named) and Bohemia (from which the word if not the lifestyle "Bohemian" is derived). But what does that have to do with Christmas?

John Mason Neale wrote a carol about a king and saint of Bohemia who lived from 907 to 929. It is a fanciful carol which only a thread of history holds together. That thread, however, ties the birth of Christ to our own lives.

Good King Wenceslas look'd out

On the feast of Stephen,
When the snow lay round about,
Deep and crisp and even;
Brightly shone the moon that night,
Tho' the frost was cruel,
When a poor man came in sight,
Gath'ring winter fuel.

The feast of Stephen is December 26. It seemed fitting to early Christians as they suffered persecution that they should observe and celebrate in conjunction with Christmas the self-sacrifice of the church's first martyr. As J.M. Neale looked back on an idealized middle ages with his 19th century English eyes, the feast of Stephen was the day on which even the poorest folk should have had plenty.

The abundance of Christmas should have flowed into the next day and the days afterward. For the 12 days of Christmas, commencing on Christmas itself, were a time of feasting, games and leisurely celebration. That anyone should need to hunt a few sticks during the night -- let alone the nights following Christmas -- to warm his huts scandalized Neale.

Neale's weaving of his tale around Wenceslas the Holy was natural enough. Wenceslas lived briefly but well, seeking to rule his people in a gentle and civilized fashion, distinguished from the prevailing brutality. For a moment the violence he sought to stem silenced him.

As so often happens when the evil kill the good, the voice of Wenceslas swelled in death. He was soon revered as a saint. The pagans who had cheered his demise were defeated or converted by the dead king. His brother, who had arranged the murder of Wenceslas, either was moved or constrained to honor him. During the centuries that the empires of Europe absorbed the Czech lands, the "Crown of St. Wenceslas" symbolized Czech independence and freedom.

Wenceslas embodied a compassion when there was little of it to find. Neale attributed to the young king actions which were consistent with his character. Wenceslas saw a man gathering fallen branches during a cold winter's night, the day after Christmas, when the man should have been snug in his bed at home. Having ascertained more particular facts of the man's plight, he called his page to assist him in ministering to the man's needs.

Bring me flesh, and bring me wine,
Bring me pine-logs hither;
Thou and I will see him dine,
When we bear them thither.

The carol describes the hardships which king and page endured to take relief to the poor man. Then Neale held up Wenceslas as an example to his contemporaries, and to us.

Therefore, Christian Men, be sure,
Wealth or rank possessing,
Ye who now will bless the poor,
Shall yourselves find blessing.

The best Christmas traditions encourage us to do good things for those with nothing. Each year I find myself trying to figure what to give people who have everything. Wenceslas, dead a thousand years, lives as he stirs my conscience today.

And that new but age-old nation in the center of Europe, the Czech Republic, has a leader today who is Wenceslas-like. Vaclav Havel came to the presidency of his nation by writing plays and then going to prison for having written them. In 1989 he led the Velvet Revolution in which he and his colleagues almost literally talked communism out of business. For 44 years the superpowers and their satellites made a kind of peace by preparing for war. Havel made a kind of war by waging peace. Perhaps in a thousand years when legend has again outstripped history, Christians at Christmas will sing, "Good President Havel."

The pilgrim travels a road of time as well as place, a road paved with politics and culture as well as stone or tarmac. It begins in a Judean stable in the days of the Roman Empire, and wends its way through the medieval forests of Bohemia to our own 20th century American homes. Christ is born!

A GARRETT COUNTY CIVIC CENTER? - If planners manage to raise $2.3 million, the above building design may become a reality: a 20,000 square foot exposition and performing arts center serving Garrett County residents. Rabid Skunk Brings Total To Seventeen

The Garrett County Health Department has reported the 17th case of confirmed rabies in the county for 1994.

A skunk entered a property located along Garrett Road in the early hours of Dec. 16. The suspect animal climbed into a dog pen containing two dogs and the dogs killed the skunk. On Tuesday, Dec. 20, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene confirmed the animal to be rabid.

New students will also be offered the opportunity to have a student mentor during the spring semester. Mentors are second year students who serve as "buddies" during the first few weeks of each semester. The mentoring system is part of the new Welcome Team admissions process.

Course schedules for spring semester are now available at the Ruth Enlow Library and library branches and will be disseminated throughout Garrett County the first week of January.

Pet owners are once again reminded to check the vaccination status of their dogs and cats. Low cost clinics sponsored by the Health Department will not be held until spring so pet owners are urged to visit a local veterinarian if their pets are not currently vaccinated against rabies.

several months ago, is now under the direction of a board of Garrett residents.

In his request for funding, Warther asked that the commissioners contribute $30,000 per year for a total of five years toward the construction of the facility. Warther asserted that if the county government fails to support the project it will be difficult to obtain state funds to help pay the $2.3 million price tag for the facility.

"We have to show commitment up here that we're serious," Warther remarked. "It's Garrett County's turn in the state of Maryland to get something."

Commissioner John Braskey told Warther that the board of commissioners will consider his proposal during the county's budget writing process this winter. The requested funds might be drawn from revenue collected through the county's three percent accommodations tax, Braskey remarked. He added that the county from the business community about the proposed civic center.

The large building would feature a 2,448 square foot gallery and reception area, a 5,280 square foot theater, and a 6,400 square foot exhibit area. These three sections will be divided by folding walls, Warther explained, allowing groups using the facility to easily convert the three areas into one vast L-shaped room covering over 14,000 square feet.

Depending on the availability of funds, ground-breaking for the facility may take place as soon as 1997 with completion the following year.

Warther also asked the commissioners this week to nominate three members to the board of directors intended to manage the multi-purpose center. According to a written proposal given to the commissioners by Warther, "The make-up of the board is intended to represent all geographic, cultural, and social-economic areas of Garrett County."

The board already includes seven members, with representatives of the county chamber of commerce, the Greater Oakland and Deep Creek business associations, and the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival. Garrett County District Court Judge Ralph Burnett also sits on the board as a spokesperson for the county office of economic development.

Memorial Created For French Educator Jean-Claude Maunier

Garrett County was visited in April 1993 by 18 French educators who were on an exchange to study special education programs in the United States. The group was hosted by Garrett County teacher Jeanne Whitehair, who had visited schools in France the previous summer. Mrs. Whitehair, under the direction of Al Coviello and with the assistance of Lowell Leitzel, made arrangements for the group to visit schools and programs in Garrett and Allegheny counties of Maryland, and Preston County, W.Va.

The French delegation consisted of directors of programs for persons with disabilities, principals of residential programs, special education teachers, a psychiatrist, and a psychologist. One of the participants and the originator of the exchange was Jean-Claude Maunier, principal of a special education program at St. Amand, France. Unfortunately, shortly after his return to France, Maunier was diagnosed with a serious cancer. After undergoing extensive therapy, Maunier died in December 1993, just months after this trip to the U.S. He is survived by his mother, his wife Bernadette, and a daughter, Sophie.

"During the exchange, Maunier had such enthusiasm for everything he saw and was directly involved with faculty and students on every visit," said Mrs. Whitehair. "He made an effort to learn all he could and shared his knowledge. His love for his students, faculty and school was obvious to all who met him. Mr. Maunier was constantly getting new ideas and wanting truly innovative programs at his school. He was a dedicated teacher and an inspiration to his staff and students. Mr. Maunier was loved by all who knew him."

A memorial has been created for Mr. Maunier and schools, teachers, and interested persons were invited to send donations in his name. A plaque was designed to be given to his school. It reads, "In memory of Jean-Claude Maunier, from his American friends." Money collected will be sent to the school at St. Amand to purchase educational materials.

MEMORIAL PLAQUE FOR MAUNIER - A memorial plaque and monetary donations have been given in memory of a French educator who spent time in Garrett County last year. Jean-Claude Maunier, principal of a special education program in St. Amand, France, coordinated the trip to this area with a group of 17 other French educators. Jeanne Whitehair, a local teacher, hosted the group under the direction of Al Coviello, assistant superintendent of curriculum, and with the assistance of Lowell Leitzel, local French teacher. Maunier was diagnosed with cancer shortly after his return to France and died of the disease last December. See story. IN MEMORY OF

Mom and Dad are spending Christmas in Heaven this year, no presents for us on tree, but the season's not the same any more for they're not with us see.

But we wouldn't want to call them back even if that could be so for this old world, such a shabby place, to the one where they've gone you know.

We have wars, and trouble and darkness of days, just like they knew before and it isn't fair to want them back to go through it once more.

So angels who sang on Judea's hill on that night when our savior was born tell them we miss them on every hand especially on Christmas Morn.

Tell them their memory in our hearts still shines as a beacon to lead us on and their children all hope to come some day to that place where they have gone.

Loved and sadly missed by,

Jean, Wilma, Opal and Families

Where Will You Be?

Where will YOU be on Christmas day?

It falls on a Sunday this year they say.

Will you lie in bed, a day of rest;

Or be with God's people, praising the King with zest?

Have you more important things to do?

Opening packages, preparing Christmas dinner, too?

Or will you come and bring the one true gift?

That which God most desires - His Son's name to lift?

After all, what's the most important thing:

A wonderful celebration, or to honor the King?

Let's all remember who should really be our focus;

Not parties, nor gifts - that stuff's all hocus pocus.

It's not the "Christmas Spirit" God wants us to have; But His own dear Son, the soul's one true salve.

We know that Christ is the One Living Way;

So let's give Him Christmas - after all it's His day.

Come join with us, on next Sunday morn;

We'll gather at His feet, and rejoice He was born!

We'll sing songs of His birth, and songs of His love;

We'll praise God for sending Him from heaven above,

The doors will be open, the rooms nice and warm;

No matter if sun, rain, or gathering storm;

He'll be here too, His promise the same;

He'll be where two or three, gather in HIS name!

Oakland Man Convicted In District Court Of Assault, Violating Exparte

Among the numerous cases heard last week in Garrett County District Court by Garrett County District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett, and Allegany District Court Judge W. Timothy Finan, was one involving the sentencing of an Oakland man convicted of four counts of violating an exparte order, and two counts of assault (which were originally filed as two counts of battery).

Thomas F. Koton, 43, found guilty of those charges, was sentenced to a total of 360 days in jail. He was awarded 147 days' credit for time already served, and was placed on two years of supervised probation upon his release. Additional charges of negligent and reckless driving brought not guilty verdicts for the defendant.

A protection order had been filed against Koton on July 18 after he started a fight with his son, striking him in the back and ribs with a aluminum baseball bat. The defendant reportedly violated that order on July 19 by returning to his family's home, and again on July 30 by calling his daughter on the phone and using foul language.

On Aug. 11, Koton again violated the protection order by following his wife to her place of employment, where he drove around the parking lot, and then left.

On Aug. 12 he followed his wife to her sister's home.

He reportedly sped his vehicle towards hers, causing her to run off the road.

In other district court news Christopher A. Glotfely, 21, Oakland, was found to be in violation of probation from an earlier theft conviction.

Judge Finan revoked Glotfely's probation, and reimposed his original 60-day sentence, which will be served on weekends.

Glotfely was found guilty of the January-February 1993 theft of coins from area vending machines after he was determined to be the driver of the vehicle used in the thefts.

Russell V. Leighton, 61, Oakland, pleaded not guilty to violating a protection order issued against him, but was found guilty by Judge Burnett. He was fined $150 for the offense.

Leighton was arrested on June 10 after Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a domestic dispute between the defendant and his wife, Mary E. Leighton. He reportedly refused to leave the residence when told to do so, and told the deputies they would have to "take him to jail to get him out."

Ernest Lamastus, no age given, Oakland, was found not guilty of one count of battery and one count of harassment in last week's district court proceedings.

Charges had been filed against him by Curtis DeWitt, Oakland, after the two were involved in a July 4 alteration.

Donna L. DeWitt, 28, Oakland, pleaded guilty to one count of malicious destruction of property in Judge Burnett's court. She was sentenced to one year in jail, with all of the sentence suspended except 90 days; fined a total of $1,056.18 (which included $956.18 restitution to State Farm Insurance Co.), and was placed on two years of supervised probation for the offense.

DeWitt had been charged after an April 13 incident in the parking lot at Southern High School. She reportedly scratched the paint and wrote profanities on a 1989 Ford Tempo, belonging to Cynthia Sanders, with a sharp instrument. The initial estimate of damage to the vehicle was $1,500.

James W. Savage, 28, Friendsville, pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty of one count of battery by Judge Finan. He was handed a six-month suspended sentence, fined $250, and placed on three years of supervised probation. Con-

HOUSE OF HOPE RECEIVES DONATION -- The proceeds from a recent quilt giveaway, sponsored by Southern High School's VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) organization, allowed that group of students to present a check to the House of Hope for its holiday assistance to area persons needing food, shelter or other necessities. ditions of his probation state he must have no contact with Vicki McRobie, also of Friendsville.

The charge against Savage, filed by McRobie, came after a Nov. 23 incident in which the victim claimed he came to her home, threw her down in the kitchen, and choked her.

Brian King, 22, Oakland, was convicted of two counts of battery in last week's court proceedings. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail (with all of the sentence suspended), ordered to pay $1,212.33 restitution to Shannon Leroy Lee, Swanton, and placed on 12 months of supervised probation. For an additional charge of harassment, King was found not guilty.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered by Judge Finan after charges had been filed by Lee in July 1993. King had entered not guilty pleas on all charges against him.

Sentencing for David L.

Kitzmiller, 33, Swanton, was deferred until Jan. 10, 1995, after his conviction last week for possession of CDS (controlled dangerous substance) paraphernalia, DWI (driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs), violation of a license restriction, consuming alcohol while driving, and not wearing a seatbelt. He was found not guilty on an additional charge of improper parking.

The charges against Kitzmiller occurred after he was stopped for a traffic violation, May 18, by Garrett County sheriff's deputies, who subsequently found him to be in possession of the CDS paraphernalia.

Battery charges against Sybil J. Warnick, 36, and Richard E. Warnick Sr., 37, both of Oakland, and a charge of malicious destruction of property against David H. Upole Sr., 39, Oakland, were not prosecuted at the request of the complainant, Debra E. Upole, also of Oakland.

DWI CASES

Several DWI cases were heard in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings.

During a sentencing hearing, Johnny Jason Thomas, 33, Md., was placed on two years of supervised probation on his guilty verdict for DUI and theft. His arrest by sheriff's deputies was on May 21.

Gerald Allen Coddington, 24, Md., had a DWI out Secretary Rogers."

Rogers was present for the event as well, and upon arriving at the sight commented, "I can't think of a more satisfying thing to do today."

The actual destruction of the dilapidated housing development has come after years of effort from McCain and the Oakland Town Council. The flat-roofed units were brought to the county in 1970 by an out-of-county businessman, and were occupied until 1985, when construction defects and other problems led to the condemning of the entire development. Because of legal difficulties with the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), as well as with the Oakland Associates (a group of businessmen from Baltimore who owned part of the development) the Oakland council has struggled through battles in bankruptcy court for years.

"When I joined Governor Schaefer in 1987," Rogers said, "I was told at that time that Bradley Manor was the single worst housing fiasco Garrett County had ever seen."

AND THE WINNERS ARE... The winners of a coloring contest sponsored by The Republican were announced this week and are pictured above with their winning entries. Gift certificates of $30 for first place and $25 for second place winners were provided by The Toy Chest and Oakland V&S Variety. Competition, which was described by the judges as "very tight," was held in three age groups: 2-4, 5-7, and 8-10. Pictured left to right, front row, are: Jenna Sisler, Aurora, W.Va., first place, 5-7 division; Crystal Burgess, Aurora, second place, 2-4 division; and Brittany Morgan, Oakland, first place, 2-4. In the second row, same order, are: Carol Peck, representing Oakland V&S Variety; Autumn Alexander, Mt. Lake Park, second place, 5-7; Lauren Roth, Aurora, second place, 8-10; Kari Harsh, Egion, W.Va., first place, 8-10; and Becky Friend, representing The Toy Chest. There were 67 entries in the contest.

"This development is an example of essentially everything I see wrong with Big Brother government," she continued. "An out-of-county builder bringing in inadequately constructed buildings, placing them on a flood plain, and then not maintaining proper management of the development... you end up not with a team effort."

Rogers told the assembled group that the town of Oakland will receive a $4 million construction and development package, which will be supplemented with tax credits.

"It's wonderful to have a mayor who always reaches for the stars," Rogers said of McCain. Approximately a half million dollars will be provided as a grant for McCain to continue his "grand scheme" for a walking park. The plan is to eventually connect the new development with downtown Oakland.

Rogers then presented McCain with a Governor's Citation in recognition of his "outstanding service as mayor."

Upon receiving the citation, McCain said the project is the result of a "total team effort."

After the destruction of the current development, which should be concluded in the next few months, Devlin, Inc., will build the new development. The units will be managed by Garrettland, Inc., another local business.

Other officials present for the ceremony included Delegate George Edwards, Senator John Hafer, Garrett County Commissioners John Brasky, Wayne Wilt, and Roger Glotfelter; Community Action Director Duane Yoder, Contractor Richard Devlin, and Oakland town council members.

Rams Defeat Mount Savage Before Being Flattened By Sloan, Wildcats

The Southern High varsity boys were led to a 71-58 win over host Mount Savage Friday night by Joe Tuomisto, who netted 24 points; however, it was a 45-point performance by Westmar's Mac Sloan in Oakland that powered the undefeated Wildcats to an 85-47 hammering of the Rams Tuesday night and dropped their record to 2-3.

Tuomisto scored 14 of his points on 15 shots from the free throw line Friday night against Mt. Savage (1-2), as the Rams took the lead early in the contest and never relinquished it. They were up 17-10 at the end of the first quarter, 37-26 at halftime, and 56-35 going into the final period.

The contest featured numerous fouls, with Southern converting 29 of 39 opportunities at the line. The Indians were out-gunned by only one basket from the Southern junior varsity was also successful in the preliminary game, rolling over the Savage jayvees, 55-29. Matt Ruff led the Rams with 19 points and Aaron Newcomb scored 10. Mark Miller paced the Indians with 10 points.

The young Southern team was completely outmatched Tuesday night, as the 5-0 Wildcats jumped out to a 22-6 advantage by the end of the first period, stretched their advantage to 46-15 by halftime, and led 58-30 after three quarters.

Sloan's 45 points matched his present season average of 45 per game, as he continues to be the area's scoring leader by a wide margin. His team is averaging just under 90 points per outing.

Sloan finished with 16 buckets, including five from three-point range, and was eight-for-nine at the foul line.

Sean McKenzie also reached double figures for the Wildcats, as he finished with 19 points.

HIGH MOUNTAIN SPORTS RENTALS, specializing in ski and snowboard rentals, will open this week in a new building at the intersection of U.S. Rt. 219 and Sang Run Road near the Wisp Ski Area, according to High Mountain Sports owners Brian Glotfelty and Steve Green. The new facility will also carry accessory lines, including goggles, hats, gloves, and other winter wear. "We wanted to find a location that better suited the needs of our clientele, not to mention us, and we believe we found what we were looking for at the new Citgo building," Glotfelty said. "If we can't be on the slopes, we want to be as close as we can get." Greg Rouse, an experienced ski instructor, will manage the new store, which will be open seven days a week. Hours will be 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday and Monday. "From the beginning snowboarder to the advanced skier, we'll have what they need for a day, or even a week, on the slopes," Rouse said. High Mountain Sports primary location is along U.S. Rt. 219 at Traders Landing about one-half mile south of the Rt. 219 bridge.

ing effort were Jason Switzer and Jim Pampeinto, who each hit 10 points.

The Ram junior varsity team was edged in the preliminary game, 30-29. Ruff led Southern in scoring with 13 points, while Alex Kinnie paced Westmar with 12 points.

Sloan's 45 points matched his present season average of 45 per game, as he continues to be the area's scoring leader by a wide margin. His team is averaging just under 90 points per outing.

Sloan finished with 16 buckets, including five from three-point range, and was eight-for-nine at the foul line.

Sean McKenzie also reached double figures for the Wildcats, as he finished with 19 points.

Huskies Edged By Panthers; Record Is 1-2

The Northern High varsity boys' let a nine-point lead at the end of the third period slip away in the final quarter Friday night at Hancock, which led to a 64-61 victory by the Panthers. The defeat dropped Coach Mike Friend's squad's mark to 1-2 on the season, a record the Huskies will attempt to improve next Tuesday in an opening round of the annual Southern High School Snowball Classic.

The Panthers won Friday's game at the foul line, from which they converted 20 of 42 attempts, compared to a seven-for-14 effort by the Huskies. Northern out-gunned the home team from the field by a 26-22 margin and dominated the rebounding game, 50-21, but three starting Huskies fouled out of the contest.

The Huskies held a three-point advantage, 11-8, at the end of the first quarter, the score was even at 22 apiece at halftime, and Ben Hovatter scored a game-high 25 points, including 13 at the free-throw line, and led four Panthers in double figures. Jeremy Swain finished with 13 points, while Scott Keefer and Chris Harvey each scored 10. It was the second win in four starts for the Panthers.

Brennan scored 17 points to lead the Huskies in scoring, Winters added 16 points, grabbed 25 rebounds, and blocked a pair of shots, and Hinebaugh recorded 11 points and nine rebounds. Nick Mitchell was credited with seven assists and Chris Elliott, five.

The Northern junior varsity team was victorious in the preliminary game, edging the Hancock Jaycees, 45-44.

Large Harvest Of Deer Noted By Dr. Brown

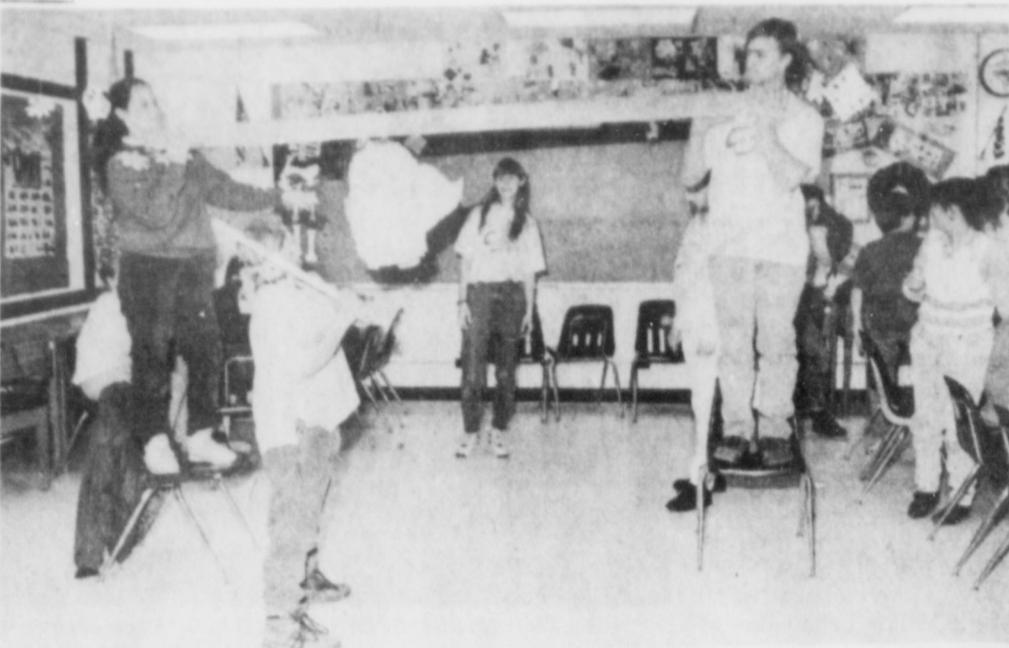

Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary Torrey C. Brown, M.D., announced this week the preliminary results of Maryland's recent two-week deer firearms hunting season. The checking stations have reported a total of 31,513 deer killed during the season, which concluded this past Saturday.

Brown said that the preliminary kill number is subject to revision once the possession tags for all three deer seasons are collected and analyzed.

The number of deer killed during the firearms season last year totaled 34,251, with the lower figure this year attributed in part to new regulations related to the harvesting of antlerless deer in Western Maryland. In order to stabilize the deer population in Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, and Carroll counties, the number of days for antlerless deer hunting were reduced and, as a result, the overall kill was down 14% in this region.

In the rest of the state the harvest was slightly lower than last year's. Weather conditions during the season were generally favorable, except for the cold rain of the last Saturday, which seemed to have a negative effect on the harvest for that day.

Garrett County's unofficial kill totaled 1,944, down some 20 percent from last year's total of 2,415. Allegany's total was 2,340, compared to 2,206 for last year, while Washington County reported a total of 2,187, compared to 2,413 for last season. Frederick County's tally for this season was 2,153, down exactly 400 from last year.

MEMBERS OF NORTHERN HIGH SCHOOL'S Student Service Alliance Class hosted its annual Christmas party, Dec. 16, for Northern Middle School's Level 4 students. The middle school students were entertained with games, crafts, singing, and refreshments. The final activity of the afternoon was the breaking of an angel-shaped piñata filled with candy. The class's instructor is Barbara Law.

Dr. Brown said that deer hunting continues to be "a vital aspect" of Maryland's white-tailed deer management program, helping to keep deer populations within the bounds of both biological and cultural carrying capacity. "The deer firearms season provides almost one-half a million days of wholesome outdoor recreation for the state's 100,000 gun hunters, while contributing some 100 million dollars in total economic activity," Dr. Brown said.

This year hunters were allowed to check deer in counties adjacent to the county where the deer was taken. This will most likely result in changes in the county totals when the final results of the archery, muzzleloader, and firearms seasons are calculated later this winter.

"Our Wildlife Division's management of the deer population continues to provide outstanding recreational opportunities for hunters, while maintaining a healthy deer population," Dr. Brown said.

Vandalism Reported To Oakland Police

Oakland City Police are currently investigating the report of a vandalism at the Oakland Cemetery.

Two headstones at the cemetery were broken, and eight more were knocked over, according to a complaint filed by Bud Lewis, caretaker.

All of the headstones dated back to the 1800s, police said. One was possibly run over by a Subaru, according to the report, because a Subaru mudflap was found near one of the stones.

THEFT

Police report there are no leads in a theft that occurred Dec. 11 at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland.

The theft of several billfolds and cash from purses belonging to choir members at St. Mark's were stolen during the worship service, according to a report filed by Officer C. Feller.

The victims include Nancy Leary and Hannah W. Sincell, both of Mt. Lake Park, and Dawn C. Scheffel and Helen C. Ferrell, both of Oakland.

The case is still under investigation.

instructions for Saturday's delivery from Broad Ford Elementary School were Dave Moe, left, a member of the Oakland Rotary Club, and Rev. Michael Robinson, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, who was assisting as a citizen volunteer.

ber; Herb Lambert, Oakland Rotarian; and Art Lake, Lion. The Oakland Rotary Club spent approximately $3,000 of its treasury to purchase food and gifts; however, a considerable amount of food, clothing, and toys was donated by various local businesses or sold to the club at cost.

TRUCKS OF ALL SIZES were utilized to deliver some 600 food boxes and an equal number of bags of wrapped gifts on Saturday to local families in need. Above, volunteers load a trailer with boxes and gifts for families in the northern area of the county. The use of which was donated by the Diesel Institute of Grantsville. Below, local volunteer Torte Helbig packs his pick-up in preparation for his deliveries.

THE DELIVERY COORDINATOR for the Oakland Rotary Christmas Project is Craig Wengert, who makes sure that all of the families on the list receive their food and packages. Wengert and other volunteers sort the 300-plus requests and group them according to area. The slips provide directions so the volunteer delivery personnel are able to find the recipients' houses, which are scattered literally all over the county. Also pictured above are "pseudo Santas" John Sines, chief of the Oakland Police Department, left, and Gary Turney, a teacher at Southern Middle School, who are in line to take some slips and depart for their deliveries. At right, helping to sort and load gift bags are Garrett County Commissioner Roger Glotfelty, who is a long-time member of the Oakland Lions Club, and Delores Moyer, an employee of Triax Cable Company. "People need to know that the effort they make serves a genuine need," stated project coordinator Dr. Dave Bolinger. "They realize this first-hand when they serve as a volunteer for this project and see that, because of their efforts, Christmas really is made brighter for many local families who are struggling."

New Addresses

"It is also important to fill out the change of address card from the postal service with the old and new addresses and put the card back in your mailbox. This way your carrier will know your new address immediately and the new address can be used for mail service. Keep in mind that the new street address replaces your existing route and box number and that your zip code area does not change," he said.

Torrington offered additional advice for holders of commercial drivers licenses. These licenses must be changed to reflect the holder's new address within 30 days after notice of the new address is received. "It is important to note that when going to the Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration to change your CDL," Torrington commented, "you must take the yellow copy of the questionnaire that contains your new address to certify the address to MVA personnel."

County officials have requested that residents post their new addresses as soon as possible to enable emergency personnel to locate homes more quickly. "Even though the enhanced 911 telephone system will not be in place until sometime next year, the emergency management dispatch center is equipped to respond to an emergency at your address location," Torrington said.

Any person delivered an address to an unnamed road is asked to call the county office of planning and zoning at 344-1920 to help establish a road. "All roads that have been identified as unnamed must be named prior to establishing a new address," Torrington stated.

PLENTY OF YOUNG PEOPLE experienced the true joy of the holiday season by volunteering their time and muscles to help the Oakland Rotary Club deliver its Christmas boxes and gifts to over 300 local families this past Saturday. Members of the Southern High School Honor Society, as well as many children of Rotarians, Lions, and fire fighters, participated.

We sincerely thank all the families who have called upon us for the opportunity to serve them.

Butter was sold in one-pound blocks or balls in the early days of this century. By the 1920s, it also came in quarter-pound sticks. Small plastic tubs started in the 1980s. Butter was made at home in the 19th century, and any surplus was sold at the local store.

It was not easy to make butter. The milk had to be churned and pressed with paddles to remove the extra liquid. It was then formed into "bricks." Wooden molds were often used to add fancy designs to the butter block. During the winter, the animal feed was dried hay, so the butter tended to be very pale. Many housewives grated carrots to get orange-colored juice that was added to the butter to make it a golden yellow. By the 1930s, laws had been passed in some states that made it illegal to sell butter that had been colored.

Advertising collectors like butter-coloring signs, boxes and bottles because they represent a part of the past that has disappeared. There is always extra value to collectibles that can be dated because of historic changes caused by new technology or laws. Can you imagine a package in the future without nutritional information?

Q. When did they make papier-mache furniture?

A. Papier-mache was first patented in 1772 by Henry Clay, an Englishman. He invented a process for making a heat-resistant paper product so hard it could be cut, sawed and dovetailed like wood.

Papier-mache had been used to make small boxes. Clay's new patent made it popular for furniture. The papier-mache was molded into ornate shapes and decorated with gold, mother-of-pearl and colored decorations. The lightweight furniture became very popular, and soon papier-mache making became a major industry in Birmingham and Wolverhampton, England.

The idea spread to the United States, and some immigrants from England ran a factory in Litchfield, Conn., from 1850 to 1854. Styles changed and papier-mache furniture went out of style by the late 1860s. It is said that the oversized crinoline skirts favored by ladies were heavy and tipped over the lightweight chairs.

Victorian papier-mache furniture is back in demand. A good chair can sell for several thousand dollars. Small tables range from $500 to $1,000.

Home Tips

The following tips are all from Lori Lynn G. of Willard, Ohio:

ANT REPELLANT — I've found another way to rid your home of ants is to take salt and place it in the places they are coming in — windows, doorways, etc. Baking soda works just as well.

COLOR MY WORLD —

Another way to recycle old newspapers, etc., is to let your kids color in them or cut out the pictures they like and paste them onto paper bags as construction paper.

STASH IT — Shoe boxes make good storage spots for old photos, toys and cards.

TO GO — Store-bought containers from the deli can be washed after their original use and made into storage containers for bolts and screws.

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE — Don't throw away used crayons, book bags, or art supplies. Donate them instead to a local charity or school so that parents who can't afford to buy these things can give them to their children. You can do the same with old blankets, clothes and coats.

Household Help
by John Amantea

MERRY CHRISTMAS — and please have a safe and healthy holiday. There's still time to check the lights on your tree to make sure they won't cause a fire. There's also time to check that the tree is in a safe setting away from a fireplace or other heat source, and that you keep it well watered.

Also be careful about driving. Many people have misconceptions about alcohol and its effects on drivers. According to a release from the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago, some of these misconceptions can be dangerous.

Myth: Drinking coffee sober me up.

Fact: Coffee cannot rid your system of alcohol. It just makes you wide awake. Only time reverses impairment.

Myth: I always stay away from the hard stuff.

Fact: Alcohol is alcohol. Beer has the same effect as straight scotch. One 12-ounce beer has as much alcohol as a 1.5 ounce shot of whiskey.

Myth: I'm bigger so I can handle my liquor better.

Fact: Size is only one factor in how much you can drink. Metabolism, amount of rest, and food intake all play a part in how you handle liquor. Impairment in motor reflexes and judgment can begin with the first drink.

Myth: Once I roll down the car window, I'm okay.

Fact: No amount of fresh, chilly air can reverse impairment. You gain nothing by rolling down a window or turning on the air conditioner.

Myth: I just drive slowly.

Fact: Many people do, believing they can actually compensate for being impaired by creeping along at 22 miles per hour. This can be very dangerous (since) other cars (will be racing) along at 75 MPH. The truth is, impaired drivers are unsafe at any speed.

One more fact to be aware of: Even if you don't drink, you can be hazardous to yourself and others if you are ever right before driving. Many drivers have fallen asleep at the wheel after a heavy meal, with disastrous consequences to themselves and to other drivers on the road. Therefore, if you eat a lot more than you usually do, wait at least an hour before you drive.

Lunden, Philbin return as Disney parade hosts

BY JOHN CROOK

Joan Lunden and Regis Philbin are hosts again this year for The Walt Disney World Very Merry Christmas Parade on ABC Sunday, Dec. 25.

This year's parade, broadcast live from Orlando, Fla., in most parts of the country, includes a performance by Olympic silver medalist Nancy Kerrigan, the grand opening of Planet Hollywood-Walt Disney World and new Magic Kingdom and Epcot attractions such as "Honey, I Shrunk the Audience" and "Alien Encounter," a sensory thriller from Disney and George Lucas.

"Margaret Cho (All-American Girl) is going to be doing our piece on the new, big Tower of Terror, which I haven't gone on yet," Lunden says, referring to a new 13-floor free-fall ride. "My kids are all anxious to get down there and go on that one."

The Good Morning America co-host has worked with the parade every year since its inception, and she says her three daughters - Jamie, 14, Lindsay, 11, and 7-year-old Sarah - automatically associate Christmas and Easter with the Magic Kingdom.

"This is one gig that, if I said no to it, my kids would mutiny, you know?" she laughs. "There's no way I can say no to this one."

"It's a job where you get to have your cake and eat it too. You have to work, but you're in this wonderful environment and you get to play as well as work.... We come into our room every year and there's always this beautiful tree and presents from Mickey and Minnie."

Lunden says she remembers, as a child in California, her family's frequent trips to Disneyland, which celebrates its 40th anniversary in January.

"I'd see the Disneyland people and think, 'How cool to work at Disneyland!' And I grew up and, what do you

Detective gets another chance to solve murder

BY AMY HIBBERT

It's hard to imagine one of Agatha Christie's famous detectives failing to solve a murder case. The truth is told, though, in a special Mystery episode Thursday, Dec. 29, on PBS (check local listings).

In "Yellow Iris," an episode in the Poirot series, Hercule Poirot, effectively portrayed by David Suchet, explains to his two assistants that, through no fault of his own, there was one murderer he never solved.

He had been traveling to Argentina on vacation when he was detained in Buenos Aires. While there, Hercule encountered a married couple, Barton and Iris Russell, played by David Troughton and Robin McCaffrey.

By pure coincidence, Hercule arrived at the same restaurant where this couple was dining with four other friends.

As often is the case with detectives, Hercule stumbled upon a murder. Iris collapsed upon her table, apparently committing suicide.

However, Iris' sister, Pauline, (Geraldine Somerville) didn't think that to be the case.

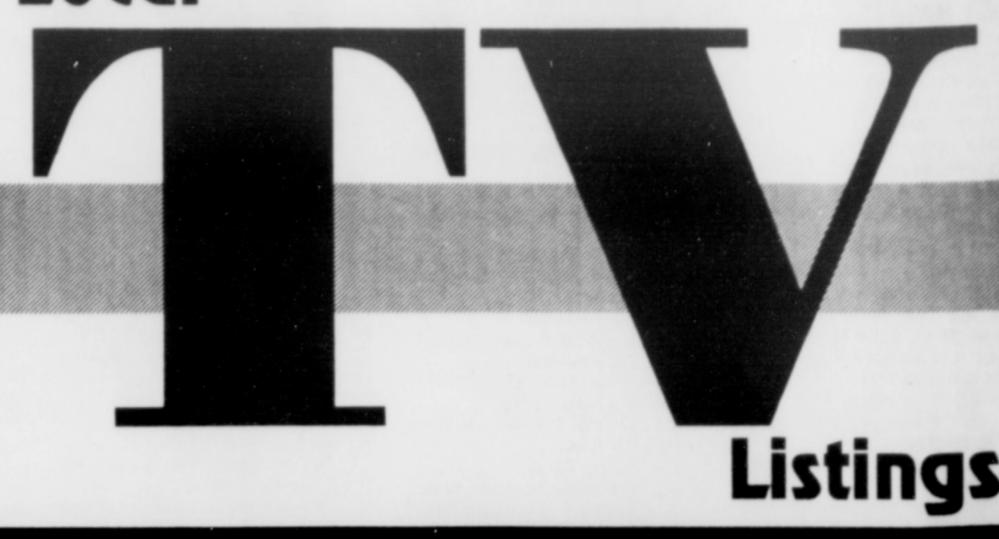

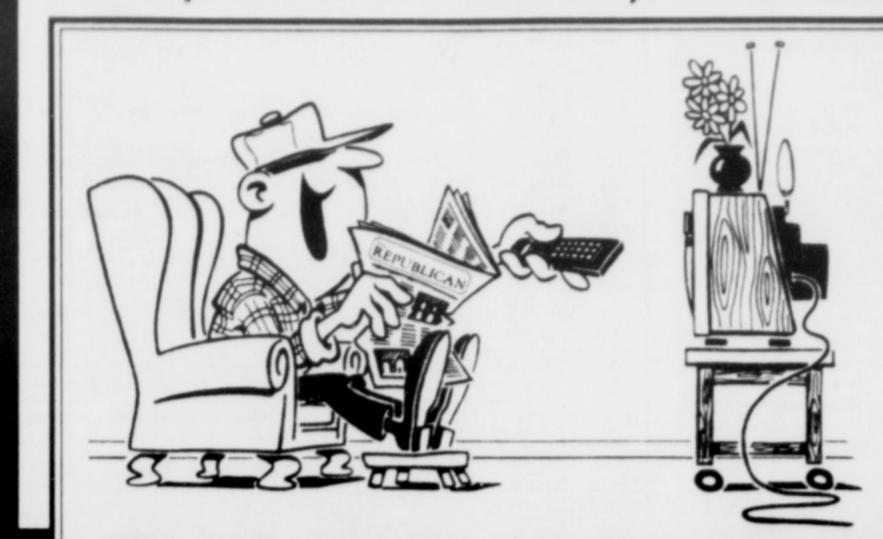

Unfortunately for Poirot, he was taken away for government reasons the next morning, arrested and sent back to his home.

Now, two years later, Poirot is given a second opportunity to solve this murder case when Barton sets up a similar dinner party in hopes of catching Iris' killer.

This is Poirot's chance to find an answer to the only case that he was never able to crack.

Friendsville Lions Hold Annual Party

The annual Christmas party of the Friendsville Lions Club was held Dec. 9 at the Sand Spring Church of God. The dinner were served to members and guests by the W.C.S.C. of the church. There were 40 people in attendance.

Pastor Mark Lawson gave thanks before the meal.

The entertainment was provided by Adam Lawson, grandson of President and Mrs. Lawson. He played the piano and sang. In addition Rob Smith played the guitar, and told Christmas stories.

President Lawson presented awards and plaques in appreciation of both members and non-members who had assisted the club in various projects in the past year. President Lawson said that everyone had worked exceptionally hard to further the spirit of Lionism, and without the help of non-members, the club could not have accomplished as much as it did. Gifts were given to all the ladies in attendance.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Public Service Commission of Maryland will hold a public hearing with respect to changes in the purchased gas adjustment charges of Columbia Gas of Maryland, Inc. The hearing is to be held in the 19th Floor Hearing Room, 6 St. Paul Centre, Baltimore, Maryland, on Monday, January 23, 1995, beginning at 1:00 p.m.

Reasonable accommodations will be made at Public Service Commission proceedings for qualified persons with disabilities, if requested 5 days in advance of the proceeding. (Dial (410) 767-8000 or 1-800-492-0474 or access the prior numbers through the Maryland Relay Service at 1-800-735-2258.)

land. The reasons to plant vary. Often it is to memorialize an individual through the Gift of Trees, or to reforest a community park, establish a stream buffer along a greenway, or to replant a barren highway through Project Cloverleaf. "Some of the most important plantings we do are those adjacent to bodies of water, specifically streams and rivers," said Walley Orlinsky, Tree-Mendous Maryland's director. Trees provide natural filtration for rainwater helping to prevent an overabundance of nutrients from eventually entering the Chesapeake Bay.

The DNR Secretary Torrey C. Brown, M.D., added, "Partnerships with business, schools and non-profit organizations have also been an important part of our Tree-Mendous success."

In many cases, trees are supplied by private corporations -- Winchester Homes provides 300,000 seedlings per year and the National Tree Trust provides 50,000 more. An annual donation from Lever Brothers helps purchase larger trees.

Nordstrom supports tree planting through a yearly sales promotion with a percentage of its profit going directly toward funding tree plantings in the state. On a cold and rainy day last spring, more than 100 employees of the Annapolis Nordstrom helped clean-up a dying stream in Annapolis, then individually wrapped more than 10,000 pine seedlings for later distribution at the Maryland House and Garden Show.

In other cases, trees are purchased by individuals, clubs, associations, schools, businesses and communities to be planted on public streets. During the year, tree planting workshops are offered at locations throughout the state to help citizens become familiar with tree planting, care, and maintenance and how to organize group plantings.

To get involved or to purchase trees for planting on public lands, persons may call Tree-Mendous Maryland at (410) 974-3776.

SAY CHEESE...CAKE!

ELEGANT, IMPRESSIVE AND EASIER TO MAKE THAN YOU THINK

Ever since the ancient Greeks introduced the world to cheesecake and served the rich, delicious treat as wedding cake, it has become a favorite indulgent finale for special occasions. In fact, according to a recent Gallup Poll survey, cheesecake has surpassed pie as the most popular dessert choice.

Few desserts can add a more festive ending to a holiday gathering than an elegant, rich cheesecake. And nothing impresses guests more than knowing you baked it from scratch. But for many people, especially novice bakers, turning out a showpiece dessert can be an intimidating prospect.

Creating a cheesecake, even during the hectic holiday season, is really quite simple — and these easy recipes can be made up to four days ahead, so there's no last-minute fuss. They're so creamy and delicious, your guests will never believe you prepared them yourself!

For a special holiday treat, serve Chocolate Pecan Cookie Dough Cheesecake — watch your guests' eyes widen as they taste the rich, creamy cheesecake dotted with deep, dark chocolate and nutty pecan batter. After one bite of this masterpiece, they'll wait in line to request your recipe! They'll never guess that convenient baking ingredients like sweetened condensed milk, unsweetened cocoa and crunchy pecans make this recipe a cinch to prepare!

Sweetened condensed milk gives cheesecake a creamy texture and rich flavor with no more effort than opening a can. Gradually pour it into the bowl of cream cheese, taking care to scrape every sweet drop for silky smooth batter — the key to success with any cheesecake.

Baking sumptuous chocolate cheesecakes couldn't be easier when you use unsweetened cocoa — you can simply blend it in with the other ingredients, avoiding the messy pre-melting steps of other chocolate baking ingredients.

Because pecans are such a versatile nut, they can be used in a variety of recipes for beautiful garnishes, nutty sauces and rich-tasting, crunchy crusts.

A spread of cheesecakes in different shapes, sizes and flavors will add a unique, festive touch to any holiday dessert buffet. These recipes are easy to prepare, so serve a variety and watch them disappear.

Tips For The Perfect Cheesecake

- All ingredients should be at room temperature before you begin your cheesecake recipe — this will prevent the cream cheese from clumping.
- If the bottom of your springform pan has a ridge, invert the bottom, so the ridge faces down — this will help the cheesecake slide right off later.
- When using sweetened condensed milk, add it gradually while beating to ensure smooth, well-blended batter. Always remove the entire end of the can; then use a rubber scraper to remove all contents from can.
- Beat the ingredients just until blended — overbeating will put too much air in the batter, which can cause the cheesecake to crack or puff up, then deflate when cooling.
- As soon as you remove your cheesecake from the oven, use the tip of a narrow spatula or sharp knife to loosen the edges of the cake from the pan — this will prevent the cheesecake from sticking to the side of the pan as it cools.
- To prevent cracking, cool cheesecake completely in pan on a wire rack away from a draft before placing in the refrigerator.
- To easily remove the side of the springform pan before serving, place pan on a smaller inverted bowl on a flat surface. Loosen the side of the pan and let it drop to the flat surface — the cheesecake on the bottom of the pan will stay up on the inverted bowl.
- To cut cheesecake easily, dip a sharp knife in very hot water and shake off the excess before slicing.

CHOCOLATE PECAN COOKIE DOUGH CHEESECAKE

12 servings

Crust

- 1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup Hershey's Cocoa
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Chocolate Pecan Cookie Dough

- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine, softened
- 1/4 cup packed light brown sugar
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup Hershey's Cocoa
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans

Cheesecake Batter

- 3 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 1 can (14 oz.) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk (NOT evaporated milk)
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Chocolate Drizzle

- 1/4 cup Hershey's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips
- 1/4 teaspoon shortening (do not use butter, margarine or oil)

To make crust: Stir together all ingredients; press firmly on bottom of 9-inch springform pan.

To make dough: Beat butter, brown sugar, granulated sugar and cocoa until blended. Stir in water and vanilla. Add flour; mix well. Stir in pecans.

To make cheesecake batter: Heat oven to 300°F. In large mixed bowl, beat cheese until fluffy. Gradually beat in sweetened condensed milk until smooth. Add eggs and vanilla; beat well. Pour half of batter over prepared crust. Drop cookie dough in 1-teaspoon portions evenly over top. Top with remaining batter. Bake 55 to 60 minutes or until center is set. Remove from oven to wire rack. With knife, loosen cake from side of pan. Cool completely. Remove side of pan. Refrigerate. Garnish with drizzle. Cover; refrigerate leftovers.

To make drizzle: In small microwave-safe bowl, place chips and shortening. Microwave at HIGH (100%) 45 seconds or until chips are melted when stirred.

EASY MINI CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKES

24 cheesecakes

Chocolate Pecan Crumb Crust

- 1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 6 tablespoons Hershey's Cocoa
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Cheesecake Batter

- 3 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cup Hershey's Cocoa
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine, melted
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 can (14 oz.) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk (NOT evaporated milk)
- 3 eggs

To make crust: Stir together all ingredients; line muffin cups (2 1/2 inches in diameter) with paper bake cups or spray with cooking spray. Press about 1 tablespoon crumb mixture on bottom of each cup.

To make cheesecake batter: Heat oven to 300°F. Beat cheese until fluffy. Alternately add cocoa, butter and vanilla, beating until well blended. Gradually beat in sweetened condensed milk. Add eggs; beat well. Spoon mixture into cups. Bake 30 to 35 minutes or until set. Cool completely. Refrigerate. Garnish with whipped cream and pecans. Cover; refrigerate leftovers.

To make sauce: In small saucepan over medium heat, melt butter. Add brown sugar, whipping cream and corn syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils.

FROZEN CRANBERRY ORANGE CHEESECAKE LOAF

8 to 10 servings

Crust

- 1 1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Cheesecake Batter

- 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1 can (14 oz.) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk (NOT evaporated milk)
- 1/4 cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 can (16 oz.) whole berry cranberry sauce
- 2 cups (1 pt.) whipping cream, whipped
- Red food color (optional)

To make crust: Line 9x5x3-inch loaf pan with foil, extending foil above sides of pan. Stir together all ingredients; press firmly on bottom and 1 inch up sides of prepared pan.

To make cheesecake batter: In large mixer bowl, beat cheese until fluffy. Gradually beat in sweetened condensed milk until smooth; add orange juice and vanilla. Stir in cranberry sauce. Fold in whipped cream and food color if desired. Pour into prepared crust. Cover; freeze 6 hours or until firm.

To serve: Remove cheesecake loaf from pan; peel off foil. Garnish with fresh cranberries and fresh orange segments, if desired. Cover; freeze unguaranteed leftovers.

FUDGEY CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE WITH BUTTER PECAN SAUCE

12 servings

Pecan Crumb Crust

- 1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Cheesecake Batter

- 3 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 3 eggs
- 1/2 cup Hershey's Cocoa

Butter Pecan Sauce

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- 2 tablespoons light corn syrup
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

To make crust: Heat oven to 350°F. Stir together all ingredients; press firmly on bottom of 9-inch springform pan. Bake 8 minutes. Cool slightly.

To make cheesecake batter: Beat cheese until fluffy. Add sugar and vanilla; beat on medium speed of electric mixer until blended. Add eggs; beat well. Add cocoa; beat well. Pour mixture over crust. Bake 35 to 40 minutes or until set; center will be moist. Remove from oven to wire rack. With knife, loosen cake from side of pan. Cool completely. Remove side of pan. Refrigerate. Serve with Butter Pecan Sauce. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream, if desired. Cover; refrigerate leftovers.

To make sauce: In small saucers over medium heat, melt butter. Add brown sugar, whipping cream and corn syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils.

MOCHA SWIRL CHEESECAKE

12 servings

Chocolate Crumb Crust

- 1 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup Hershey's Cocoa
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine, melted

Cheesecake Batter

- 2 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 2 tablespoons butter, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons Hershey's Cocoa, divided
- 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
- 1 container (8 oz.) dairy sour cream
- 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 3 eggs
- 4 teaspoons powdered instant espresso, dissolved in 1 teaspoon hot water

To make crust: Heat oven to 325°F. Stir together all ingredients; press firmly on bottom of 9-inch springform pan. Bake 10 minutes. Cool slightly.

To make cheesecake batter: In large mixer bowl, beat cheese and butter until fluffy. Add sugar; beat until well blended. Gradually add 1/2 cup cocoa and flour, beating until blended. Add sour cream and vanilla; beat just until blended. Add eggs; beat well. In separate bowl, combine 1/4 cups butter, espresso mixture and remaining 2 tablespoons cocoa; stir until blended. Alternately spoon batters over prepared crust. With knife, swirl for marbled effect. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until firm. Remove from oven to wire rack. With knife, loosen cake from side of pan. Cool completely. Remove side of pan. Refrigerate until serving time. Cover; refrigerate leftovers.

Paradise U.C.C. Charge Sets Events For Christmas Eve

Trinity United Church of Christ, New Germany, will host a candlelight worship service with holy communion on Dec. 24 at 7:30 p.m. There will be no service at the church on Christmas day.

St. John's United Church of Christ, Salisbury, Pa., will present the drama "The Greatest Joy" on Dec. 24 at 10 p.m. The evening will include a candlelight service and holy communion.

Both churches are members of the Paradise United Church of Christ Charge.

Change Noted In Leadership Of First Federal

The Board of Directors of First Financial Corporation of Western Maryland, the holding company for First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland, has announced the retirement of Richard C. Deckerhoff, 67, as head of the holding company, bank, and subsidiaries.

Additionally, the Board announced the unanimous election of Patrick J. Coyne, 52, former president and chief executive officer of Johnstown Savings Bank, Johnstown, Pa., as the companies' new chairman, chief executive officer, president, and chief operating officer. Deckerhoff's resignation will become effective, and Coyne will assume his new positions with the companies, as of January 1.

William M. Thompson, the companies' vice chairman, issued the following statement on behalf of the Board: "It is with sadness that we bid farewell to Dick Deckerhoff as head of our companies. Dick has been part of the First Federal family and a friend of many of us for 35 years. Since becoming our CEO in 1977, he saw to it that the bank prospered, even through the turbulent 80's. We owe Dick a great deal and wish him well in his retirement."

In a separate statement, Deckerhoff expressed confidence in his successor, whom he described as "the right person with the right skills to meet the banking and other business challenges of the years immediately ahead."

The companies' new CEO expressed his "pleasure at joining such a sound company as First Federal," and indicated that he and his family "look forward to becoming active and involved members of the Greater Cumberland community." In addition to his positions at Johnstown Savings, Coyne served as chairman of the Board and president of Standard Mortgage Corporation of Georgia, and earlier held professional positions with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C., the Third and Fifth Federal Home Loan Bank Districts, and the Federal Home Loan Bank of Pittsburgh, where he was a vice president and senior supervisory agent.

Mental Health Committee Meets

The December meeting of the Garrett County Mental Health Advisory Committee was held recently at Lighthouse.

Guest speaker Duane Yoder, executive director of the Garrett County Community Action Committee, lectured on the availability of housing for adults with mental illness.

In other business, members of the needs assessment committee noted that they are working on a survey to be used with community groups.

The site review committee reported that members will visit providers of mental health services during the next few months.

Young Completes Kitchen School

Kimberly A. Young of Casselman Lumber near Grantsville recently completed the training school for kitchen specialists held at the Wood-Mode Training Center in Kreamer, Pa. The week-long course was conducted by training director Don O'Connor.

According to O'Connor, it is one of the more comprehensive of such courses in the industry, covering every aspect of kitchen design from the initial basic idea to the creation of a complete kitchen. Design layout, technical instruction, industry terminology, and consumer information are all part of the course. Ms. Young is qualified to design a custom kitchen, prepare detailed cost estimates, and supervise the installation of custom built-in cabinetry.

St. Mark's Church
Christmas Cantata
Slated For Dec. 25

The Chancel Choir of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will present a Christmas cantata titled "Rejoice, Believers!" on Dec. 25 during the 10 a.m. worship service.

"The music is a joyful blend of old and new carols and songs," an event spokesperson stated. "Well-known carols such as Joy to the World, How Great Our Joy, Good Christian Friends Rejoice, and O Little Town of Bethlehem are interwoven with brand new, original compositions to create an exciting and joyous musical worship experience."

The 40-minute cantata, written by John Coates, will be presented under the direction of Susan Peterson. The choir will be accompanied by Marcelline Danner on organ and piano and by Marjorie Clever, Carrie Clever, Johnny Peterson, David Peterson, and Becca Gangler on flute, marimba, chimes, and a variety of percussion instruments.

Martin Heise will narrate the Christmas story. Pastor Mike Robinson will lead the worship service. The public is invited to attend.

DCL Lioness Club Participates In Christmas Project

The Deep Creek Lake Lions Club met Nov. 22 at Garrett Community College. Ten members were present.

Goldie Shugars reported on the Christmas Giving project which sponsored eight families, including 22 children. Gift certificates for food, clothing, and toys were given to each family.

The Christmas party Dec. 6, was held jointly with the Deep Creek Lake Lions at Red Run Inn. Fifty-three members and guests were present. Each lady was presented with a corsage and poinsettia.

Thank-you notes from Carl Haeftling of the Lutheran Braille Society, and Lou Stouffer (Mr. Santa Claus) were read, thanking the club for donations.

The Lioness Club will begin a membership drive in April. Gayle Miller, chairman, along with Marie McCarty and Jane Frawley, will organize the drive. Meetings are held on the fourth Tuesday of each month from April through November.

The next meeting will be held at GCC in April. Anyone wishing to contact the club may call President Jane Davis at 387-5253, or 387-5581.

The first course will begin near the start of the second semester and will be timed to conclude near the April SAT testing date.

Other sections will be scheduled according to needs. The high schools have already taken a preliminary survey to ascertain the needs and preferences of the students.

Materials for the course have been purchased for each high school, with all expenses for this school year being provided through a grant from the Maryland Higher Education Commission. Expenses for this course in subsequent years will likely come from county sources, according to an education board spokesperson.

All high school students are eligible to take the non-credit course.

English 101 Via Distance Learning

English 101/composition I, a college course, will be offered to students at Southern High School jointly by Garrett Community College and the Garrett County Public Schools. The course will be given via the Distance Learning Laboratories and will be considered an elective course for students who may also count the course as three hours of college credit. This information was presented at the most recent Garrett County Board of Education meeting.

Enrollment will be open to any SHS student who meets the established criteria, which includes the successful completion of high school English IV (college preparatory level) with a minimum grade of a "B" or a reading score of 11.0 on the Nelson-Denny portion of GCC's placement test and successful completion of a writing sample that demonstrates the student's ability to succeed in college-level English.

Enrollment in the course will be limited to 17 students with seniors receiving first priority, followed by juniors, sophomores, and then freshmen.

The course for high school students will begin at the start of SHS's second semester and will follow the high school's calendar. On Mondays and Wednesdays, the course will originate from GCC with the high school students receiving the program at the SHS Distance Learning Classroom. On Tuesdays and Thursdays, the instructor from GCC will meet SHS's students live at the high school. The students will have research and writing assignments at the high school on Fridays.

The course will fit into the second period time slot at Southern, which runs from 10:05 a.m. until 11:35 a.m.

SAT Prep Course To Be Offered
At High Schools

Members of the Garrett County Board of Education were informed last week at their regular meeting that local high school students will now have the opportunity to take a Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) preparation course.

The SAT is a standardized test developed by The College Board and is used by many of the nation's colleges and universities as a predictor of a student's success in college. Because of the emphasis placed on the results of this test for college admission purposes, both Northern and Southern Garrett high schools will offer the non-credit course to assist students in preparing for the test.

Each school may offer up to three sections of the course outside of the regular school hours. Each section must have a minimum of eight students or a maximum of 20. Each course will have 12 sessions lasting one hour. Certified teachers will be hired to teach the courses.

The first course will begin near the start of the second semester and will be timed to conclude near the April SAT testing date. Other sections will be scheduled according to needs. The high schools have already taken a preliminary survey to ascertain the needs and preferences of the students.

Materials for the course have been purchased for each high school, with all expenses for this school year being provided through a grant from the Maryland Higher Education Commission. Expenses for this course in subsequent years will likely come from county sources, according to an education board spokesperson.

Safe And Sober" Effort Unveiled By Police, SHA, Health Department

Motorists on Garrett County's roadways will be hearing more about the risks of drinking and driving and not buckling up during the coming year as the national "Safe and Sober" campaign kicks off throughout the country. Collaboration among the local sheriff's department, Department of Natural Resources and the DNR Police, Maryland State Police, and the Oakland City Police, as well as efforts at the Garrett County Health Department and the Maryland State Highway Administration, are bringing this two-year highway safety campaign, organized by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, to the public's attention in the final days of 1994 in Garrett County.

The two-year national highway safety campaign is aimed at reducing alcohol-related fatalities to 43% of all fatalities and increasing the national safety belt use rate to 76% from the current 66% use by 1997. Estimates show that by meeting

"SAFE AND SOBER" is the theme on a billboard located along U.S. Rt. 219 north of Oakland, reminding motorists to "play it safe" during the holiday season. The billboard is sponsored by the Garrett County Health Department and the Maryland State Highway Administration. these goals, the lives of 3,000 Americans will be saved, according to a spokesperson for the campaign.

"We will be removing the maximum amount of DWI (driving while intoxicated) offenders from our roadways throughout the holidays, increasing patrols during peak traffic hours and times when people tend to indulge in alcohol consumption," stated First Sergeant Dan Stanton from the Maryland State Police, Barrack W. McHenry.

During the past year, two DWI fatalities occurred on Garrett County roadways. First Sgt. Stanton noted that "neither of these were county residents."

"I believe that this is what can be accomplished when both the law enforcement agencies and the community take on the responsibility to stop drinking and driving," he said.

DNR Employees To Help Build Hospital Trail

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources has announced that employees of Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area will assist Garrett County Memorial Hospital in the creation of a new fitness trail around the pond which lies behind the medical complex.

Charlotte Bock, administrative director of community relations at the hospital, and Wayne Caple, park technician at DCLRA, recently decided that recreation area employees will clear the trail area and build steps to the walking path. Work on the project is slated to begin in the spring of 1995.

The trail is intended for use by the hospital's wellness program and by recovering patients, hospital employees, and the general public.

The hospital is currently seeking additional volunteer groups for the project.

"The DNR is pleased to assist in the design since much of our expertise deals with trail design and we are proud to be a part of it," stated Paul Durham, DCLRA manager. "We look forward to an ongoing relationship with the hospital."

plained that the sheriff's department will be "increasing DWI patrols and enforcement in some of the smaller areas of the county."

"We are already beginning some collaborative efforts with law enforcement agencies and resources that currently exist, working to extend our patrols onto some of the major routes running through the county," stated Sheriff Sines.

According to U.S. Transportation Secretary Peña, "Preventing many of the deaths and injuries on our roads can reduce health care costs by $1 billion each year. Thirty-five thousand dollars in health care costs are saved for each serious injury prevented."

NHTSA continues to list motor vehicle crashes as the leading cause of death for Americans between the ages of 6-33 and the fifth leading cause of death overall.

Campaign "Safe and Sober's" overall goal is to reduce alcohol-related traffic fatalities to 43% and increase safety belt usage to 75% nationally by the year 1997. More information on the campaign is available by contacting the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111 or 895-3111, ext. 350.

AFBF Calls Conservation Reserve Announcement Positive

The Agriculture Department's (USDA) recent offer to extend the Conservation Reserve Program for another 10 years was "long-awaited good news for agriculture and the nation's environmentally sensitive agricultural resources," according to Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

In addition, USDA also announced last Wednesday that existing CRP contracts could be modified, either by farmers shifting acreage or asking for a release for some acreage under contract. USDA also said new acreage would be accepted into the program. Any new acreage, whether added through a new or modified contract, must meet more stringent environmental guidelines than better target sensitive areas.

"CRP has done an excellent job reducing soil erosion over the last nine years," Kleckner said. "We applaud (USDA) Secretary Espy for recognizing CRP's dynamic track record by giving farmers the option to extend CRP contracts on previously identified highly erodible acres."

"The flexibility offered by the mid-contract modification option is also a plus. Some farmers, as market signals dictate, may choose to put some of their more productive CRP ground back into production. That would free up additional funding for acreage elsewhere that might be more environmentally sensitive," According to Kleckner, the CRP should be considered "the centerpiece" of the program title.

"The program is good for both farmers and the environment," Kleckner said. "CRP is one of the easiest programs for USDA to administer and it is one of the most effective."

"We have won a battle in a larger war," Kleckner said. "We now know that the government believes as farmers do, that CRP is a good deal. But whether it is willing to actually provide funds to pay for continued environmental benefits remains to be seen."

"CRP allows public funds to pay for the conservation of areas that the public generally perceives as more environmentally valuable. It is important that farmers be offered incentives like CRP payments for forgoing their land's productive, economic viability."

Kleckner said agriculture must continue to fight for the funding of CRP. Despite USDA's action extending the program's baseline budget authority for 10 years, the actual level of CRP participation allowed annually remains subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

Mountain State Farmers Embrace IPM

IPM stands for Integrated Pest Management, a pest control system that is catching on with more and more West Virginia farmers.

Many of these farmers say the initials also end up standing for something else: increased profit margin.

Compelling data on the benefits of IPM have come out of recent studies in Jefferson, Mason, Greenbrier and Hardy counties, according to John F. Baniecki, IPM coordinator with the West Virginia University Extension service.

Dr. Baniecki describes IPM as "a systematic approach to pest control. It's a way of organizing pest control activities."

IPM also is designed to be a cost-effective means of pest control. While results vary depending on the crop, farmers often are able to cut their production costs in half by using IPM. Such savings are realized primarily by reducing the amount of chemical pesticides used to grow a crop.

These farmers reduce pesticide use by abandoning the notion that agricultural chemicals should be applied according to a pre-determined schedule. Instead, they use a pesticide only when needed. And, they use the smallest amount of the least toxic chemical that will control a pest.

One of the key components of integrated pest management is the economic threshold. Thresholds, or levels of infestation, are established for weeds, diseases and insects. Pesticides are not used unless the threshold is exceeded, Baniecki explains.

For example, scientists have determined the amount of damage different kinds of insects will do to different crops at various infestation levels. The crop damage done when there are relatively few insects in a field may not justify spraying the field with a pesticide. The cost of the pesticide will exceed the crop loss.

Says Baniecki, "You have to have a certain number of pests where the potential damage exceeds the cost of applying pesticide. Because pesticides are an investment, you want more than a dollar back for a dollar spent."

The farmer waits until the number of pests builds to an economically damaging level before taking any action. Thresholds vary from pest to pest and crop to crop. The only way a farmer can know when a threshold is reached is by regularly checking, or scouting, for pests.

But, Baniecki points out, IPM is more than scouting for pests and taking advantage of economic thresholds. "It's a plan," he says. "It starts before a crop is planted. You plan to grow the crop in such a way as to outperform weeds and be unattractive to insects."

For soybeans, this may mean planting relatively early in the year and in narrow rows. The soybean plants will be out of the ground before most weeds. As the soybean plants grow, they will form a canopy that will keep sunlight from reaching the area between the rows, thus discouraging weed growth.

Planting varieties of crops with genetic resistance to diseases and insects also is a big part of IPM.

To realize the full benefits of IPM, Baniecki says, a farmer must look at each field individually and customize pest management efforts to the field. The soil may vary from field to field. The type of vegetation at the edge of a particular field may affect the kind of pests that can be expected in the field.

"IPM is not one specific activity," Baniecki points out. "It's a lot of little things that add up."

The strength of IPM is that it combines pest suppression methods devised by scientists working in different disciplines. What the entomologist has learned about fighting insects, for example, is incorporated with what the plant pathologist knows about combatting plant diseases.

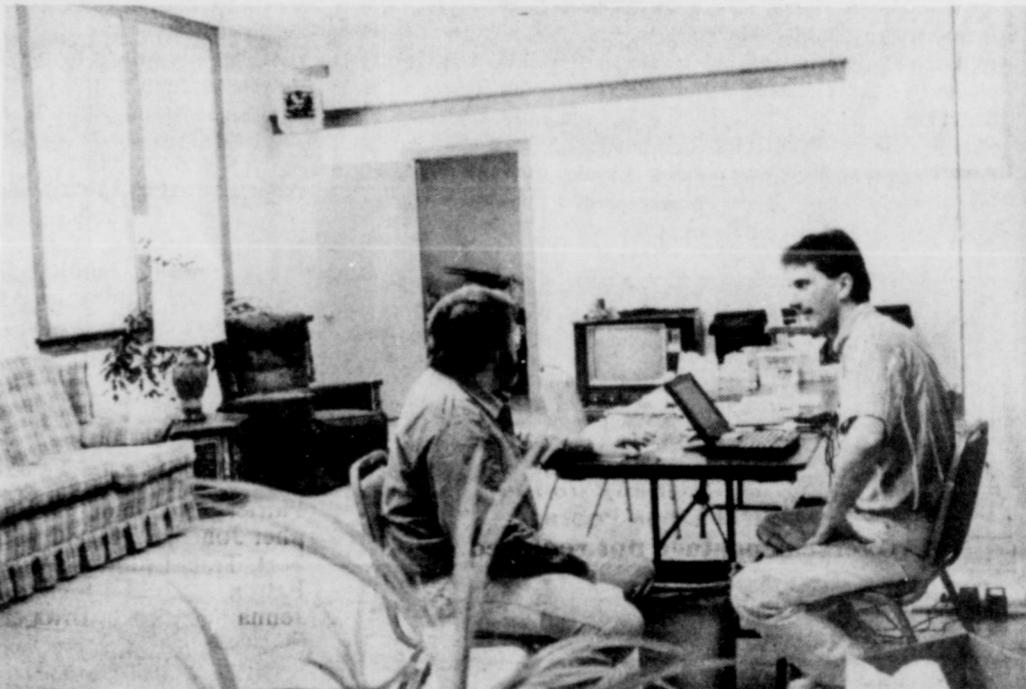

IPM has been extensively used for only the last 15 years or so. The WVU Extension Service has developed IPM programs for alfalfa, apples, peaches, field corn and sweet corn.

Baniecki sees the increasing adoption by farmers of IPM techniques and the philosophy behind those techniques in the questions they ask.

Fifteen years ago, farmers asked only which chemicals would do the best job of controlling a pest. Now, he says, farmers increasingly want to know not only which pesticide is most effective but when it should be applied. For more information on IPM, call your local WVU extension office.

THE AGRICULTURAL CARE & EDUCATION (ACE) program began its efforts to address the health and safety risks of the farm community at a health screening on November 19 at the Flower Vale Senior Center in Accident, Md. The ACE program is a collaborative effort between the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Garrett County Health Department and Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems (MIE MSS). The 19 participants who attended the event received blood screening; pulmonary function testing; hearing screening; stress, fitness and nutritional assessments, and information on breast and cervical cancer. The health screening, available specifically to persons who are members of working farms, also provides a follow-up visit with a participating physician in order to receive test results, a complete physical exam, skin screening, and at the physician's discretion: tetanus booster, EKG, chest x-ray, Pap smear and mammogram. The value of the health services being offered is substantial. The charge of $20.00 per adult and free to those 18 and under has been made possible by area physicians, the hospital and health department who are working collaboratively to provide components of the program," explained ACE program director Mikal McCartney. Shown in the above photo, Health Department employees Amy Ritchie, RD, LD, (left) and Donna Gilpin (right) assist screening participants in evaluating their nutritional habits while, shown below, Robert LaRue, CRTT, (right) of Garrett Memorial's cardiopulmonary department, provides pulmonary function testing. The second ACE health screening is set for January 7, 1995, at the Friendsville Elementary School located at 841 First Avenue from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. According to McCartney, the screenings will be held at various locations throughout Garrett County and the neighboring West Virginia counties to provide greater accessibility to those living in or near the designated screening sites. Persons desiring more information about ACE health screenings may contact (301) 334-2155, ext. 410. AURORA SCHOOL NEWS

A Science Club at Aurora Elementary School was recently formed. With approximately 60 members, the club is divided into two age groups and meets after school the first and third Wednesdays of each month. Club members have been learning about microscopes, getting hands-on experience with the how and why of using them. Ron Freeman heads this club and plans the activities.

Thank You

Every once in a while the opportunity arises for you to be able to sit back and count your blessings. We had that opportunity on Dec. 5, 1994, when we were awakened by a fire in our home. The relief of being able to hold our daughters in our arms overshadowed any loss that we incurred. The responding fire departments were beyond professional and through their skill and expertise our loss was minimized. Thank you all, family, friends and neighbors. You've touched our hearts with your caring, generosity and kindness. These gifts are the most precious that we will receive during this holiday season.

9, 1954, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Cumberland, by Father Lyness. Naomi Parks served as maid of honor, and best man was Jim Barr. Ushers were Herman Haywood and Norman Parks.

Mrs. Haywood is the daughter of Frank Parks, Kitzmiller, and the late Pearl Parks. She was previously employed as a secretary with the Electrical Workers Union Local 307, and at Rawlings United Methodist Church.

Mr. Haywood is the son of the late Erlon and Teresa Haywood. He is a retired material expeditor from Westvaco Corporation. He was also affiliated with Haywood Agency as a real estate agent.

The anniversary celebration was hosted by the couple's children and their spouses, Steve Haywood, U.S. Naval nuclear engineering instructor, and his wife, Emmy, owner of Emmy's Hairstyling, Pearl City, Hawaii; Brian Haywood, project engineer for Westvaco Corp., and his wife, Cindy, executive director of the American Cancer Society, Rawlings; Karen Haywood, marketing assistant at Racial Health and Safety, and her boyfriend, Troy Hartung, welder/production worker for Canam Steel, Frederick.

Following a buffet dinner, the Haywoods were honored by a toast from Jerry Thrasher, friend of the couple. Presentations from the family included tributes from Karen and Brian Haywood; an engraved clock from the couple's children; a cross stitch sampler made by Cindy Haywood; an original poem by Herman Haywood; and a dozen roses from Jerry and Carolyn Thrasher.

A rose corsage and boutonniere were presented as a gift from the Thrashers, and a Hawaiian floral arrangement was sent by Steve and Emmy Haywood, who were unable to attend.

Entertainment was provided by Jim Robey, a local disc jockey. The couple danced to When I Fall in Love, by Celine Dion.

An anniversary cake was baked and decorated by Shelby Gable, and served by Naomi Barr and Carolyn Thrasher. The meal was prepared by Karen Haywood, Cindy Kelley-Haywood, Naomi Barr, Carolyn Thrasher, and Ken Wilson, and served by Erie and Jeany Leatherman.

Approximately 200 guests attended the celebration. Out-of-town guests came from Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia.

SHERRI

This will be our first Christmas without you. Since you came into each of our lives; You've meant so much to each of the lives you've touched. You're loved and missed so much by each of us who survives.

If holidays are harder than all the other days Because one that's loved so much isn't here to share Then the only way to make it through those holidays Is to ask the Lord for the strength to bear it.

Sherri, each of us love you in our own special way And all we can do is help each other make it through These days that would be so happy is you were here By reminding each other you're in a mansion now that's new We believe you're with other loved ones that you Sadly missed while you were struggling through this life Now your struggles and trials are over Your victory is won over this worldly pain and strife.

We want to say Merry Christmas, Sherri. And once again, send all our love to you. Though it's hard, with you standing in the breach for us As a guardian angel, we can make it through.

In Love and Memories.

Governor-Elect Parris Glendening Announces Anti-Crime Initiative

Governor-Elect Parris N. Glendening unveiled last Thursday his safe communities, anti-crime initiative, a program that will ease restraints on carrying out Maryland's death penalty and change state laws pertaining to juvenile justice, while also increasing community involvement in public safety efforts.

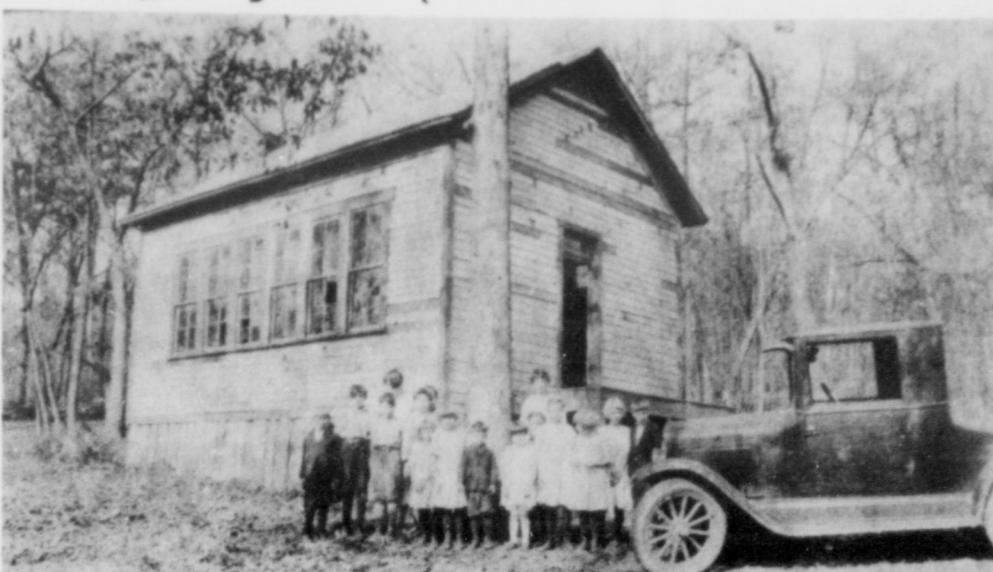

"This initiative will change the way we treat crime and criminals in Maryland," Glendening said. "In this state, the wrong people are afraid and my administration will change that, and change that quickly."

The governor-elect said the review process for the death penalty must be more timely and efficient, and he will submit legislation that will eliminate unnecessary delays in carrying out executions.

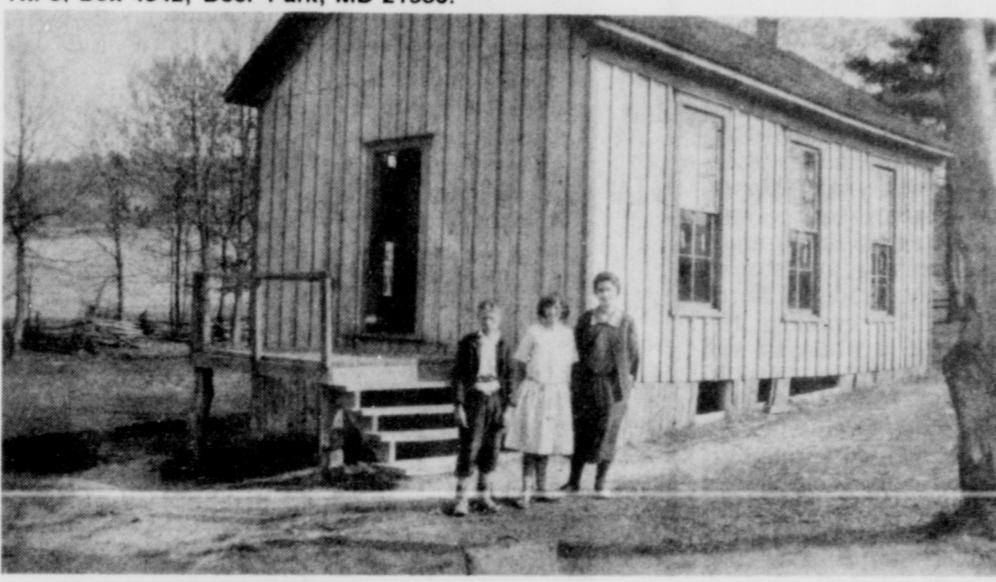

One change would reduce from 240 days to 180 days that time period allowed to file a post conviction appeal. Another change would reduce from two to one the number of post conviction appeals allowed.

These changes will accelerate retribution for

THE REPUBLICAN, OAKLAND, MARYLAND — THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1994 C-9

Jury Finds Man Not Guilty Of Assault Chrgs.

A jury in Garrett County Circuit Court found a Friendsville man not guilty of several assault charges that stemmed from a domestic dispute. James E. Savage, 28, had been charged with assault with intent to maim, reckless endangerment, trespassing, and assault and battery. Judge Fred A. Thayer presided at the trial.

The charges against Savage arose after an incident on May 9 at the residence of Vickie McRobie, according to the court record. McRobie and Savage became involved in an argument on that date, and the defendant allegedly hit and kicked McRobie repeatedly. He was also accused of verbally threatening her life, and of destroying a gas grill on her property.

The final element of the plan will create the People Against Crime Today (PACT) initiative, which calls for the formation of public-private anti-crime partnerships, thus allowing businesses, community groups, and civic activists to plan deterrence programs with local police. Also included are enhanced community policing efforts and classroom instruction in citizenship, respect for the law, and social responsibility.

"These public-private partnerships reflect the recognition that we must fight crime from the most basic of levels, including instruction that there is a right and wrong, and being responsible for our actions," he said.

Other initiatives include an effort to encourage citizens to design and manage their neighborhood environments in ways that can decrease criminal activity, and the implementation of the State Multi-Agency Response Team (SMART), that uses multiple state resources and agencies in

by Bernice Kepple

His eyes how they twinkled! His dimples how merry! His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry. His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow... He had a broad face and a little round belly that shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly. He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf and I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.

I always pictured my dad this way, especially at Christmas. He made a perfect Santa, although he never grew a beard. His belly shook when he laughed, and he laughed a lot; deep, uncontrollable laughter that was contagious. Just hearing him laugh made everyone else happier, too, and they laughed along with him. His eyes did twinkle when he was happy, and I inherited his dimples. He certainly was a jolly elf. But, Daddy passed away in August and this will be our first Christmas without him.

He was a busy man, but he always took time to help us get ready for the holiday. Weeks, sometimes months, before Christmas we would pick our tree from the stand that grew on the farm. Then just before the big day, armed with an axe or a saw, we would all go to get the tree. Daddy would cut it and drag it back to the house followed by three or four kids. It would be a big one, never perfect, but it always looked good to us. Now when we look at old photos taken of our Christmas trees throughout the years, we laugh at the crooked trees with big bare spots; things we never noticed at the time.

We loved getting plates of cookies or sometimes candy from the farms where Daddy, the milkman, picked up milk, and most of those farmers, who were also our friends, sent Christmas cards, too. I loved hanging the pretty cards on the inside of our front door, and trying to figure out who each was from. Every year, Turner's Dairy, the plant where Daddy hauled the milk, gave us a turkey for our holiday meal, and Mom and Grandma made us a real feast. There was no shortage of "fixin's" to go with the turkey, and the meal always ended with several kinds of dessert.

Our morning was always

To all of you who farm, and to you who are farmers at heart, a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

door and look, quite a sight met our eyes. The lights on the tree were lit and it just glowed. It seemed so big and bright standing there in the corner of the room. The star on the top of the tree touched the ceiling, and all our favorite ornaments were hanging among the boughs. In the center, near the trunk of the tree, was a real bird's nest placed there to bring us good luck in the new year.

Under the tree was a tall pile of gifts, one for each member of the family. We each hastened to find our own and began to open them, holding each item up for the rest of the family to see. The clothes were laid aside, but the toys were eagerly examined. Many of those gifts were memorable. One year my sister, Barb, and I received a doll house complete with furniture for each room. Another year the two of us shared a crib for our dolls. Still another year Santa brought us a rocking horse, and that year I also received a cowboy hat with a gun and gun holster. I would sit on that horse wearing the hat and gun while watching "The Lone Ranger" on TV. I've wanted to be a cowboy ever since.

A gift I still have that I received when I was probably eight or 10 years old is my big doll. She is about 26-inches tall and has a soft body like a real baby. Her eyes close and she cries when she's laid back in her bed. If I even named her, I don't remember what the name was. I think she was just called "the big doll." She had soft blond hair, but after a few years of hard play, she lost it. Mom and Grandma ordered her a baby doll wig from a catalog and glued it on when it came in the mail. The doll still wears this wig today with a white lace bonnet tied under her chin.

After the gifts were all opened, we ate breakfast and Daddy left to make his rounds in the milk truck, to return in time for our big turkey dinner.

One night during the Christmas season, we always loaded into the car after the milking was done in the evening and drove to town to see the lights. Outdoor

Our school vacation seemed so long in those days. We had lots of time to play with our new toys, help Grandma bake cook-lights were not as popular then as now. Remember, electricity was fairly new, and the adults thought the lights were breathtaking.

I remember the whole family gathering around the piano to sing carols, even Daddy. Christmas during my younger years was memorable, and Daddy's part in our seasonal celebrations made them much more memorable now that he's not with us for Christmas.

I think the best legacy we can leave our children is fond memories of their childhood, and I thank Daddy for making holidays special for this little girl when she was growing up on the farm.

From the bottom of my heart, I wish all of you who farm, and all who are farmers at heart, a very merry Christmas.

Deadline Slated For 4-H Market Animal Ownership

Garrett County youth interested in raising, showing and selling baby beef market animals through the Garrett County 4-H or FFA programs are reminded that the animals must be purchased and ear-tagged by January 1, 1995. If a youth is not currently enrolled in either program but interested in participating they are encouraged to contact the Extension Office immediately at 334-1990.

Currently enrolled youth should contact their club leader or FFA advisor for details on identification procedures.

If youth are interested in participating in the program with market lambs, market hogs and veal calves these youth also need to contact the Extension Office about joining 4-H. Deadline for ownership of these animals is later in the spring, but membership in 4-H is January 31, 1995.

To participate in the programs, youth must be eight years of age by January 1, 1995, and not over age 19 by January 1, 1995. For additional information about 4-H and the livestock programs, those interested should contact the Extension Office at 334-1990.

Gypsy Moth Update -- Attention Landowners

The Gypsy Moth population for the spring of 1995 is expected to be low in Garrett County according to the egg mass surveys recently completed by the Maryland Department of Agriculture. The survey revealed approximately 500 acres mostly in the Friendsville, Bittinger and Kitzmiller areas, with potential egg mass populations that could possibly cause economic damage. Since it was not possible to survey all of the property in Garrett County there may be additional infected areas. To assist in locating other infected areas the Maryland Department of Agriculture will be available on December 30, and January 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office. MDA officials will assist landowners in determining if a problem exists that would justify being included in the 1995 Gypsy Moth Suppression Spraying Program. Landowners that are not available on either of the above days may contact the MDA by calling 301-777-3601.

FIFTH GRADE DESIGNER WINS FIRST - Matthew Frederick, a fifth grade student at Grantsville Elementary School, won first prize in a light switch cover plate contest sponsored by the National Lighting Corporation. The contest was designed to improve energy conservation awareness, encourage student participation, and to create a symbol that will serve as a reminder and promote energy savings on a regular basis. The student won a $50 gift certificate to Pizzeria Uno and two Phillips energy saving light bulbs. His design will be printed on light switch plate covers to be distributed to his school's facilities. Pictured left to right are Ralph Miller, teacher, Matthew, and Eddie Strumm of the National Lighting Corp.

Alcohol Abuse Is A Threat To Holiday Safety

Agents and drinking driver monitors of the Maryland Division of Parole and Probation offer the following warnings regarding criminal behavior and alcohol use:

Alcohol is a mood altering depressant drug which can increase anxiety and cause personality changes and depression. Alcohol abuse is a contributing factor in over 50% of violent crimes including domestic violence, homicide, and rape.

Alcohol abuse is the nation's worst drug problem, costing over 85 million dollars a year. There are 100,000 deaths a year from alcohol related illnesses, injuries, and suicides.

The following suggestions to help ensure a safe holiday are offered.

*Remember that alcohol is a drug and its abuse can have tragic, even deadly, consequences.

*Alcohol use can make one seem more vulnerable to a criminal attack. Criminals "seek out" inebriated persons.

*Avoid obviously intoxicated persons wherever they may be. Police officers tell countless stories of law-abiding persons who, upon drinking, engage in verbally or physically assaultive behavior.

*If you usually don't drink alcohol, don't drink just because it's the holidays.

*Don't drink if you are upset or depressed. Alcohol will only make you feel worse. You may lose control of your behavior.

*Don't allow teenagers to drink -- at your home or the home of another.

If you are "allergic" to alcohol (an alcoholic) or have ever lost control over your drinking, stay away from people and places that make you feel uncomfortable or pressured.

*Always make sure firearms are secured under lock and key -- never mix alcohol and firearms.

*Remember that alcohol and parental discipline of children can be a dangerous combination.

*Alcohol can make disagreements with your spouse or relatives a hazardous situation.

*Don't drink if alcohol has ever gotten you in trouble at home, at work, or while driving.

AT SOCIAL GATHERINGS

Always ask if a beverage contains alcohol -- punch or eggnog drinks can be very deceiving.

*Allow at least one hour between drinks and stop drinking at least one hour before you drive.

*If you are even slightly impaired, call a cab or spend the night.

*If you are hosting a party, monitor the alcohol consumption of your guests, don't let anyone leave under the influence - call a taxi, ask a sober friend to take them home; if necessary have them spend the night. Real friends don't let friends drink and drive.

*If you are going to drink, appoint a non-drinking designated driver.

Fires Damage House, Destroy Avilton Barn

Two separate fires reportedly damaged area properties over the holidays. A grease fire on Christmas day gutted a Deer Park basement living quarters, and a suspected electrical fire totally destroyed a dairy barn on Pea Ridge Road Monday.

The grease fire, reported at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, was at the home of Elfie Bowers on Pysell Crosscut Road. Food cooking on a stove in the basement apparently caught fire, and efforts of a family member to extinguish the flames were unsuccessful.

Responding to the blaze was the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Company, assisted by Oakland. The two-story home reportedly received approximately $25,000 in damage from smoke and water.

An Avilton barn was a total loss after fire swept through the single-story structure Monday evening. The barn was located on the property of Peter Brown, Hyattsville, and was being rented by David and Virginia Longacre.

Fire companies responding included Eastern Garrett, Grantsville, Frostburg, Shaft, Clarysville.

County Board Writes Letter Supporting WIC

After hearing pleas from Garrett County Health Officer Rex Archer and county WIC Coordinator Carol Bass, the Garrett County Board of Commissioners agreed to write letters in support of continued federal funding for the program.

During this week's county staff meeting Bass updated the commissioners on the status of the federal Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) in the county.

Bass reported that Garrett County receives $500,000 in federal funds each year through the WIC program. She also supplied each commissioner with a file of documents describing how WIC has been shown to reduce infant deaths and childhood anemia and to promote immunization of children.

However, Bass warned that cuts included in the "Contract with America" proposed by the U.S. House

THE SUN SETS ON ANOTHER YEAR - Only two days remain of 1994, and the new year will arrive whether we are ready for it or not. The last 12 months have brought both tragedy and joy, deaths and births, and the cycle of life will continue that way as 1995 unfolds. A peaceful buggy ride through the magnificent hills of Garrett County is a coveted thing to those whose schedules and deadlines keep them from contemplating the beauty of this place and remembering how pleasant it is to live here. May the new year bring to all a sense of peace and joy.

Two Trapped In Vehicle After One-Car Mishap

W. McHenry, and the Garrett County Sheriff's Office assisted in the 2:30 a.m. mishap.

Oakland Police Arrest MLP Man For B&E, Theft

Oakland City Police released information this week concerning the arrest of a Mountain Lake Park man who was arrested and charged with breaking and entering and theft.

Clyde S. "Chad" Wilkins, 25, was charged with the offenses after he reportedly stole $2,172.77 in currency and checks from the Town Beverage Center in Oakland.

According to the city police report, the store's owner, Al Devine, reported two bank bags containing receipts from Dec. 23 were missing from a desk drawer.

He told the investigating officer, C. Feller, there were no signs of forced entry.

The car overturned and landed in a culvert.

Three backseat passengers were able to crawl out and go for help. These three were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a private vehicle, where they were treated and released.

DNR Ranger John Frank, investigating officer, charged Preston with negligent driving and failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Alleged Bank Robber DeVault Pleads Guilty

Alexander D. DeVault Jr., 49, Midland, last Thursday pleaded guilty to charges filed against him in connection with a September robbery at the First United National Bank & Trust in Grantsville. Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer presided at the hearing.

David Troshak told Oakland police he was struck from behind as he walked past a garage in the alley. He reportedly lost consciousness in the attack, and when he awoke his billfold, containing $100, was gone. Also missing is the victim's Social Security and Moose Lodge cards.

Officer C. Feller is continuing his investigation into this incident.

VANDALISM

Chief John Sines is currently investigating the report of a vandalism at the Oakland Super Car Wash, located at the corner of Center and Fourth streets.

According to the car wash's caretaker, James Gney, vandals cut two vacuum hoses, broke three drain pipes, upset four trash cans, and changed the wording on a message board.

The vandalism occurred on Dec. 21, and city police have increased their patrolling of that area in an effort to avert further incidents.

Officer C. Feller is continuing his investigation into this incident.

"SNOW OR NO SNOW, WE WILL SKI!" say the crowds at Wisp Resort. An unusually warm climate remains in the area, but through the magic of machinery, skiing is quite possible at Marsh Mountain. Thousands of skiers have descended on the ski area this week and have managed to enjoy the sport thoroughly. While the temperatures continue to be higher than normal for this time of year, more characteristic weather is expected to arrive this weekend. Snow is to begin falling Saturday, much to the delight of all area and visiting skiers.

Southern A.D. Attacked After Refeing Match

Tom Woods, athletic director and football coach at Southern High School, was attacked and injured one week ago by an apparently disgruntled fan of the Frankfort High School wrestling team. Woods refereed a match between Frankfort and Northern High School last Thursday at Frankfort, and upon his exit of the building following the event was struck on the temple by an unidentified assailant.

Woods reported that when he first stepped out of the building at about 8:10 p.m., a young woman spoke to him in an obscene manner.

"I was surprised that she would say such a thing because there were kids standing around who could hear her. When I asked her to refrain from talking that way, she repeated it, so I just walked away."

"I had taken about six steps when I felt a tremendous blow to my head. It was like a shotgun blast - and I saw a bright light. I fell to the ground, and I remember someone standing over me, screaming at me."

The culprit then apparently began to walk away, but the coach was able to shout out to those standing nearby to go after him. He was then chased down over a hill and managed to escape.

in the spring. He added that all funds are in place for the project except for $250,000 still needed to meet the $700,000 price tag for a planned walking trail to Oakland.

Sheriff Randy Sines informed the commissioners at Tuesday's meeting that his department has made plans to purchase new light bars for county patrol cars with money obtained through forfeitures and seizures.

According to Sines, deputies and residents have reported that the old lights are difficult to see at night. Some of the light bars currently used on county patrol cars are 15 years old, Sines added.

Health Department

Garrett County Health Officer Rex Archer told the commissioners that there were 42 cases of malaria in Maryland in 1994 but that officials suspect that none of these cases originated in the state.

MCDONALD'S, HEALTH DEPARTMENT SUPPORT IMMUNIZATIONS - Childhood immunizations have recently become a focus of grocery stores and markets throughout the county, thanks to a collaborative effort of local McDonald's restaurants and the Garrett County Health Department's Personal Health and Community Outreach programs. Through the latter part of 1994, children visiting local WIC pick-ups with their parents received free coupons from McDonald's for participating in local immunization clinics. In addition, local stores will be distributing flyers in grocery bags throughout the end of the year and into 1995. Oakland McDonald's manager, Jeff Haines, pictured above left, was recently presented a certificate of appreciation from Lois Ford, a nurse with the Personal Health program of the Garrett County Health Department, for his contribution to this health campaign, "Immunizing for Healthy Lives." More information about childhood immunizations is available by calling the health department at 334-8111, or 895-3111, ext. 127.

GCSO Arrests
Local Men On Burglary Chrgs.

Two Oakland men were arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office this week in connection with a burglary that took place sometime during the month of July.

James E. Patton II, 21, and Christopher Glotfelly, 20, Oakland, were both charged with theft and burglary as a result of an intensive investigation by the sheriff's office. The two are accused of entering the Richard Lawrence summer residence on Northridge Road and stealing numerous items, worth a combined total of $2,131, according to the report.

Items stolen from the home included a microwave, television, stereo, chainsaw, kitchen appliances, a gun, prescription drugs, liquor, and food from the freezer. Lawrence, who is of Taneytown, came to the residence in early July and discovered the theft. Some of the items have been recovered, a police officer reported.

In another sheriff's office news, a Seabrook teenager was arrested for DWI (driving while intoxicated). John R. Leach, 18, was charged at 2:39 a.m. on Dec. 26 following a one-car accident in which he was the driver.

The defendant was cited for DWI, failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision, and violating a license restriction, according to the report.

Six bench warrants were issued for the arrest of Lynwood Sharpless, 38, Swanton. Sharpless has been accused of failing to make deferred payments, according to the report.

Goldstein Notes
Increase In Sales,
Use Tax Revenue

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein noted that sales and use tax revenue for November 1994 totaled $160,607,250, a 12.01% increase over the same month of 1993. "This double digit increase reflects the surge in consumer confidence," Goldstein said. November sales tax revenue largely represents retail activity during October, including early holiday shopping.

B&L EYEWEAR DIVISION WINS AWARD - Bausch & Lomb's Eyewear Division was the recent recipient of an Outstanding Corporate Innovator Award. Judged on its innovation, growth, and distinctive process for the development of new products, the award was presented by the Product Development and Management Association (PDMA). B&L's Oakland New Products Development Team, the group responsible for receiving the award, responded to the needs of internal and external customers, used teamwork to achieve common goals, and showed a commitment to satisfy customer requirements, according to management team leader Allen Barr. "We're pleased and proud to share this award," said Barr. "It's a real testimony to the caliber of employees we have here." New Products team members, pictured above, from left to right, are Larry Savage, Jean Smarto, Steve Reese, Cheryl Landis, Darla Layman, Donnie Upold, Tracy Lipscomb, Paul Custer, Tammy Davidson, Janet Tasker, Peggy Ream, Sharon Reckart, and Jim DeBruycker.

This year computer and computer-related equipment are on the top of many holiday shopping lists, and the state's revenue figures reflect this trend," Goldstein said. "In November 1994, computer software and hardware sales and repairs generated more than $3.1 million in tax revenue, more than a 43% increase."

Sporting goods and toy stores generated more than $2.7 million in sales and use tax revenue, up 6.3% over 1993 figures, while other holiday gift-related categories such as card sales also showed improvement.

Other consumer-related categories of sales and use tax revenue also kept cash registers ringing. The taxable food and beverage category totaled $32.6 million, a 4% increase; the general merchandise category produced $27.5 million, up 7.1%; while apparel stores generated $8.8 million, a 9.6% increase.

"Construction-related businesses continue to boost the economy," said Goldstein. "The building and contractors category generated more than $21.5 million in November 1994. That activity carried over into the furniture, fixtures and appliances category which yielded $20.4 million, and the hardware, machinery and equipment group, which produced $5.5 million in general fund revenue."

The comptroller noted that alcohol and tobacco tax revenues collected by his office are another measure of early holiday shopping.

"Distilled spirits tax revenue for November 1994 totaled just over $1 million, an increase of nearly 5% over the same month nearly a year ago. Wine tax also grew by 5% to $278,972," Goldstein said, "and beer tax receipts increased by 12.5%, to 744,882."

Christmas Tree
Recycling Slated

The Garrett County Office of Solid Waste, in cooperation with Timberjax Tree Service, will offer two Christmas tree disposal and recycling events on the first two Saturdays of January. There will be no charge for this service, however, the trees must have all decorations, including tinsel and icicles, removed prior to disposal.

The first event will be held Jan. 7 at the Southern High School Athletic Field parking lot off Dennett Road from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. The Southern High School Future Farmers of America will be a co-sponsor of this event, with members assisting residents in parking and unloading their Christmas trees. The trees will then be put through a chipper and reduced to a mulch by personnel from Timberjax.

Individuals wishing to take this mulch home for placement in their compost piles or shrubbery beds should bring a suitable container to carry the material. Any residual mulch will be hauled to the landfill where it will be composted with other yard waste and leaves. Garrett County will receive credit for the total tonnage of Christmas trees recycled in this manner.

The second Christmas tree recycling event will be conducted Jan. 14 at the 387-0322.

Grantsville Municipal Parking Lot next to the town park. This event is also scheduled to run from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

According to Rodney Glotfelly, Garrett County Director of Solid Waste, "The major reason this program can be offered to area residents this year is because of the generous donation of labor and equipment by Timberjax Tree Service. The company, owned in part by Randy Sisler, provides licensed and professional tree trimming and removal services to Garrett and Allegany County customers."

Used Trees

To Be Sunk In Yough Lake

As part of the annual Christmas Tree Recycling Project at Youghiogheny Lake, volunteers from civic and sportsmen's groups and area businesses will gather on January 14 to help members of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers place an anticipated 1,000 discarded Christmas trees on the lake bed at the spillway launch are near the dam.

"Not only will these brush structures provide nursery and spawning cover for a variety of pan and game fish, they will help keep all those discharged Christmas trees out of our landfills," remarked Lake Resource Manager Clyde A. Braun Jr.

Curbside pickup by the Corps for the communities of Confluence, Addison, Ursina, and Markleysburg, Pa., and Friendsville will take place, Jan. 3-5. After Jan. 5, trees may be dropped off at the dam by the swim and boat launch area near the spillway.

Trees will be picked up on or before Jan. 11 at the following locations:

Allegheny Highlands Trailhead parking lot, Rockwood;

Meyersdale Playground, Meyersdale - persons may use the playground entrance off the shirt factory parking lot; and Youghiogheny Dam, Confluence.

Organizers have asked that trees not be bagged.

Persons interested in volunteering for this effort may call Ranger Allen Shultz or Ranger Suzanne Glass at (814) 395-3242.

In their letter to District VI Congressman Roscoe Bartlett written later that afternoon, Commissioners Wilt, Glotfelty, and Braskey stated, in part, "Locally, we have observed the positive impact the WIC program has on young families, mothers, and babies in our county. We acknowledge WIC's role as a gateway program to good health for its recipients..."

"WIC plays an important role in giving young families the assistance in both food and knowledge to make a good start. We need WIC!"

Archer interjected that in the long term WIC saves money. Bass concurred, stating that each $1 spent on WIC saves the U.S. $4 in health care costs for children under 60 days old.

After listening to Bass and Archer, Commissioner Wayne Wilt remarked that the board would write a letter supporting continued funding for WIC.

According to a document Bass presented to the commissioners, 1,200 Garrett County residents are served by WIC each month. Each year, $550,000 in "federal food dollars" are spent in local grocery stores by WIC participants.

Duane Yoder, director of Garrett County Community Action, added that between 600 and 700 elderly Garrett Countians currently receive food assistance.

During the meeting, Bass stated that at the current rate of funding, her office can only afford to serve half of the county's eligible residents.

LIONS DONATE TO LIBRARY -- During a recent meeting of the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, a $1,000 donation was presented to the Ruth Enlow Library. Accepting the donation, on behalf of the library, was librarian Emily Ferren, pictured above center. The donation will be used to pay expenses for Ferren and her staff to attend training seminars to help them "catch up" on current methods being used in libraries. Making the presentation was Tail Twister Roger Glotfelty, right, who noted, "The Lions are pleased to be able to contribute to local groups, especially the library, so that our students, residents, and visitors may have the use of another information source to broaden their knowledge." Also pictured is Arthur Lake, left, treasurer of the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park club.

Salisbury, Lonaconing, and Midland. The 75-plus volunteer fire fighters managed to save three silos that were adjacent to the 50x300 foot barn.

Mrs. Longacre apparently detected a strange odor as she walked near the barn Monday evening at about 7:15 p.m. When she opened the door to the milking room, she reportedly saw fire in the ceiling. The fire has since been determined to be electrical and accidental.

The loss was estimated at $150,000. The family apparently had fire insurance to cover the damages.

Time Vs. Significance . . .

As the final hours of 1994 tick away, we once again find it hard to believe that another year is nearly history. While certain situations occasionally make it seem as though time stands still, far more often it slips away with incredible speed.

Certainly in the grand scheme of things, in the infinite chasm of eternity, a year is barely a flicker of time; a decade and even a century represent little more than the blink of an eye.

Thus when one considers in this context that, since the average person lives only about 75 years, the span and significance of our lives likewise seem minuscule. While to us our lives are quite significant, persons living a thousand years from now will know nothing about the great majority of us. They will know little or nothing about our opinions, our thoughts, our accomplishments, our families, and our possessions.

Such a realization might lead us to believe that who we are, how we live, and what we accomplish are unimportant and basically meaningless. Indeed, to one who believes that our lives cease to exist following our biological deaths, the preceding conclusion makes sense.

However, to those of us who accept and believe in the events of the first Christmas some years ago, and more importantly, the miracle of the first Easter, our lives, our behavior, and our accomplishments are most significant. While our time on earth is relatively so brief, it is also extremely important, because it is during this period that we become who we are as individuals, with our own personalities, our own likes and dislikes, our own wants and desires -- each of us remarkably different from every other person who ever lived or ever will live. Because each of us is different, because each of us is truly an individual, it is only logical that there is a purpose for each of our lives that transcends our short time here on earth.

So let us celebrate and welcome yet another new year, and with it strengthen our resolve to make a positive difference in our society and to believe with greater fervor that our lives and actions do, in fact, have both significance and meaning.

To Arrive

1994 for taxpayers under age 65 are: single, $6,250; head of household, $8,050; married filing jointly, $11,250; married filing separately, $2,450.

With the exception of the "married filing separately" filing status, the income threshold for taxpayers who are age 65 or over is increased by the amount of their additional standard deductions. Special filing requirements for children and dependents are detailed in the tax instruction booklets.

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) has been simplified, increased, and expanded for 1994. The amount of the credit is larger with a maximum credit this year of $2,528, up from $2,364 last year. Anyone who claimed the credit in the past will find some changes this year. Instead of the basic credit, and the credits for health insurance premiums, and for a child born during the year, there is just this one larger credit for workers with children.

This year, taxpayers with one qualifying child and income of less than $23,755, and taxpayers with more than one qualifying child and income of less than $25,296 can claim the credit. These are both up from the $23,050 income level last year.

The only alternative to higher and higher taxes is the smart and frugal management of our tax dollars combined with the ability to say "no" to things we might like to have, but don't really need.

Jerome L. Plauger

To the Editor:

I read in The Republican the lovely letter of sympathy to Richard Leighton by Rita Scharade. I want to say I visited this man many times. He always had a smile and a warm hand shake, although he could not walk. I say to Richard: good morning over there where everyone can walk.

Bliss Spiker

To the Editor:

As the new board of commissioners begin their terms, I think the way they approach the county's "problems" deserves careful scrutiny by the taxpayers of Garrett County.

For the past several years the property tax rate has not gone up. This is due, in my opinion, to the past reluctance of county government to spend and borrow enough money to satisfy everyone. Just last year, two of the old commissioners were "catching it" from some people for not floating bonds to finance such things as a $200,000 locker room for the local high school. I think "bonding" should only be used as a last resort, and for a specific project only; not as a "blank check," to spread around as needed. It doubles or triples the final cost of everything that the money is used for, and our children, or even our grandchildren will end up having to pay for part of the debt leaves behind.

Already, groups who have a "pet project" are lining up to see what the new commissioners are willing to donate to them. This week it's $150,000 spread over five years. Perhaps next week we can revive the "Garrett County indoor swimming pool" concept! Everyone knows there are many "worthy" projects, at least in someone's opinion, out there just waiting to be financed, but as I see it, it is the job of the commissioners to take as little of my money as possible, to give me the most efficient minimum services that I need. Not to be everyone's rich uncle! After facing the reality of each county department's "wish list," it should be interesting, if not downright expensive to see how the new people we have elected to office will handle our money.

For example, much work has recently been done on the county's road system, apparently without the need or expense of a full-time "administrator." As I see it, this is another "figure head" position that should be filled, if at all, by promoting someone already employed at the roads department. However, if the commissioners truly believe that this job absolutely requires a new full-time employee, perhaps they should try to come up with the money to pay that individual's wages by cutting something else in the budget. My suggestion would be that a large contribution toward it could be gotten by slashing the salaries of what are some of the highest paid county commissioners in the state!

The only alternative to higher and higher taxes is the smart and frugal management of our tax dollars combined with the ability to say "no" to things we might like to have, but don't really need.

To the Editor:

In 1990, Bernie Sanders was elected to the House as an independent from Vermont. He is the only self-proclaimed socialist in the United States Congress.

Each year, Representative Sanders' rating is 100. Anyone with a rating of over 100 has voted further to the left than self-identified Socialist Bernie Sanders.

When the 104th Congress begins, Maryland will be represented by both senators and four representatives with a rating between 102 and 107. Republicans Morella and Gilcrest are "go along, get along" and are near the 100 mark. We in Western Maryland can be thankful to be represented by Roscoe Bartlett who has a rating of eight.

As landowners we have to write and ask these legislators to come back to the center, co-sign and vote

able from 10 a.m. until noon on the above-mentioned dates.

The Bureau provides legal assistance in civil matters to eligible persons. Services are available at no cost to those whose income and property holdings are below certain federally-mandated levels.

The Western Maryland office of the Bureau is located at 110 Greene Street in Cumberland. The office can be reached in Garrett County by calling 334-8832.

Whenever possible, persons needing assistance should call in advance to schedule an appointment for the Outreach location or for an appointment at the Cumberland office.

There will not be a representative available in Oakland if Garrett County schools are cancelled because of bad weather. Persons should always call the Cumberland office at 334-8832 by 10 a.m. each scheduled outreach day to confirm whether the representative will be available in Oakland.

EZ -- if the childless single or married taxpayers have less than $9,000 in income and both are at least age 18 and under 65. Also, the filing status section has been removed because it will be obvious, from the entity section, whether the taxpayers are single or married filing jointly.

Lines have been added to all three Forms, 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ, to show nontaxable income to more accurately determine the amount of the EITC.

The special rule which allowed self-employed individuals to deduct 25% of health insurance premiums from gross income expired Dec. 31, 1993.

Form 2106-EZ is a simplified form for claiming unreimbursed employee business expenses and vehicle expenses on a personally owned vehicle. To qualify to use it, you must choose the standard mileage rate and you must have used it for the first year the vehicle was placed in service.

If you received capital gain distributions this year, but you do not need to file

Schedule D for any other reason, enter those distributions on Form 1040, line 13 and write "CGD" on the dotted line next to line 13 without filing Schedule D.

"Approximately 70 percent of taxpayers will get refunds this year averaging $1,000," Harrington noted.

"I can't think of a better reason to file early than to get your refund check as soon as possible."

Harrington concluded his remarks by stating that IRS stands ready to assist taxpayers in person at any of 11 offices throughout Maryland and the District of Columbia, or telephonically by calling (410) 962-2590 in Baltimore or toll-free 1-800-829-1040 elsewhere in Maryland and D.C.

For the first time the Earned Income Tax Credit can be claimed on the simplest tax return--Form 1040.

Accident's Best Decorated Homes
Named By Council

The mayor and town council of Accident recently sponsored the town's 13th annual Outdoor Christmas Decorating Contest to recognize outstanding lighting displays in Accident. The judging took place the evening of Dec. 22.

Private homes were judged in one of three categories: traditional, simplistic, and creative. A commercial category was also judged.

The residence of Hobert and Dot Bowser in the traditional category was chosen for the first place award. Honorable mention went to the residence of Earl and Mildred Haenfling.

The first place simplistic award went to Richard and Margaret Carlson. Honorable mention in this category went to Edward and Linda Margraff.

Wedding Set

Elyanne Grace Fife and Gerald Lee Durst, both of Grantsville, have announced their forthcoming marriage. The wedding will take place Friday, Dec. 30, at the St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Grantsville, at 6:30 p.m.

The bride elect is the daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Fife, and Mr. Durst is the son of Carl and Sharon Durst, all of Grantsville.

Mr. Durst is studying diesel mechanics at Diesel Institute of America, Grantsville. Miss Fife and Mr. Durst are both graduates of Northern High School.

Although invitations have been sent, all friends and relatives are welcome to attend.

Marriage Permits Recently Issued

Ten couples applied for their marriage licenses this week, according to David Martin, clerk of Garrett County Circuit Court.

Raymond Orville Berisford, 47, and Mary Ellen Neubauer, 37, both of Moundsville, W.Va.

Steven Brian Ely, 24, and Sabrina Ann Bolyard, 21, both of Independence, W.Va.

Bryan Clare Reed, 33, and Dianna Lynne Dixon, 27, both of Moundsville, W.Va.

Jonathan Arthur Adams, 32, and Robin Ann Fox, 36, both of Fayetteville, N.C.

John Szanyi Jr., 32, and Patricia Gertrude Lee, 33, both of Middlesex, N.J.

Kenneth Jackson Chewning, 54, and Edith Faye Waybright, 63, both of Onego, W.Va.

Social Services

Bob Shaffer, director of the Garrett County Department of Social Services, told the commissioners that according to a recent report, Garrett County residents received less Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) benefits during fiscal year 1994 than in the previous fiscal year. This marks the third consecutive year for such a decline, he added.

Shaffer explained that in fiscal year 1994, county families received $1.1 million in AFDC assistance. Three years ago, in fiscal year 1991, county families accepted AFDC benefits totaling $1.5 million.

Promotion Council

Dianne Wolfe, executive director of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, reported to the county board that her office is working on the new 1995-1996 tourism guide. The new guide will have a circulation of 150,000 copies, she added.

Wolfe also remarked that representatives of her office will attend travel shows in Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio, and Harrisburg and Monroeville, Pa., in the near future.

Environmental Health

Edgar Harmon, director of the Garrett County Office of Environmental Health, remarked that during this year's deer hunting season, a survey was conducted to help determine if ticks carrying lyme disease are present on local deer.

A number of insects, including lice and eight winter ticks, were collected from the bodies of dead deer, Harmon said. However, none of these ticks were found to carry lyme disease.

Harmon added that the disease is often carried by deer ticks, but that no specimens of this type of insect also be on three years of supervised probation.

The defendant was arrested in connection with several thefts that occurred at the Ski Harbor apartments near Deep Creek Lake on the night of June 7. Meadows, accompanied by three other individuals, allegedly entered the residences of the following victims: Robert L. Miller, William D. Rosson, New Carrollton; David Wasik, Munhill, Pa.; Paul G. Morgan, Ellicott City; and John Butler, Munhill.

Items stolen at the time of the break-ins included VCR's, telephones, micro-waves, televisions, ski equipment, speakers, and a travel bar.

A Wheaton teenager who pleaded guilty to the charge of escape was given a suspended prison sentence. Joseph K. Gray, 18, was sentenced to three years in the Maryland Department of Corrections, all suspended. He was also placed on three years of probation and was ordered to give 50 hours of community service.

Gray escaped from the Backbone Mountain Foresty Camp on the evening of November 8 and was found by police on the following day. He was originally placed at the facility as a result of theft and traffic violations in Montgomery County, according to the report.

Resolve now to make 1995 more delicious. Be kind to yourself, eating better at home or out. Whether it's beans or filet mignon, everything tastes better when it's cooked with care and sprinkled with love.

Eggs in the nest are more fun than ordinary eggs and toast. Cut a 3-inch chunk out of the center of a thick slice of bread. Sizzle the slice in a buttered pan, and drop an egg into the hole. Flip it over when the first is brown.

Banana pops make a super snack. Melt ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces in the microwave with 2 Tbs. shortening. Insert flat sticks into peeled banana halves, then dip fruit in chocolate and roll in nuts or sprinkles. Freeze 15 to 30 minutes to set. Wrap to store.

Some of our favorite pasta dishes have no more than a few ingredients. Buzz in the blender ¼ cup each walnuts and part-skim ricotta cheese, a garlic clove and ½ cup low-fat milk into a smooth sauce. Toss with ½ pound cooked fettuccini and garnish with walnuts.

Here's wishing you a wonderful new year

Remain Undefeated

The Northern High grapplers continued their winning streak this past week by recording a big win last Thursday against Frankfort, 57-18, and again on Tuesday by upending Petersburg, 57-13.

In the match against Frankfort, Huskies Jim Warnick (103), Aaron Hordubay (112), Matt Wolf (125), Rich Bowser (152), D.J. Durst (171), and Lee Collins (189) all earned pins over their respective opponents.

Northern, now 6-0 on the season, won seven of the first eight weight divisions in Friday's match at Petersburg. Jim Warnick (103) and Aaron Hordubay (112) opened the match with forfeit wins. Tirrell Burdock (119) and Corey Geis (130) followed with pins, before Petersburg's Seth Vance (135) put his squad on the board with a pin of his own.

Also scoring wins for the Huskies were Nate Kauffman (140), Cody Brennenman (145), Brian Heslop (160), D.J. Durst (171) and Steve Savage (unlimited), who all recorded pins; and Jason Savage (135), who won by decision.

Chad Zirk (152) and Nick Lahman (189) won decisions for the Vikings, who are now 0-1 for the season.

Northern's matmen will travel to Berlin, Pa., on Jan. 5, with competition set to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Southern took top honors in the championship game of the annual Snowball Classic as they defeated Fort Hill last night, 63-51. The Northern Huskies edged out Waynesburg in the consolation game, 88-82, to take third place.

In Tuesday's opening tournament games, the Rams defeated the Huskies, 52-29, and Fort Hill came from a poor start to defeat Waynesburg, 70-57.

In the nightcap Tuesday evening, Southern's Scott Shahan and Joe Tuomisto teamed for 37 points, taking the Rams' cross-country rival, 52-29, in game two of the evening. Shahan had 19 points and Tuomisto 18 as the Rams (3-3) outscored the Huskies (1-3).

Southern led 11-8 after the first period of play, 24-16 at the half, and 40-32 after three quarters of play.

Shahan hit eight field goals and three of six free throws from the charity stripe to lead all scorers. He scored eight third quarter points, helping his team to stretch a 17-point lead by the beginning of the fourth period.

Tuomisto scored all 12 of Southern's fourth quarter points, finishing with seven field goals. He was four-for-six from the foul line.

Teammate Jason Switzer added nine points for the winning effort.

Northern's Mark Hinebaugh led his teammates with eight points, followed by Jeremy Brennenman with six.

In game one, Fort Hill, with four players in double figures, beat Waynesburg, 70-57, coming from a slow first period, and outscoring its opponents, 56-32, over the final three quarters.

Waynesburg took off early in the game, leading 25-14 by the end of the first quarter, and 34-30 at the half. But Fort Hill took a 45-42 edge into the final period, and held on to its lead for the rest of the game.

In Wednesday evening's championship game, Joe Tuomisto, named the tournament's most valuable player, scored 18 points for the home team. Jason Switzer, most outstanding player, added 14, as Southern downed second place Fort Hill, 63-51.

The Rams led 14-12 in the first quarter, and extended to a five-point lead (29-24) at the half. Fort Hill caught up to within three points (39-36) in the third quarter, but Southern sealed the win in the fourth.

"Our kids played with a lot of heart," said Southern's head coach, Tom Bosley. "I think Jason Hamrick was good in the tournament as a point guard, and Brian Carlson showed signs of what he can do in the year."

In the consolation game last evening, Northern's Justin Hinebaugh scored 27 points, and Frank Winters added 27 more to open a six-point lead into a 20-point lead late in the game.

Waynesburg led 25-20 at the end of the first quarter, but Northern rallied in the second period to give the Huskies a 42-41 lead at the half-time break.

The contest remained close throughout the third quarter, ending in a tie (63-63) by the end of that period.

Waynesburg's top scorers

were Aaron Sonneborn with 27 points, and Ryan Litwincovich with 20.

The contest remained close throughout the third quarter, ending in a tie (63-63) by the end of that period.

Waynesburg's top scorers

were Aaron Sonneborn with 27 points, and Ryan Litwincovich with 20.

Named to the all-tournament team were Frank Winters and Justin Hinebaugh of Northern, Emery Nelson of Fort Hill, Aaron Sonneborn of Waynesburg, and Scott Shahan of Southern.

Emily Friend led Southern's scoring effort with 16 points, followed by Kerri Cannon with 13.

In Friday's championship game in Southern High's gym, Seton-Keough led a well-balanced scoring attack to down Fort Hill, 66-43. The tournament's champions led 20-4 after the first period, and increased that lead to 38-14 at the half.

Meet Garrett County's NEW TEACHERS

Sarah Schwarm, one of the new teachers in the Garrett County Public Schools, is employed as a math instructor at Northern High School. She is teaching algebra I, algebra II, and trigonometry classes.

Ms. Schwarm, who grew up in Michigan and Pennsylvania, now resides on Bear Creek Road near Friendsville. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown with a dual major in secondary education mathematics and computer science. Her student teaching was completed at Shade Central City High School where she taught math classes ranging from algebra I through calculus as well as computer programming classes. She also taught adult summer classes in computer science at Somerset. In 1990, she participated in a People to People Youth Physics Exchange to the Soviet Union.

The teacher is currently working with the TIMS program at Garrett Community College. This course is for secondary and college math teachers. In addition to her work in the classroom - both as teacher and student - she is serving as an assistant coach for the Lady Huskies basketball team at Northern High School. She also participates in the choir at Friendsville United Methodist Church.

Ms. Schwarm's parents currently reside in nearby Berlin, Pennsylvania.

PIONEERS MEET

The annual Christmas party with the exchanging of door prizes followed the regular meeting of the Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club on Dec. 16 at the home of Betty Fint.

The club placed a tree for hat and glove donations at the Aurora School office. Reports were from Becca Fint concerning the lighting of the community Christmas tree; from Missy Callahan on the book fair held at Aurora School; and Katie Utterback reported her experiences while attending National 4-H Congress at Orlando, Fla., in early December. Her project work area was sheep, and she participated as a national winner from West Virginia and from the Eglon Moun-

Rebecca and Elizabeth Wotring, Katie Utterback, and leading the meeting's "How-How" was Meghan Durst.

BETHEL YOUNG ADULTS MEET

The annual Christmas party of the Bethel United Methodist Sunday School Young Adult Class was Dec. 17 in the home of David and Wilma Mae Teets, Horse Shoe Run.

Those attending and participating in the evening's games, a gift exchange and refreshments were Larry and Gary Bachtel, Bill, Dianna, Matthew and Ashley Bachtel, Perry, Margie, Clarice and Beth Bolyard, Dale Mullenax, Lucia and Mallorie Freeland, Renita Whitehair, Roger, Renee, Christopher and Joshua Mullenax, Leonard and Tammy Parsons, Allen, Carolyn, Donna and Patty Mullenax and Jim Whitehair.

HOMEMAKERS HAVE CHRISTMAS DINNER

On Dec. 16, members of the Aurora Extension Homemakers and their guests met at the Fairlea Restaurant for a Christmas dinner. Blessing of the meal was asked by Martha Bolyard. After dinner, Dorothy Spaid led games. Members brought non-perishable food which was donated to a needy family in Terra Alta.

Those attending were Martha Bolyard, Mary Jane and Lorain Hanline, Helen and Alan Lipscomb, Maxine Hauser, Sandra Hauser, Dean and Scott Sisler, Fern Jamison, Mildred and Ernie Kovalick, Opal Myers and Hannah Myers, Ernestine Sisler, Phyllis and Terry Vandevender, Deloris and James Slawter, Jessica Shaffer, Dorothy Spaid, Wilda and Frank Spiale, Ruby Kempfer, Dolores and

Keith Douglas, Teresa and John Downs and Cody, Lisa Douglas and Dave Smith, Virginia Martin, and Matthew and April Mayne.

SPAID INFANT DIES

Paula Christine Spaid, 5 days old, died Thursday, Dec. 22, at Ruby Memorial Hospital, where she had been transferred from Garrett Memorial on Dec. 19. She was born December 18, and was the daughter of Richard and Marcia Nye Spaid, Eglon.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Sarah and Rebekah Spaid, and a brother, John Michael Spaid, all of Eglon; maternal grandmother, Virginia Nye, Fredericksburg, Va.; and paternal grandparents, Joe and Clara Spiale, Eglon.

A viewing was held Saturday morning, Dec. 24, at the Maple Spring Church, followed by graveside services and interment at the Maple Spring Cemetery, Eglon. Hinkle Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

PERSONAL MENTION

Louella Fike, Aurora, was notified that her grandson, Jason Highberger, Goose Creek, S.C., was injured as he returned home from work on Dec. 16. His pickup lost electrical power, and when another vehicle stopped to offer assistance, he was caught between the two vehicles when they were rear-ended by a third. His injuries were reportedly not serious and, after being treated at the hospital, he was able to return to the home of his parents, Jim and Judy Highberger.

Jerry and Barbara and Devin Hauser, Eglon, went to Shrewsbury, Pa., Dec. 17 and 18, where they visited with Mrs. Hauser's cousin, Patty and Lester Varner, and helped prepare for a surprise celebration for the 80th birthday of Patty's mother, Wilma Stahl Artis. A family dinner was held at the Varner home on Sunday with her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Weekend visitors at Christmas with Mrs. Maxine Hauser were her daughter and son-in-law, Bonnie and Charlie Douglas, and granddaughter and son, Susan and Michael Hahn, all of Ashland, Ky. On Sunday, a family Christmas dinner there was attended by Scott and Dean Sisler, Ron, Donnetta and Diane Nice, Michael and June Sisler and family, Ron and Jana Freeman and children, Cara and Derrick Radford and sons, Shauna and Paul Perrine and Michael, Rick Myers, Vickie, Jodi Myers and son, Bill and Sandra Hauser and family, and the above named weekend guests.

A family Christmas Eve dinner was held at the Ron and Avenell Parsons home on Dec. 24 with Gary and Fran Roth, Chris, Jason and Lauren, Bruce, and Mary Rembold, Shawn and Craig, Bill and Sandra Hauser, Wade, Joe and Beth attending. On Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were guests of Carlton and Jean Skipper in Kingwood. Also guest there from this area were John and Shirley Parsons and Steve, Aurora, and, in the afternoon, Leonard and Tammy Parsons. Other guests of the Skippers were his mother, their son, Brent and Leslie Skipper and son of Aberdeen.

Christmas holiday visitors with John and Rebecca Teets and Leland at Eglon were Jane and Jim May of Danville, Va.

The Raymond Frantz family gathered Sunday for Christmas dinner at their Eglon home. Visiting for the holidays is their son, Raymond Jr., Dianne and Tammy Frantz of Far West City, Utah. Additional guests for Christmas dinner were David, Susan, Aimee, Joshua, Jonathan and Jason Frantz, Terra Alta; James, Diana, Erin, Lorrie, Renee and John Frantz, Oakland; Willy, Jeannie and Brandon Lucas, Kitzmiller; Donald, Neva, Mel and Missy Frantz, Heather and Wyatt Frantz, Robert, Kathy and Robbie Frantz, all Eglon.

Christmas Eve guests of Mrs. Lectie Bonner and her brother, Willie Pennington, at Eglon were David and Leora Moon, David and Maggie Teter and family, Bobby and Donna Teter and family, all Oakland.

Spending Christmas at their Eglon home were Phra and Betty Paugh of Leesburg, Va., their son, Chip, and daughter, Cindy Atzenhoffer, and their families.

Federal Tax Booklets To Arrive In Maryland After Holidays

More than 2.6 million plan to prepare their own federal tax booklets will return, or simply give the start arriving in mailboxes postcard, containing their throughout Maryland and pre-printed label, to their District of Columbia after the holidays.

Taxpayers should not be surprised if they receive a different form than the one they filed last year. The IRS sends the tax form that is easiest and best fits the taxpayer's needs based on the return filed in the previous year. So, a taxpayer who filed a Form 1040 last year, but could have used the shorter Form 1040A, will receive that package in the mail.

Paul M. Harrington, IRS district director for Maryland and D.C., has urged taxpayers to allow up to two weeks to receive their tax booklets. "If yours doesn't arrive by then, or you need a different form, call 1-800-829-3676," Harrington said.

Harrington asked taxpayers to take time to review their tax booklet and to start gathering the information needed to file their returns.

Many area taxpayers, who used professional tax preparers last year, will be receiving a postcard, Form 8160, rather than booklet. Taxpayers can send the postcard back to IRS to obtain a tax booklet, if they need it.

The 1994 standard deduction amounts are as follows: single taxpayer, $3,800; head of household, $5,600; married filing jointly, $6,350; married filing separately, $3,175.

Additional standard deductions for elderly/blind (also up to $50 each) are as follows: single, age 65 or over or blind, $950; or married, age 65 or over or blind, $750 each.

For 1994, the personal exemption amount for each taxpayer and for each dependent is $2,450, up from $2,350 in 1993.

"Again this year," Harrington noted, "most taxpayers will not have to itemize deductions but instead can take advantage of the increased standard deduction."

Most taxpayers will not have to look up their standard deduction in the tax booklet instructions. These amounts are listed right on the form.

Income levels for filing are higher. Taxpayers must only file a return if their income is above a certain amount. These amounts vary, depending upon a person's filing status.

"Scary" in the only way that humans ought ever to be afraid. Another reason the Gadarenes wanted to banish Jesus from their neighborhood was He had a habit of making things and people whole. In our passage Jesus has performed several miracles of healing and cleansing.

TORMENT OR HEALING?

It appears that Jesus would be a good man to have around, but the Gadarenes looked beneath the healings and discerned that Jesus brought something else to their midst—wholeness. Lots of people would like to be rid of physical pain and impairments, but that doesn't mean they want to be whole. Wholeness is a condition, not of the outside, but of the inside. It determines the way we live, what we value, and what our lives are all about. Some people and some communities don't really want wholeness or holiness, for they either thrive on their brokenness or have become housebroken to it. To people such as these the presence of the Christ is seen as torment rather than healing.

"Faith" here is trust, not belief. These people are healed and helped because of their trust in His authority. "Lord, if you will," says a leper, "you can make me clean." Note the authority in Jesus' reply: "I will; be clean." The Roman centurion comes to Jesus, not to thank Him for coming to his house to heal the paralyzed servant, "but only say the word and my servant will be healed." And Jesus replies, "Go, let it be done for you as you have believed" (8:13). To the two Gadarenes he had heard anything of the miracles Jesus performed on the other side of the lake, wouldn't they want him to stay in their midst and do likewise?

Not necessarily. If we were merely a matter of having Jesus around to do healings, I'm sure they would have wanted Him to stay. But the Gadarenes must have suspected that there was more to this man than His miracles of healing. Two demon-possessed men said aloud what other Gadarenes were possibly thinking: "What do you have to do with us, O Son of God?" (8:29).

MORE THAN MIRACLES

Up to this point in Matthew, only one other person has identified Jesus as the Son of God—in Matthew 4, the tempter challenges Jesus, saying, "If you are the Son of God..." The Gadarenes must have realized that Jesus was more than a miracle worker. Being in His presence was like being in the presence of God. As I write this, it is Halloween and it occurs to me that in the midst of ghosts and goblins for a really profound fear nothing can compare with being in the presence of God. That's scary!

But the scribes question His authority and so Jesus says to them—and to us—"But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins," and He turns to the paralytic and says, "Rise, take up your bed and go home" (9:6). What does the paralytic do? Does he ask to see Jesus' ordination certificate or a license from the state medical board? Does he ask doctrine and creeds with Jesus? No, Matthew simply says, "he rose and went home." He trusted in Jesus, acted on that trust, and was healed!

Jesus makes the same offer to each of us today: "That you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth." Ask what you want in His service and do what He tells you to do.

Conservation Practices Working

On Dec. 14, a delegation of 11 Preston County farmers, Joe Hatton and Jill Hauser from the Natural Resources and Conservation Service and I attended the Mid-Atlantic Conservation Tillage Conference in Carlisle, Pa. We joined approximately 200 agricultural producers and professionals in gaining knowledge related to conservation tillage and other conservation topics.

One very encouraging program was presented by Dr. Richard S. Fawcett, a Farm Journal environmental specialist. Dr. Fawcett's topic was clean water. His basic message to producers is that conservation tillage doesn't always prevent pesticide run-off or leaching, but it does significantly reduce the chance of it occurring.

Tests listed noted that the majority of incidents where pesticide was detected in ground water were in urban or city systems. Many conservation practices, including no-till, ridge-till and chisel plowing reduce pesticide run-off and assist in keeping our environment safe.

In addition, filter strips using grass and forested drainage areas also significantly reduced pesticide run-off. As we increase the use of conservation practices in our everyday farming lives we can rest assured that it is accomplishing the goals we have in mind.

Another topic discussed during the conference was the use of different nutrient management practices to maximize usability of land and resources. Cam Tabb, a dairyman in Jefferson County has implemented a manure composting program in which he uses the manure from his farm and yard waste from area residents. The finished product can be spread whenever he has the time and has no odor. He commented that this has greatly decreased the number of complaint calls he receives when spreading time arrives.

Residents who deliver their yard waste for composting are given the option of picking up finished compost to be used in gardens, flower beds or lawn care. With the upcoming implementation of legislation prohibiting the disposal of yard waste in dumps, this could assist property owners and farmers alike in utilizing and disposing of unwanted but valuable material. This process might also assist in decreasing the amount of money and material used in managing nutrients for crop production.

For further information give me a call and I'll be glad to assist you.

Announcements

Percent Of Income Spent On Food Drops In America

Average annual expenditures on food in urban households rose 59 percent from $985 per person in 1980 to $1,567 in 1992. During the same period, per person household income rose 94 percent from $6,916 to $13,398. As a result, the percent of income spent on food declined from 14.2 to 11.7 percent.

Annual per person spending for food consumed at home increased 55 percent from $667 to $1,036, compared with an increase of nearly 69 percent for food consumed away from home, which rose from $318 to $536. During this period, prices for total food rose 58.9 percent, prices for food at home rose 54.8 percent, and prices for food consumed away from home rose 68.7 percent. After adjusting for prices, urban Americans were buying about the same amount of food in 1992 as they were in 1980.

Household size-- One-person households spent more than twice as much per person on food as households of six or more persons. One-person households also spent a much larger share of their food budget on food consumed away from home; 42 percent versus 20 percent. Married couples without children spent about the same per person as single persons, while single mothers with children spent about half as much. Married couples with children spend more per person as their children get older, but expenditures tend to be less than for married couples without children.

Income-- Average per person food spending increased with household income. In 1992, households in the lowest 20 percent of the income distribution spent $1,249 per person per year on food, compared with $1,997 for the wealthiest 20 percent. The share of the food budget spent on food consumed away from home varied from 24 percent for the poorest group to 40 percent for the wealthiest.

Age-- Per person food spending increased with the age of the household head up to age 64 and then declined. The share of food expenditure spent away from home tended to decline with age of the household head.

Nutrient Management Planning...

We Have A Good Deal For You

Nutrient management is a phrase that we hear and read about quite often. Many times the nutrient management phrase will throw up a red flag among farmers because it is associated with mandated laws in some states. In Maryland, Nutrient Management Planning is still a voluntary program; however, every year some of our state legislators attempt to pass a mandated law requiring all farmers to have a Nutrient Management Plan associated with the Chesapeake Bay Clean-up Program.

I think of nutrient management as a positive farm management practice. To me it is common sense to manage the nutrient inputs efficiently and economically. Presently, we have over 40 Garrett County farms actively involved in organized nutrient management. To this date, I have only heard praise of the program and the services provided by Bill Knepp, Extension Nutrient Management Consultant. What do we help you do? (1) Bill will pull your soil samples for analysis. There is a cost if analyzed by the university; however many farmers have the analysis done by their fertilizer dealer. That's ok with us. (2) Bill will take a animal manure sample and have it analyzed free of cost for nutrient content. (3) We will develop a plan maximizing the nutrient values of the manure in correlation with commercial fertilizers. (4) We will provide nitrogen testing of field corn free of cost. This is a continuous program in that we help you plan the management of the soil nutrients each year. To me all of this seems like a "good deal".

This is the time of the year to enroll in the program. If you are interested in the program, contact either Bill or me at (301) 334-1990.

A Good Reference Book

Finally--a regional pest management guide. For many years confusion in pest control recommendations has existed among the different states. This year the 1995 Pest Management Recommendations for Field Crops publication has been cooperatively published by the Universities of Maryland, Delaware, Rutgers, West Virginia, VPI and Penn State. This is an excellent reference book for farmers covering pest management of weeds, insects, diseases and nematodes. Also, the bulletin provides

Departing BOE Members Are Wished Well

A farewell was given to three members of the Garrett County Board of Education at the most recent board meeting as their respective tenures came to a close. Those leaving office are Beverly Murphy, Mikal McCartney, and Bryan Paugh. Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County Schools, asked the board if he may have time allotted him to say goodbye to the departing members and to present them with tokens of appreciation.

Of Paugh, Ryscavage mentioned that he had served as vice president of the board during one of his four years.

"I have come to appreciate Bryan's reserve and have watched him wrestle with difficult issues," the superintendent said. "He manages to visit schools despite a busy work schedule, and has developed a keen interest in collective bargaining."

Ryscavage then presented Paugh with a "golden apple."

The superintendent then addressed Ms. McCartney, noting that she has served on the board for eight years and has been president and vice president at various times.

"The thing I remember quite significantly about Ms. McCartney's tenure occurred during the closure of the Yoder School. Mikal suggested the implementation of a system-wide needs study. As a result, a number of similar initiatives were begun at that time.

"Her interest in wellness has championed the need for all of us to conduct our lives in a healthy fashion. Her keen interest in student nutrition has spearheaded our efforts in providing well-balanced and wholesome school meals.

"Mikal provided keen insight on curriculum matters, being a professional teacher. She brought to this board an awareness of what it is like in the classroom."

The superintendent then presented McCartney with a school bell.

His final comments were about Mrs. Murphy, who has served on the board for 12 years. She was elected president four times.

"Mrs. Murphy, who has never missed a meeting, has led this board admirably through some very tough times . . . From beans to baseballs to budgets to buildings to buses - she has been there as one of the most active board members. She has a statewide reputation as a hard worker.

"We will all miss her visits to schools and her participation in all functions," Ryscavage said. He then presented her with a school bell.

Ed Parrack, director of secondary education, also spoke in behalf of Mrs. Murphy.

"I have seen 31 years in this school system and have watched it grow from a good system to a very good system because of good leaders. Beverly, I have to put you right up there with the best of them. You have worked hard, and I appreciate it," Parrack said. He then presented her with a bouquet of roses.

Ms. McCartney spoke of her years on the board as a learning experience for herself.

"I'm sure I have learned a good deal more than I have contributed," she stated. "It has been an honor to work with such good people." She went on to mention several individuals, including custodial staff members, secretaries, teachers, and administrative personnel.

Mrs. Murphy read a prepared statement, noting that her service began on January 1, 1983, and would end on January 1, 1995.

"I have made tough decisions, but never before I asked: how does this decision affect the students and the system as a whole? Personalities, districts, or individual schools can never be the reason for coming to a decision," she said. "A board of education member is to be an advocate for the students and a team member in providing educational opportunities for all students."

The board president then thanked all the employees of the education board as well as the bus contractors and drivers. She issued a plea to parents in the county to take an active part in their children's education "from kindergarten through high school - be there and be involved."

Mrs. Murphy then challenged the new board members to uphold the oath of office - "to justly, honestly, diligently, faithfully, and according to the law, execute your position to the best of your ability . . . in forming policies to direct the administration of the schools.

"I won't promise you it will be easy or that you won't lose sleep," she added.

New board members Patrick Riley, Dale Carpenter, and Rodney Durst will take office and begin their duties at the next education board meeting, scheduled for the second Tuesday of January.

Local Teachers Win Grants For Energy Projects

Baltimore Gas and Electric and the Maryland Science Supervisors Association recently awarded grants to three Garrett County teachers in recognition of energy-related school projects.

The awards, which are part of Baltimore Gas and Electric's energy mini-grant program, were presented to Laurie Burdock and Sandy Wilson, teachers at Broad Ford Elementary School, and to Tom Bulka, a teacher at Northern High School.

Winners receive cash awards to fund materials and activities of the energy projects. Mrs. Burdock and Ms. Wilson reportedly plan to use the grant funds to purchase equipment needed for activities in a fourth-grade unit on electricity. The focus of the unit will be on batteries, meters, and the building of circuits.

Mr. Bulka will use the grant money to purchase specialty "Lego" kits for his computer programming students, who will use the kits to model and study wind-powered generators.

Missionary To Greece To Speak At Hiway Assembly

The Rev. Ray Beahm, newly appointed Assemblies of God missionary to Greece, will be the guest speaker at the Hiway Assembly of God on Sunday, Jan. 1, during the 10:45 a.m. service, according to the church's pastor, the Rev. G.K. Hixon.

The Rev. Beahm and his wife, Rebecca, will be pastoring the International Christian Center in Athens, Greece, according to the Rev. Hixon. "Their ministry will be multi-cultural and multi-national as they reach out to Athens' large international community," he said.

Approximately the size of Alabama, Greece occupies the southern end of the Balkan Peninsula in southeast Europe. Of Greece's approximately 10 million people, an estimated 97 percent are traditionally Greek Orthodox. The Assemblies of God, registered as the Synod of the Apostolic Churches of Pentecost in Greece, has established 12 churches and five outstations ministering to about 2,600 members and followers, the Rev. Hixon stated.

The Beahms' experience in cross-cultural evangelism includes nine years of ministry among the Cree and Algonquin Indians of Senneterre, Quebec in Canada. Since 1978 they have been pastoring in Oakland.

"I have felt a call to missions since I was 14 years old," the Rev. Beahm said. "I gained great insight and understanding of what missions ministry was all about when I served in Quebec. My 16 years of pastoring in Maryland were years that I focused on helping missionaries. During one of our missions services in 1992, God definitely spoke to us about giving the rest of our lives to full-time missions ministry."

The public is invited to attend the Beahms' mission presentation on Jan. 1, and learn more about International Christian Center's impact on the cross-cultural populations of Athens, the Rev. Hixon concluded.

Nat'l Arbor Day Foundation Offers Ten Free Trees

Ten free trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during January 1995. The free trees are part of the nonprofit foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The 10 trees are the sugar maple, white flowering dogwood, pin oak, white pine, red maple, birch, American redbud, silver maple, red oak, and Colorado blue spruce.

"These trees were selected to provide benefits every season of the year: lovely spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors, and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds," John Rosenow, the foundation's president, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between February 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to 12 inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Governor Seeking Nominations For Specialty Awards

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that the Governor's Committee on Employment of People with Disabilities is now accepting nominations for the 1995 Awards Program. There are nine categories in which individuals and businesses may be nominated for awards: Youth with a Disability Essay Contest; Outstanding Marylander with a Disability; Employer of the Year; Health Care Professional of the Year; Barrier-Free Design; Chester A. Troy, Sr. Public Service; Print or Electronic Media; Distinguished Service; and Evin Cutler Memorial Helping Hand.

"This is indeed a unique opportunity to recognize individuals and businesses who have made significant contributions toward helping people with disabilities enter the workforce," said Schaefer.

Winners will be honored and presentations made at the Committee's Annual Conference and Awards Luncheon scheduled for Friday, April 28, 1995, at Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has advised Maryland consumers to beware of advertisements encouraging them to purchase beer, wine, and distilled spirits from out-of-state suppliers.

"Direct mail-order sales of alcoholic beverages to consumers is illegal in Maryland and most other states," said Comptroller Goldstein. "Throughout the year, and especially during the holiday season, we get inquiries from Maryland residents who receive advertisements encouraging them to purchase wine or beer directly from out-of-state suppliers through the mail or by telephone."

Mail-order sales pose the threat of underage purchases and tax avoidance, as taxes are paid at the manufacturing or wholesale level. Investigative services agents recently confiscated 1,051 mail order bottles of wine, on which no sales tax or wine tax (40 cents per gallon) had been paid. The wine had been illegally transported and housed near the Baltimore-Washington Airport and was destined for residents in Maryland and across the nation.

Under Maryland law only licensed establishments may sell beer, wine or distilled spirits to retail customers, and the distribution of these beverages is controlled as it flows from the manufacturer to the wholesale and retail levels.

"When we receive information about mail orders, we contact the out-of-state suppliers and their local Maryland customers to educate them about the law," the comptroller said.

Most states prohibit the mail-order sale of alcoholic beverages. Additionally, the United States Postal Service considers "intoxicating liquors" to be restricted material which is generally not mailable.

"Maryland law allows individuals to buy up to one quart, which is less than a one liter bottle, of legally manufactured alcoholic beverages, to bring into Maryland from out-of-state for their personal consumption at any one time," said Comptroller Goldstein. "But consumers may only bring up to two quarts of out-of-state distilled spirits into Maryland during a calendar month."

For a brochure with more information on Maryland alcohol and tobacco tax laws, persons may contact the Public Affairs Office, Box 466, Annapolis, MD 21404-0466, or call (410) 974-3885.

Cybill has wit and style, if viewers can find it

BY JOHN CROOK

Fans of sophisticated TV comedy get a late holiday present this week in Cybill, the new Cybill Shepherd sitcom premiering Monday, Jan. 2, in the coveted CBS time slot following Murphy Brown.

The big question, however, is whether TV audiences will find, or even look for, it during the sweeping changes now affecting CBS shows.

The network is radically revamping its schedule, trying to salvage promising series that are performing below expectations, while introducing Cybill and two other new shows.

Also debuting are Women of the House with Delta Burke reprising her crowd-pleasing Designing Women character; Suzanne Sugarbaker; and Robert Pastorelli (Eldon from Murphy Brown) in the ensemble comedy Double Rush.

The changes: Chicago Hope, CBS' acclaimed but struggling hospital drama, moves into the Monday slot following Cybill; bumping Northern Exposure to Wednesdays at the same hour.

Women of the House has a special one-hour premiere on Wednesday, Jan. 4, followed by Double Rush, the transplant of Love & War and Exposure. (Starting Jan. 11, Hearts Afire will follow Women).

Newsmagazines Eve to Eve With Connie Chung and 48 Hours follow Due South on Thursdays.

On Saturday, The Five Mrs. Buchanans slides back 30 minutes for The Boys Are Back.

Lost in the shuffle, at least for now: Touched by an Angel.

The good news amid the chaos is that Cybill is well worth seeking out. An authentically adult sitcom, it resembles a Yank-friendly version of the rudely hilarious British cult series Absolutely Fabulous.

Shepherd plays Cybill Sheridan, a fortysomething, twice-divorced actress whose career now consists of cheesy vampire flicks and guest-corps.

Alan Rosenberg
roles in Hart to Hart TV movies.

The smart supporting cast includes Tom Wopat as Jeff Robbins, her first husband, a professional stuntman; DeDe Pfeiffer as Rachel, their ultra-conservative daughter; Alan Rosenberg as Ira Woodbine, Cybill's still-smitten second husband; and Alicia Witt as Zoey, their brooding, caustic 16-year-old who makes the sarcastic Darlene Conner of Roseanne look like a member of Up With People.

Make no mistake, though, it's Christine Baranski (Addams Family Values) as Cybill's tippling best friend, Maryann Thorpe, who gives this show much of its (80 proof) juice.

Holding two degrees from the University of Betty Ford, Maryann carries a magazine and a martini-filled squeeze bottle to watch Cybill work out at the gym and shares late-night debates over which of them has the more pathetic life.

"My son is standing on a mesa in New Mexico with a suitcase and a flashlight trying to hitch a ride off the planet," she moans.

"Told you not to smoke pot when you were pregnant," Cybill reminds her.

"Oh, yeah. Sure. 20/20 hindsight," Maryann sniffs.

Not since Mary Richards met Rhoda Morgenstern has there been a comedy team like this.

Carol Burnett starring on All My Children

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Carol Burnett is a talented actress, singer, comic and one of the biggest fans All My Children has ever had. The actress has even portrayed a character on the show, Verla Grubbs. The character visits Pine Valley this week during the show's 25th anniversary.

Burnett's love affair with AMC began many years ago when her children were pre-teens. "One summer we were at the beach, and I noticed that every day around noon the girls would get out of the water and go inside," Burnett says.

"While they were eating lunch they watched AMC. I would be working on other things, and I would walk by and ask what was going on with Mary that day. After a few days I was hooked."

Eventually Burnett stopped by the ABC studios in New York and introduced herself to the cast. She has appeared several times in different extra roles, once as a woman checking out of the hospital, another time in the back of a booth in a restaurant scene. In 1983 the role of Verla was created for her.

"Verla is Langley's (Louis Edmonds) illegitimate daughter," Burnett says. Her mother was a snake charmer in a carnival back in the days when Langley was a con man."

"Now Verla has come back to Pine Valley to tell her father that she is getting married. No one believes her when she tells them how handsome her man is, but boy are they surprised when he walks in."

Rex, Verla's fiance, is played by none other than Lucky

Vanous, the guy in the Diet Coke ads. "He is so cute and sweet," the actress says.

Burnett thinks daytime is one of the toughest forums to work in, and she has done them all.

"It goes very fast, and there is no time to rehearse. 'Yet I've seen scenes in which these actors would be nominated for Oscars if they were on the big screen.'

Ever the diplomat, Burnett, says she doesn't have a favorite character. "That would be like choosing a favorite child," Burnett says. "But of course there is always Susan (Lucci), who plays Erica. There are stars and there are planets, and she is a planet."

Good children's book looks great on TV

BY SUZANNE GILL

Hollywood in its wisdom sometimes follows the nation's children to the book racks in search of a good story.

Such is the case with Fudge-A-Mania, a delightful adaptation of a book by the same name from popular children's author Judy Blume. It debuts Saturday, Jan. 7, on The ABC Family Movie.

Parents who have sat through any number of stultifying or moronic movies for children will be pleasantly surprised by Fudge-A-Mania, which begins by having a good story to tell and proceeds to tell it well.

Four-year-old Luke Tarantino stars as Farley Drexel Hatcher, known to his family as Fudge, the "human hurricane." As the lead, Tarantino comes through with a natural brilliance. Jake Richardson plays his brother, Peter, a fifth grader, who narrates the tale. And, in a wittily nostalgic bit (or fit) of casting, Brady Bunch alumnae Eve Plumb and Florence Henderson play their mother and grandmother, respectively. Forrest Witt portrays the father.

The Hatcher clan is off for a summer vacation in Maine, where they will share a house with the Tubmans, whose daughter, Sheila, is Peter's archenemy and Fudge's intended bride. She also becomes his baby sitter.

To his joy, Peter meets one of his heroes, Big A (Alex Karas), a former Boston Red Sox All-Star, and a Sunday afternoon softball game turns into his personal field of dreams.

Fudge-A-Mania is thoroughly enjoyable for children and parents. Blume fans and novices alike. And it will be followed by a Saturday morning series, Fudge, to debut Jan. 14 on ABC.

A father (Forrest Witt) and his family cope with summer vacation and a rambunctious son (Luke Tarantino) in Fudge-A-Mania, premiering Saturday on ABC.

CABLE OVERVIEW

Love, war and The Human Animal

BY SUZANNE GILL

The Human Animal: A Natural History of the Human Species, debuting New Year's Day on The Learning Channel, is definitely not for the self-conscious.

Starting Sunday, Jan. 1, Desmond Morris, author of the controversial 1967 book The Naked Ape, presents his six-part series about humans in their natural habitat. He explores topics including body language, parenting and the effects of overcrowding, as well as the ancient hunting instinct. Episode 4, "The Biology of Love," is particularly frank, with candid – and edifying – views of human orgasm.

Most affecting to Morris, however, were scenes shot in Los Angeles, which he calls "a very sobering experience. The well-established primal tribal warfare of street gangs made me stop and think, 'Is this the future of the megapolises?'"

The late cellist's adoptive homeland continues its celebration of classical music with performances by pianist Andrew Watts, cellist David Geringas (playing Casals' "Song of the Birds") and others. Verdi's "Requiem Part I" begins with a spectacular view of the seaside El Morro Fort Cemetery.

A history of the West from the point of view of the native tribes of North America is told in How the West Was Lost, debuting Tuesday, Jan. 3, on The Discovery Channel.

Beginning with the Iroquois of New York, the series offers an elegant and easy-to-follow historical narrative that tells a new side of the story without hysterics. Tuesday's back-to-back installments of the 13-part series will be followed by additional episodes weekly.

The warmth of Puerto Rico fills a winter night in The 38th Annual Pablo Casals Festival, a special airing Thursday, Jan. 5, on A&E.

AMERICA ENTERTAINS WITH

A Star-Studded New Year's Celebration

The New Year calls for celebrations and in America, says cookbook author Betty Rosbottom, food plays an important role in our festivities.

Rosbottom, author of First Impressions and Betty Rosbottom's Cooking School Cookbook, likes to serve food that's easy for guests to pick up and nibble. When planning a menu, Rosbottom keeps these tips in mind:

- Food should be pleasing to the eye as well as to the palate.
- Select recipes that are real showstoppers yet easy to prepare and serve.
- Use the highest quality ingredients. Real butter, real cheese and pure extracts, for example, will make a difference.
- Always include one "untraditional" element in the menu.

Savory Walnut Scones with Assorted Fillings are a favorite "untraditional" addition to Rosbottom's party menu. Pure butter and tangy buttermilk enhance the flavor of toasted walnuts in these mini scones that can be cut into festive party shapes such as stars and diamonds.

Purchase the scone fillings from the supermarket or deli—just be sure to have an assortment for guests to choose from. Rosbottom suggests combinations of: Blue cheese, sliced pear and watercress; Brie, thinly sliced ham and apple; white Cheddar and roast beef; Havarti and pear—it's up to you.

Or, spread the scones with an herbed butter. Stir together softened butter and fresh herbs such as parsley, thyme, basil or chives. Fresh fruits make easy, complementary accompaniments.

Balance the savory with sweets. Rosbottom suggests Butter cookies are the perfect sweet nibble for New Year's, and her menu features two favorites. Butter Pecan Chocolate Shortbreads are made of basic ingredients like flour, sugar, butter and ground pecans, but they're far from basic in flavor. They're crisp, buttery and nutty, and dipped in chocolate—every occasion needs just a bite of chocolate. Rosbottom says, Cranberry-Lemon Squares feature shimmering cranberries atop a cheesecake-type layer and a butter cookie crust.

And, for the perfect start to the New Year, send guests home with a little memento of the evening. A few Butter Pecan Chocolate Shortbreads, wrapped and tied with a festive bow, will be a welcome treat the next day.

Rosbottom's Best Entertaining Tips

Prepare two or three really great recipes. Rely on prepared foods for everything else you need. For example, purchase eggnog from the dairy case and embellish it with whipped cream and nutmeg.

Choose recipes with some do-ahead components like these.

- Bake the scones ahead; cool completely and store tightly covered up to one day at room temperature. Or, freeze the cooled, wrapped scones and allow to come to room temperature on party day. Reheat scones at 350°F about 5 minutes.
- Bake the shortbreads up to two months in advance; cool completely. Freeze in airtight containers. Or, prepare up to five days in advance and store at room temperature.

BUTTER PECAN CHOCOLATE SHORTBREADS

Yield: 3 to 3-1/2 dozen

Shortbread:

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup cornstarch
- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter, chilled, cut into small pieces
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup toasted pecan halves*
- Chocolate Glaze:*
- 4 ounces semisweet chocolate, broken into small pieces
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
- 2 teaspoons honey
- 1/2 teaspoon instant coffee crystals, if desired
- Pecan halves

Place flour, sugar and cornstarch in work bowl of food processor fitted with metal blade. Add butter and vanilla; process 30 seconds or until mixture is crumbly. Add pecans; pulse additional 5 to 10 seconds or until well combined (mixture will still appear crumbly). On lightly floured work surface, knead dough about 1 to 2 minutes or just until smooth. Wrap dough in plastic wrap and refrigerate 30 minutes or until chilled. Preheat oven to 350°F. Remove dough from refrigerator; divide in half. Roll each half on lightly floured work surface to 1/3-inch thick circle. Cut dough with floured 1-1/2 inch round cutter. Place cookies 1 inch apart on unbuttered baking sheets; pierce each cookie all the way through to the baking sheet with tines of fork 3 times. Repeat with remaining cookies. Bake about 18 minutes or until pale golden. Remove from oven; cool on baking sheet about 2 to 3 minutes. Transfer to wire racks and cool completely.

For glaze, place chocolate, butter, honey and coffee in top of double boiler; stir constantly over medium heat 3 to 4 minutes or until smooth and shiny. Transfer to small bowl. Dip each cookie halfway; place dipped cookie on wire rack. Place pecan half in center of each cookie, so that half of pecan is on chocolate glaze and half is on plain dough. Allow chocolate to firm and set. Store in airtight containers at room temperature up to 5 days or freeze up to 6 months.

SAVORY WALNUT SCONES WITH ASSORTED FILLINGS

Yield: approx. 3 dozen

Scones:

- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1-1/2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, chilled, cut into small pieces
- 3/4 cup buttermilk
- 2/3 cup finely chopped toasted walnuts*
- Fillings:*

Cheese (Blue, Brie, Cheddar or Havarti)
Thinly sliced lean ham, prosciutto or roast beef Watercress, stems removed Ripe pears, cored, thinly sliced
Ripe apples, cored, thinly sliced

Preheat oven to 425°F. For scones, in large mixer bowl, sift flour, baking soda and salt together. Cut in butter using pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Gradually add buttermilk and walnuts. Gather dough into ball and gently knead on floured work surface. Roll dough out to 1/4-inch thickness. Using floured 1-3/4 inch star, diamond or round shaped cutter, cut dough and place on unbuttered baking sheet. Repeat process with leftover pieces. Bake 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven; transfer scones to wire rack and cool completely. To serve, split scones in half; add fillings of choice. Serve immediately.

* Toast nuts by spreading them in an even layer in a shallow baking pan. Place in 325°F oven; toast for 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, just until lightly browned. Remove from pan and cool completely.

CRANBERRY-LEMON SQUARES

Yield: one 8-inch square pan

Crust:

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, chilled, cut into small pieces
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Filling:

- 8 ounces cream cheese, at room temperature
- 6 tablespoons granulated sugar
- 4 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped crystallized ginger
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon zest

Topping:

- 2 cups fresh cranberries
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch dissolved in 1 tablespoon water

Preheat oven to 350°F. Line 8 x 8 x 2-inch baking pan with aluminum foil. For crust, place flour, confectioners' sugar and butter in work bowl of food processor fitted with metal blade. Process 30 seconds or until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add walnuts; pulse additional 4 to 5 times to incorporate walnuts into dough. Remove dough from processor; pat evenly into prepared pan. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until light golden brown. Remove pan from oven; cool in pan on wire rack.

For filling, in medium bowl combine cream cheese, granulated sugar, lemon juice, ginger and lemon zest; stir just until blended. Spread over cooled crust in pan. Refrigerate, covered, 45 minutes or until cream cheese layer is firm.

For topping, in heavy medium saucepan, heat cranberries, sugar and water over medium-low heat; stir to dissolve sugar. Continue cooking over medium-low to medium heat, stirring frequently, about 5 minutes or just until berries pop. Stir in cornstarch mixture; continue cooking until thickened. Remove from heat; transfer to medium bowl. Refrigerate until cooled. Spread topping over cream cheese layer. Loosen edges of foil from pan; use foil to lift from pan. Cut into 16 bars using thin-bladed sharp knife. Store in tightly covered container in refrigerator up to 5 days.

Work Illness, Injury Survey Results Noted

Maryland's private sector employers reported approximately 89,000 occupational injury and illness cases for 1993, which occurred at a rate of 6.4 cases per 100 full-time workers. Henry Koellein, Jr., commissioner of Labor and Industry, in releasing the results of the 1993 Occupational Injuries and Illnesses Survey, noted a decline from the 1992 rate of 6.8 total cases per 100 full-time workers.

Approximately 42,700 (48%) of the total 89,000 reported cases were serious enough to require the workers to lose worktime or to have their work activity restricted. The incidence rate for lost workday cases has shown a decline over the past five years, dropping from 4.0 in 1988 to 3.1 in 1993.

Industries reporting a sufficiently greater percentage of the injury and illness lost workday cases relative to their workforce representation in the economy, were manufacturing with 11% of the workforce and 18% of the lost workday cases, followed by construction with a 7% to 13% ratio, and transportation and public utilities with a 6% to 10% ratio.

The wholesale and retail trade division reported the greatest number of lost workday cases, 12,300, followed by the service division with 10,700 cases.

These two divisions accounted for more than one-half of the total lost workday cases.

About 1,600 of the reported lost workday cases in the private sector were illnesses, accounting for less than four percent of the total cases.

Maryland's public sector reported 10,000 lost workday cases, equivalent to a rate of 4.6 cases per 100 full-time workers. Local government's construction division, with a 16.2 lost workday case rate, experienced the highest rate for all divisions for which data are published. Koellein noted the construction division lost workday case rate for local government was almost five times the rate of all industries in Maryland.

The Annual Survey of Occupational Injuries and Illnesses is a Federal/State cooperative program conducted in Maryland by the Department of Licensing and Regulation, Division of Labor and Industry in cooperation with the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

DONATION PRESENTED - First United National Bank & Trust recently presented a check to Big Brothers/Big Sisters. The money came from the bank's Autumn Glory project during which pictures were taken of children with characters Garfield and Lamb Chop. Presenting the check to Dan Seib of BB/BS is Debra Ahern, trust assistant with First United.

Hummel Named Trust Officer

Terry L. Reiber, president and chief executive officer of Myersville Bank, recently announced the promotion of Patricia D.H. Hummel to Trust Officer at the bank's Riverside Center Community Office located in North Frederick. Mrs. Hummel is the daughter of Juanita Hudgens, Oakland, and Brooks Hamilton, Red McHenry.

Commenting on Mrs. Hummel's promotion, Mr. Reiber said, "Patricia will serve as one of two trust officers for Myersville Bank. She will assist the bank in introducing this new service to our customers. I look forward to her fulfilling this strong need for many of our customers."

Mrs. Hummel has worked at First United for two and one-half years. She started in the Auditing Department as an audit trainee and has also worked as a customer service representative at Martin's Hagerstown office.

Boccuti told police that someone entered a storage shed on his property at Thousand Acres, Green Glade Cove, Swanton, sometime between Nov. 18 and Dec. 24, and took numerous power tools.

KIS STOLEN

One pair of Blizzard downhill snow skis, and a pair of Look snow ski bindings left unattended at the Wisp Ski Resort Tuesday afternoon, were reported stolen by their owner John M. Frank, Bridgeport, W.Va.

According to state police reports, Frank left the skis and bindings unattended in the snow, and when he returned, they were gone.

CAR PHONE CAUSES MISHAP

A cellular car phone was reportedly the cause of a one-vehicle mishap Friday evening on the Sand Flat Road, according to state police reports.

James E. Sherbin, 21,

Oakland, attempted to answer his cellular phone as he traveled north on the Sand Flat Road, near the Pergin Farm Road, and lost control of the vehicle, causing it to strike a ditch.

Sherbin was apparently uninjured in the 8 p.m. mishap, but his passenger, Keith Friend, 22, also of Oakland, was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, where he was treated and released.

Charges were filed, and police said both occupants were wearing their seatbelts. Also responding were members of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department.
